LOGIC IS LOGIC.

Editor Daily News:

We are not satisfied with the treatment accorded us by the federal government, but how in the name of common sense can we expect any improvements if we send the same man back to Ottawa? Why elect a man who consistently allied himself with our enemies while in Parliament? The Liberal party we know is the only one friendly to Prince Rupert. Our own interests and those of the coming generation should induce us to cast our votes for a Liberal representative.

Among other issues that must be faced by our coming member is a complete reversal of the present government railway policy as regards Prince Rupert and in order to accomplish this our representative must have the support of a strong and sympathetic party in Parliament. The only party at Ottawa whom Colonel Peck can look to for support is antagonistic towards our city. What chance for the better can you expect if you return such a man.

LOUIS FORKRUDE.

PURE PROTECTION.

Sir:—Enclosed you will find a cutting from the Province of Nov. 28, reporting a discussion which took place on the latest custom regulations at the last meeting of the Foreign Trade Bureau of the Board of Trade, Vancouver. Now as considerable stress has been laid locally on the "moderate protection" policy by which Mr. Meighen proposes to lead Canada from the "aftermath of war" to the glorious heights of "National prosperity" the publication of this cutting may serve to enlighten some of your readers as to whether the "moderate protection" of Mr. Meighen is tariff for revenue or a protection wall built round the profiteering princes of the Big Interests. It will also be interesting to note its effect on the Meighenite group whether Conservative or Independent.

W. K. CLARK.

The clipping follows: Mr. Robert McKee, chairman of the bureau, said that the new proposals put the importer in the position of never knowing what his goods were to cost him, in order to arrive at the value of the goods to the importer the government proposed to have their inspectors investigate the books of the foreign exporter in order to find out what his usual prices were. In the case of an exporter who found himself stocked with a surplus of goods which he could not dispose of at his usual price, the Canadian importer would not be allowed the privilege of having those goods at a reduced price.

Giving a concrete example, Mr. McKee described a firm making some specialty on which it would ordinarily make a profit of say 100 per cent. If, for some reason the demand for this article fell off to where it was forced to sell to all its customers at 25 per cent profit, the Canadian minister of customs and excise would have it in his power to add round about 75 per cent necessary to bring it back to the firm's usual profit. In other words the Canadian importer could not buy goods in a falling market for shipment and sale in

CATARRH of the Stomach FOR EIGHT YEARS

The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently boiled up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom, there is constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is lacking, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the stomach, a badly disordered condition of the blood, liver and bowels will surely follow.

Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N. S., writes:—"I had been a great sufferer for eight years, from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several so-called catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills, which I did, and four weeks completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old trouble."

Canada at the low price.

Arbitrary Power.

The main objection to the new regulations, said Mr. McKee, was that it gave the minister of customs arbitrary power. If there was some law that prescribed the limits within which the minister might adjust the price, the new regulations might be workable, but as it stands the sky is the limit, and the importer is absolutely in the air.

There was a general discussion by members in the course of which the regulations as they affected the sugar industry in Canada was emphasized, and it was contended that under the new regulations it would be impossible to undersell Canadian refiners. One member pointed out as an example of the confusion wrought by the new regulations that only recently a consignment of goods had been sold and actually consumed in Canada, when the department at Ottawa came along and demanded another $6000 on this shipment.

Ottawa Views.

One of the points brought out by the Ottawa board in its letter was that where the minister decides that the exporter of goods into Canada is not making enough profit, the Canadian purchaser must pay the Canadian Government the full amount of any additional profits which the minister may ask for, plus the full amount of American exchange on this increase, and also the regular duty and excise tax, figured in the usual way on the total of the amount set by the minister, and exchange.

Another point emphasized was that the government, under the new regulations waits until the importation of the goods into Canada actually occurs, following which they send their inspector to the manufacturers to examine his books, and find what profit he is making. The inspector takes this information back to Ottawa and the Canadian importer is afterwards notified as to what he shall have to pay.

Under the new regulations it was stated the importer did not know how long any rate set by the government would be in effect, since revision of the amount charged the importer was possible under an appeal to the minister, when such rate could be changed, unknown to other importers.

FINE CHURCH BELLS

RELEAST, Dec. 3.—(By Canadian Press).—Ireland now possesses two of the finest modern carillons in the world. Two years ago a fine set of forty-two bells was placed in Queenstown Cathedral, and on Sunday, November 6, 1921, another set of bells was inaugurated in St. Patrick's (Roman Catholic) Cathedral at Armagh. The latter consists of thirty-nine bells with clavier—three octaves chromatic E to E, with two extra lower tones ditonic D and C. The total weight of the bells is eleven tons. The smallest bell weighs only twenty pounds.

The carillon in the cathedral at Armagh is placed in the north-west tower which, with its spire, rises to a height of 240 feet. Thus the bells are placed in a satisfactory position acoustically.

Another fine carillon of bells is to be set up at Loughborough, where a war memorial campanile is being built at a cost of £40,000. It will contain a set of forty-five bells with clavier, with a great bell weighing four tons.

ELKS MEMORIAL HELD YESTERDAY

Home Was Crowded by Those Paying Respect to Memory of Deceased Brethren.

The Elks' Home was crowded yesterday afternoon by members of the Order and Ladies of the Royal Purple who assembled to take part in the memorial service for deceased brethren. The day was observed by all lodges of the order in Canada and in every city where there is an Elks Lodge there was a similar gathering. The members of the local lodge who have died in the past year were Lieut. Wilfrid Macdonald and Charles W. Embleton.

Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant, chaplain, delivered the memorial address and pronounced the benediction. W. J. Cash, exalted ruler, presided and read the invocation as well as conducting the closing ceremony. The officers of the lodge took part in the reading of the memorial ritual. Ralph Leppine read Longfellow's "Thanatopsis."

The musical part of the program included vocal solos by Mrs. Jarvis McLeod and George Waddell and the Elks' Quartette, comprising U. E. LaCasse, George Waddell, Harry Fletcher and Jack Judge, gave a number. The hymns "Lead Kindly Light," and "Nearer My God To Thee," and "God Save the King" were sung ensemble by the gathering. Charles Balagno played a piano solo and was accompanist for the singing.

CHANGED POSTER

People Read the Truth for Once On Tory Placard.

LINDSAY, Ont., Dec. 3.—Liberal-Conservative headquarters on King street here are resplendent with the customary election posters, prominent among them the familiar blue placard with the inscription, "Canada Needs Meighen." But more than a week ago, while Jove nodded, a practical joker of probable U.F.O. sympathies, stole into the unoccupied headquarters and effected a few artistic and sentimental changes to the placard in question. When he had finished he blazoned forth the tidings, "The big interests of Canada need Meighen. Let the public say."

And Jove continued to nod, with the result the amended slogan hung unmolested in the window for almost a week before the nefarious heresy was detected. Several ardent Conservatives equipped with shotguns, are scouring the county for a U.F.A. sympathizer possessed of the they regard as a perverted sense of humor.
