The rebels plan to accord these troops a friendly reception in hope of winning them over. Many towns near Petrograd have been captured by rebels. Twenty-five Soviet commissaries having been abandoned by troops have fled to Estonia and 50,000 armed peasants control the Government at Tambov and Veronezh, preventing the re-arming of the northern sections of Russia. OLIVER SAYS PATTULLO IS LIVE MEMBER

Member for This District Urges
Inclusion of Skeena Road in General Policy.

In connection with the Government policy of road building, as expressed to a delegation, Mr. Pattullo recently took occasion to emphasize the need of including the Prince Rupert to Hazelton road in the program of construction. The Victoria Times report of the incident is as follows: "The Provincial Government intends to carry out a broad policy of road construction and to press road work at different points in the province as fast as financial conditions will allow. Premier Oliver told delegates from the Good Roads League, who waited upon the Executive Council this morning and presented resolutions passed by the League convention here yesterday. "The Government is impressed with the necessity of road construction throughout the province," the premier assured the delegation. "We realize that if the province is to develop we must not only have better roads, but more roads. The Government intends to follow out a policy of road construction, and to press that work just as far and fast as the financial condition of the province will permit of it being done with reasonable safety."

And the North. "Including the north of the province," suggested Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, who pointed out that the resolutions presented made no mention of a road from Prince Rupert to Hazelton.

"It's all part of the province," agreed Mr. Oliver. "They know, anyway, that the north has a live representative on the job here!" The delegation was introduced to the cabinet by the Hon. J. H. King, minister of public works, who had just concluded an address to the League convention. Mayor Gale, Vancouver, president of the League, was the chief speaker. He congratulated the minister of public works on his efforts to give the province good roads, and remarked, "I hope, Mr. Premier, that the Government will be as kind to Dr. King as possible, and let him fulfil his desires as to road building."

The speakers. The resolution concerning the construction of various roads in different parts of British Columbia were explained to the cabinet by Noble Binas, Lorne Campbell, Rossland, J. R. Agar, New Westminster, Mayor McHardy, Nelson, and F. L. Rowe, Penticton.

Slated for This Month.

The only case slated for the County Court before Judge Young this month is an action for damages, totalling $815, entered by Perry Warner, a Surf Inlet engineer, against Mrs. Marie Dahlstrom, Drexel Rooms, and Williams & Manson.

The action arises out of the plaintiff falling from a broken stairway leading to the basement of the Drexel Rooms building on Second Avenue. Negligence of the tenant, Mrs. Dahlstrom, and the owners, Williams & Manson, is alleged. The claim is made up of $300 time lost, $15 doctor's fees, $500 damages and the costs of the action. Allied Troops Will March into Germany

German Counter Proposals Rejected by Allied Council and Activities Commence Tomorrow

LONDON, March 7.—(Latest)—Application of penalties on Germany for non-fulfilment of the reparations requirements was decided upon by the allies this afternoon.

LONDON, March 7.—(a.m.)—The new German proposals are stated in French circles to be unacceptable. They were submitted to the Supreme Council this morning.

The Germans told the allies that Germany had rejected the proposals formulated at Paris. They had decided to revert to the idea of a provisional arrangement calling for the payment of fixed annuities for the first five years and an equivalent of twelve per cent on German exports.

It is reported that the Allies will inform the Germans that penalties will be applied. The situation is said to be serious.

BERLIN, March 6.—After conferences between members of the cabinet, Reichstag leaders and technical advisers, it is authoritatively stated that instructions were sent to Dr. Simonds at London in which he was told the German Government would not permit him to exceed the counter proposals made at the reparation conference.

LONDON, March 7.—The penalties for non-compliance with allied demands are occupation of Duisberg, Dusseldorf and Ruhrort in the German industrial area beyond the Rhine by allied troops.

The establishment of a customs boundary under allied control along the Rhine.

WAR VETERANS BAND GROWING

Already Number Good Players are Enrolled for Organization.

The Great War Veterans' band is making good organization progress and regular practices are already being held in the rooms on Third Avenue. This week it is expected that word will be received as to the securing instruments and by the time these arrive the organization will be in a position to accept engagements. The membership, so far, consists of men who have already had considerable band experience and with little practice they will develop into a well harmonized and conducted body. R. Greenfield, an experienced bandmaster and concert player, will likely take charge of the practices this week although a permanent leader has not yet been selected.

The following players are already enrolled in the ranks of the new band: H. C. Poyton, R. Greenfield, S. Steele, W. N. Hoss, Ed. Ross, James Kelly, J. McCreary, J. Bremner, W. Sherman, W. Murray, J. Gawthorne, W. Derry, William Reith, A. A. Easson, J. S. Stevens and J. Beale. Several members of the district Indian bands will probably join the band as well. The membership of the band is not confined to the association or returned soldiers, but all players in the city will be welcomed.
