SONS OF CANADA AGAIN VICTORS

Defeated Red Sox Last Night By a Score of 11 to 6.

The Red Sox were outclassed by the Sons of Canada in last night's City League baseball game which resulted in a victory for the following team by a score of 11 to 6. Despite this, the Sox showed improvement over previous games both in batting and fielding. The team had two new players on the field, Hoyt at short and Miggins at second base. The former did some valuable fielding while Miggins also justified his place in the team. The Sons of Canada played their usual tight game.

Corkle and Lidstone formed the Sons of Canada battery while that of the Sox was comprised of Curtis and H. Astori. Lidstone struck out six men and Astori, ten. The biggest hit of the evening was a three bagger by Hugh Scott, of the Sons of Canada while Anderson, Shakespeare, Maxwell and Rossiter had two base hits to their credit. The time of the game was 2 hours and Moriarty was the umpire.

The lineups were as follows:

ATHLETICS FOR WOMEN TABOO

Campaign Against It in Interests of Motherhood.

LONDON, June 11.—A campaign in the interest of motherhood and against the ill-effects alleged to result from girls going in for athletics has been started here.

A resolution was passed at a meeting of managers of girls' schools and of women who claimed to have made a study of physical culture protesting against the present system of physical education for girls as injurious to future generations. A small committee was formed to draw up and circulate a manifesto on the subject.

Several letters favoring the movement were read. Sir James Crichton-Brown, author of books on mental and nervous diseases, wrote: "Physical exercise and training are as necessary to girls as to boys, but these must have regard to physiological and developmental considerations. To ignore sexual differences is to court disaster in the long run."

Masculine Traits.

"Women who develop masculine instead of feminine instincts," wrote Dr. Arabella Kenaley, "do this at the cost of the male potential which is transmitted by the father to the daughter in trust for the male line. Athletic women produce female offspring mainly and seldom have sons. When sons are born to them, they are apt to be puny and delicate, or generally emasculate or of inferior type. The cultured classes, who are mainly afflicted by athletic training, are failing to provide sons of the fine physique and the many talents and initiative which have set our Anglo-Saxon race in the van of evolution."

Miss Cowdry, the principal of a girls' high school, who moved the resolution of protest, said that the girls who had been trained to play hockey, cricket and football suffered at childbirth. Sometimes the child suffered, sometimes the mother and sometimes one of them died.

Eighty percent of the girls she had known who had been trained to become gymnastic misses had been incapacitated for motherhood.

Other Need For Europe.

A girl had a large store of vital and nervous energy which she could draw upon if normally developed at the great crisis of motherhood. That strength was deposit account but if she used it in current account, as a boy could afford to do, her children would pay the bill.

She believed that the Victorian girl was a better mother than the modern athletic girl.

Miss Radmar, director of the d'Egville Michau School of Physical Development, said that the feet were the only part of a girl's body that need be made strong. A woman's body should be elastic and strong chests and big muscles meant inelastic chests and bodies. Drill apparatus should be done away with.

Mrs. Roger Watts pleaded for the teaching of poise. "Get us back to the Greeks," she said, "to the system which was the most wonderful ever known."

BABE RUTH MAKES SEVENTEENTH HOME RUN GAME YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, June 11.—Babe Ruth made his seventeenth home run of the season in the game yesterday against Cleveland. The latter team, however, won the game from The New York Yankees by a score of 8 to 6.

Abe Mitchell, of North Foreland, and Joseph Kirkwood, the Australian open golf champion, are today contesting the finals at Gleneagles, Scotland. All the Americans were eliminated before the play on Thursday concluded. On the eve of the final there is great rivalry between Australia and England for this title at golf but the British console themselves with the knowledge that whoever wins the palm will still remain under the Union Jack.

Georges Carpentier's physical condition is now said to be in such perfection that M. Deschamps, his manager, made the statement yesterday that his principal would soon discontinue the hard training that he has been doing for the past few weeks. Most of his real hard work at the present time is being done in private. Jack Dempsey, at Atlantic City, has been enjoying, since yesterday, a 24 hour rest with no training whatever. The cut over the champion's eye is rapidly healing but all precautions are to be taken that it does not reopen.

Interest in the contest for the International Polo Cup between England and the United States revived this year for the first time since 1914. Now it is probably greater than in any previous year's meeting of the polo players of the two continents. The games will be played at the Burlington Club grounds June 18 and 22 and should a third game be necessary to decide the fate of the cup, it will be played June 25. The United States team arrived in England this year with high hopes, but a series of accidents has dampedened their enthusiasm to some extent and the odds just prior to the contest favor the British team strongly. There has been some complaint over the fact that the Burlington Grounds will accommodate but 10,000 spectators and complaints have also been registered about the admission prices. The cheapest ticket available costs $20.

The Midgets Juvenile Leaguers defeated the Cubs at baseball last night by a score of 13 to 11. The batters were: Bert Kelly and S. Gurvich for the Midgets; J. Hadland and E. Walters, for the Cubs. Douglas Frizzell was the umpire.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—Betting on cockroach races is one of the newest sports here. It was introduced by a Russian who has just opened a hall where a man who wants some real excitement for his money can get results.

The hall is darkened at the moment the race is to begin.

Then a single electric light at the end of a runway is turned on, and the cockroaches, each in a separate track, are let loose from their cages to race for the light.

More real, old-fashioned, non-professional sport may be had here than than in any other city of Europe. This is due in part to the Allied troops of occupation, to the American officers and sailors here, and the large number of American and British civilians who have come out for business since the armistice.

Russian Refugees.

What the Russian refugees have done in the way of enlivening the city with concerts, dancing places and queer restaurants, the other Allies have done in sporting lines.

In winter there is wild boar, duck and fox hunting. There is also, in and out of season, plenty of horseback riding over the dirt roads and unfenced stretches of upland country on both sides of the Bosphorus. Horse races are often held.

Both the British and the Americans have laid out golf courses. There are also a few tennis courts.

The troops and sailors within the city have taken charge of a large field near Taxim, in the centre of Pera and there play football and baseball matches. Yachting and swimming are commonplace sports open to all.

Popular Bathing.

The Russians from the Black Sea, who are accustomed to bathe naked, have increased the popularity of the beaches, especially a fine strip of sand on the Marmara north shore known as Florida. There, without let or hindrance, men, women and children, undress on the open beach and bathe in costumes that seem quite conventional here.

PLAYS GOOD GOLF IN INTERNATIONAL MATCH.

Fred J. Wright of the Albermarle Club of Boston, Mass., whose playing in the International Golf Match in Great Britain, won the admiration of both the American and British enthusiasts. Wright was the only one of the Americans to stand up against the fierce attack of the Royal defenders. Jones and Ouimet went down to defeat early in the contest.

Escaped from Bolsheviks
Traveled Through Japan and China.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—Boris Tolstoi, a grandson of the late Russian writer, has just arrived here after a journey through China and Japan, having escaped from the Bolsheviks.

In 1918, after three days of life, he had to flee from Moscow because he was condemned to death and now he is in ignorance as to whether he is dead or alive.

He joined Admiral Kolchak's forces and fought against Bolsheviks, was struck with dysentery on three occasions and nursed in the American hospital at Omsk.

He said that his aunt, Galina, is in prison at Moscow, another aunt, Tatiana, is a maid of a Bolshevik family.

Tolstoi predicts the sure inevitable death of Bolsheviks either through demobilization or starvation of the army.

Rations of the soldiers have been reduced to a quarter of a pound of bread and eighth of a sausage. He said that Russia could not now produce even a needle.
