BRINGING UP FATHER

GREEK RULER
COURTS FAVOR

Constantine Leaves Nothing Undone to Win Good Will of People

MORGANATIC WIDOW RECEIVED BY QUEEN

ATHENS, Feb. 5.—King Constantine of the Greek Royal family, now in Athens, are leaving nothing undone to win favor with the people. On the other hand, members of a section of the upper class of society, the so-called lion-hunters, are doing everything in their power to obtain admittance into the royal circle.

The Venizelists, for whatever class of society they belong, regard King Constantine as a selfish individual who would sacrifice the interests of Greece to satisfy his own ambitions.

The King's several brothers are also heartily disliked in Venizelist circles, for they never miss an opportunity for making disparaging remarks about the Cretan statesman, thanks to whose astute diplomacy Greek territory was extended to its present frontiers.

Manos Intruder

Mme. Aspasia Manos, the morganatic widow of the late King Alexander continues to attract general attention in Athens. She now lives by herself in a rather modest dwelling in the Kiphissia Avenue. The princess and princesses who preceded King Constantine and Queen Sophie to Athens rather looked upon Mme. Manos as an intruder and gave her the cold shoulder. Queen Sophie's motherly instincts, however, got the better of royal blood prejudices and she received her morganatic daughter-in-law with open arms. Alexander was Queen Sophie's favorite son.

Queen Sophie has given orders for the employment of an English first-class nurse in preparation for the birth of Mme. Manos' child.
