CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT

A month ago a lady told the Daily News she was planning to do without this paper. The depression made it difficult to pay even the modest ten cents a week demanded rors. for it. At the end of the month she came in and paid for the remainder of the year, saying she found she could not do without it. She found it necessary to have the News in order to keep in touch with the week-end bargains advertised there.
