KING'S RETURN INJURED GREECE

Withdrawal of Support of Great Powers was Fatal to Neutral Country.

ATHENS, May 3.—The Greek campaign now in progress in Turkey was undertaken as the only way to avoid the possible loss to Greece of Thrace and Smyrna and at the same time to give King Constantine the credit of a great military movement.

The decision of the Supreme Council at the conference in London in February to send a commission to Thrace and Smyrna to inquire into the composition of the populations there filled the Greeks with disappointment and despondency.

Under the proposed revision of the Treaty of Sevres, Greece saw itself about to be reduced to its 1912 proportions, its prowess as a Mediterranean power nullified and its friendship with the Allies alienated. It considered the territorial losses with which the country was threatened a staggering price to pay for Constantine's return to the throne.

Awakened to Situation. All classes awakened to the realities of the situation. They recognized that without financial support from the great powers, the country must become an impotent peninsula state. The absence of recognition by Greece's great neutral friend, the United States, was a particularly painful realization to the people. Many Greeks, even some of the most ardent Royalists, were willing to sacrifice their king if it would win back the goodwill and support of the big nations, particularly the United States and England.

The Venizelist press has taken a sombre view of the situation ever since the London conference.

INCREASE Most Likely

It is interesting to note the contents of a recent letter from our London Diamond cutter. He writes: "The scarcity, together with the cost of production and marketing of fine diamonds, mean only one thing: that prices will tend to increase rather than decrease."

Anyone considering diamonds will really do well not to delay.

One Great Essential To a Woman's Health Is Her Nerves

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. It is any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and shaking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, first out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N. S., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

Price 50c. A box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The E. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Adv.

and accused the government organs of having intentionally misled public opinion.

The Royalist newspapers naturally endeavored to minimize the effect of the decisions of the Supreme Council and attributed the change in the attitude of the powers toward Greece to every reason except the real one. They inferred that Great Britain's leniency toward Turkey was the result of pressure brought to bear upon England by her Mussulman subjects.

Fought Alone.

Closing their eyes to the Allied edicts regarding Smyrna and Thrace, the same journals declared that the war against Turkey must go on. Greece, they said, must take matters into her own hands and fight the Kemalists alone and not only advance to Angora but also to Sivas.

The question of money has been barely mentioned. Hints are thrown out that there will be no difficulty in finding the necessary funds in America and England.

If the meantime the cost of living is mounting and commercial Greece faces a serious prospect. Imports exceed exports fourfold; the treasury is depleted and the Greek drachma has been selling at 14 to the dollar. The poor man, and even the people who were comfortably off before the present chaos find it burdensome to pay for the common necessities of life.

Fourth Rate Power.

The Greek people did not grudge the sacrifices made during the last five years so long as they felt it would result in a greater Greece. But today they are becoming convinced that they have been led into a situation which has reduced the country to a fourth-rate power, prostrated its economic life and forfeited to Greece the friendship of the nations of the world.

With the change of railway schedules last week, Smithers was again made the changing point for the crew of the passenger trains. For the past few months the crews have changed at Enslako.

Rev. James H. Kelly, who has been Methodist pastor here for the past two years, left on Sunday to take charge of the Dominion Chalmers League which is to tour between the Pacific coast and Manitoba this season.

The Bulkley Valley Fall Fair Association last week elected officers as follows: President, George Oulton; First Vice President, B. S. Sargent; Second Vice President, J. E. PRINCE GEORGE

Police Magistrate C. B. Daniell has replied to the statements of the police commission regarding the large number of dismissals in the police court recently. Mr. Daniell expresses the opinion that the chief of police is inexperienced and does not prepare his evidence in such shape as to make convictions possible in many instances.

John Melunis has secured for contract for a $20,000 addition to the Prince George hospital. Work has already commenced.

Summons have been issued against J. Kelly, Fred Howard, S. Skendras, C. Murphy, M. L. Jones, and S. Ford, Jeanne Beaudine and Jeanne Selgasser charging them with selling liquor. Evidence is based mainly on the testimony of Oscar Johnson, who was fined by the police, and who is alleged to have bought the liquor in some cases expectorating his purchases into a bottle and taking it away as evidence.

Mrs. F. B. Burden was the hostess at a tea last Saturday in honor of her house guest, Mrs. E. W. Bowness, of Edmonton.
