BRINGING UP FATHER

Waterfront Whiffs

Doings of the Mosquito Fleet Which Is the Chief Source of Prince Rupert's Prosperity

Things generally along the Waterfront have an "after Christmas" air about them and the crews of the mosquito fleet, including the Admiral, are recuperating after a very strenuous but enjoyable round of festivities. In fact they are in training for the big times ahead this week end and they intend to do full justice to the inauguration of 1922.

The Admiral of the Fleet reports that the crews behaved themselves splendidly over Christmas, although Johnny Dewar and Jack Teacher were among the guests present, and these fellows take a deal of diplomatic handling otherwise they are liable to start something.

A good number of the fishermen spent their Christmas aboard their respective boats, just visiting between themselves. Occasional outside visitors, however, were made very comfortable and everything of the best was on hand.

The Admiral had a terrible catastrophe on the flagship on Christmas Day. The bottle of "the best," which was reclining on the shelf, was a little too near one of the port holes, with the consequence that a light swell rocked the boat and the precious fluid was precipitated out of the window into the bay. He was naturally very much hurt, having treated it with every consideration. He considered it showed an ungrateful spirit to have left him so abruptly. Anyway, the missing link was soon replaced and everything proceeded merrily.

A scow load of box lumber arrived on Friday morning from the Georgetown mill for the Royal Fish Company.

The Ethel June, Captain Dave Ritchie, is busy fishing near home for shrimp, and some beautiful specimens have been landed. The fishing has been of a peaceful nature and no great fights were put up by the deep sea monsters.

The Imperieuse, Capt. Teddy DeHare, is preparing for a deep sea fishing trip and left for the Gold Storage to take on ice and bait yesterday morning.

The Mug Up staged a beautiful affair on Christmas Day, Jack Toner acting as host to a very swell gathering of society in the local fishing world. From accounts to hand there seems to be a difference of opinion as to whether the company comprised six or two thousand, as the fun was fast and furious.

Sad to relate Flossie Eliot created quite a little discord among the distinguished company by refusing to work on Christmas Day slinging the sweets. She threatened to return to the Far East by the next sailing on the railway. However, with a little friendly persuasion the fair thing was prevailed upon to carry out her duties, and the event went off with a great swing.

This is straight goods. A dance and a general good time will be given at the Mug Up by Jack Toner tonight and all members of the fleet and their friends are heartily welcome. Good music will be the order of the evening, the orchestra consisting of a violin, banjo and mandolin. Hermann Scratchitoff will preside at the dominoes, and Flossie Eliot will perform a step dance on the kitchen stove--of course the fire being let out for this number. A new drink entitled "Antley Maraculum" which is a relation by marriage to Violet Vermuth, of French extraction will be served. Come early and bring your best girl and see the New Year come in with a bang.

During the week Albert & McCaffery have received several shipments of double dressed lumber from Vancouver for local stock.

Captain Roal, of the Spencer with the owner and his crew of merry men aboard, spent Christmas aboard the Whale Back, which Santa Claus filled their stockings with about 15,000 pounds of first class halibut. Although working they sat down to real festive fare consisting of roast goose, plum pudding and all the trimmings that go to make up the Christmas feast.

On Christmas Day the flagship of the fleet flew the old Lord Nelson order substituting the word Rupert for England. It read "Rupert expects every man this day to do his duty," and the crews responded loyally to a man.

The Disarmament Conference at Washington is the topic of conversation along the waterfront these days. Regret is expressed on all sides that France should be sticking out for such a preponderant submarine tonnage. It is thought that the Swiss navy might be justified in arguing over such an armament but for the polite Frenchmen to upset the harmony of the conference with such a request is considered by the Mosquito fleet to show very bad taste.

As whales have been sighted in the harbor recently it is anticipated that Prince Rupert is in for a whale of a time in the coming New Year.

Captain Jud Thurber is busy extending the deck on the Mureluz. When the work is completed the deck will be spacious enough to permit of dancing aboard in the summer evenings.

Captain Bill Shelim, owner of the Kelpie, which was sunk during the recent storm is working down at the Dry Dock.

A four handed cribbage tournament is to be staged between the fish buyers and their employees, the prize being a box of cigars.

The schedule is given below: Cash and Sanderson vs. Sinclair and Clapperton. McIntosh and Dybbavn vs. Bremner and Carter. Knight and Hughes vs. Solem and Poole. Shrubhall and Donnelly play byes.

The first tie has been played off and was won by Sinclair and Clapperton. The remainder of the ties will be played off next week providing the weather, weather the New Year festivities in good shape.

Captain Bryant Newell has his Boat the Auli on the dry dock undergoing extensive repairs. The old pilot house has been removed and a new up to date pilot house will take its place, and the deck is being carried out flush under the pilot house. Judging from the number of orange boxes and egg cases lying around in the vicinity of the craft it would seem that Cap. is experimenting with a new class of lumber for repair work.

The Admiral of the Fleet was the recipient of a very beautiful Christmas card with a very appropriate verse reading:

There was a little fisherman,
Who had a little boat,
That had a little engine,
Which got his little gout.

The Shrub, Captain Primer, is on Harry Lee's dry dock undergoing repairs. A new stem and pilot house is being fixed.

It was learned from the secret service of the fleet that Cap. Freeman is out with the Narbethong on a fur hunting expedition with a party of fur magnates aboard. It is understood the Cap. on his return is inventing a new line of sleeping apparel in the form of fur colored pyjamas.

POOR HOPES.

"Have you heard my last joke?" asked the Pest, as he stopped the Grouch on the street. "I hope so," replied the Grouch, and he kept on travelling. Milwaukee Sentinel.
