DEATH TAKES J. S. EMERSON

Owner of Local Lumber Mill Was Prominent Figure for Many Years.

E. F. Doby, manager of the Prince Rupert Lumber mill, received word yesterday of the death of J. S. Emerson, the well known lumberman and financier, owner of the local mill.

James Sharpe Emerson has for years been a well known figure in the lumber world. Several years ago he was dealing heavily in British Columbia timber and had serious disagreements with the government of the day. He fought it in the courts and won. Being an Irishman he was fond of a tussle, either with the forces of nature or with other obstacles that presented themselves.

Mr. Emerson was born in county Fermanagh, Ireland, in 1858 and was educated in that country. He went into business in Kansas state and was at different times engaged in brokerage, meat packing, stock raising and lumber manufacturing. He came to British Columbia in 1899 and at once went into the lumber business.

One son, John Emerson, is well known here and a daughter also survives him.

CONFERENCE BETWEEN SINN FEIN AND LLOYD GEORGE HAS CEASED

Hope of Peace with Ireland Not Gone, but O'Flanagan Not to be Party

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The conference between Michael O'Flanagan, acting president of Sinn Fein, and Premier Lloyd George, with a view to the peace with Ireland has been broken off and will not renew. O'Flanagan has returned to Dublin. Peace negotiations have not altogether broken down, but O'Flanagan is not to be a party to further exchanges.

Candidates for Office Agree on Playgrounds

All Would Help Cause of Children; Speaker Urge Consideration of Subject and Immediate Action

"Everybody agrees with the principle of more playgrounds in the abstract, but when it comes to dollars and cents they seem to be afraid." That was the opening remark of L. W. Patmore at the playgrounds meeting last night in the Empress Theatre, W. E. Thompson presiding. Mr. Patmore said the school board had had this in mind for some time and had been gradually improving school playgrounds.

The King Edward school grounds are not big enough for a ball game, he said. Outside of Acropolis Hill there is only one place large enough available and that is at Hays Cove Circle. It will take a lot of filling and cutting to level it and the school board had been almost afraid to include in the estimates a proper sum to fix up the grounds. Whoever was on the new school board would now know the sentiment of the people is with them. There is no reason the school board should pay for this, however. The city council should do it. They should have a grounds available this coming summer. Some were in favor of a number of small grounds but he favored one large one at Hays Cove Circle. It was illogical to put it elsewhere.

Thoughtful Hero.
Mr. Patmore read a letter from G. C. Perry telling of several lots Jack Enoch had bequeathed for his purpose. This boy had gone overseas and been killed in the war but before going he had thought of the young people of the city and had left these lots for them.

Mr. Patmore said he hoped to see Acropolis Hill developed. Estimates should be obtained to find the cost of moving the rock. The regarding the necessity of better facilities, George Nickerson suggested the city making arrangements with the boat owners to carry children to the salt lakes in summer at reduced rates, in addition to other recreational efforts. Rochester Makes Appeal on Record

Would Deal Drastically with Police Affairs; Stands for Playgrounds but would Welcome Power Company Here

To the Electors of Prince Rupert:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—In seeking your support for the office of mayor I feel that I am justified in doing so after serving three years as an alderman. As chairman of the Finance Committee I know of the great difficulties in raising money for new developments and no public works can be done without money.

As our bonded indebtedness is considered too high in comparison with our population, it was necessary to practice the utmost economy to carry on; however, we have pulled through nicely, and our city is today in good financial condition. Cities and towns to the east of us have defaulted on their bonds and are now practically in the hands of a receiver, owing to extravagant councils.

So far as the power question is concerned, I would welcome any bona fide electric company that would develop water power in this district and sell juice to the city. I would recommend substantial encouragement to insure development, as we must have power, but always with the city's interests regarded.

Cow Bay.

My attitude towards Cow Bay does not, and has not changed. The city has riparian rights there and the ratepayers should see that a thoroughly reliable council is elected who will not allow these rights to be taken from us.

Now that the bonds have been successfully floated and money available, street grading should be pushed with all possible speed.

I am opposed to plank roads and believe in dispensing with every foot of them wherever possible—substituting therefor permanent or semi-permanent roadways.

Playgrounds for the children in different sections of the city are an absolute necessity, in order to keep the little ones off our narrow streets, and thus avoid accidents. This should be a first charge upon the new council.

Clean up City.

And now last, but not least, comes one of the most serious questions. Attempts have been made at different times to clean up the city but apparently without much success. Personally I am satisfied that it cannot be done satisfactorily with the present police staff. Either they must go

CREEKS FIGHT AGAINST TURKS

Success for Both Sides Reported in Official Communique.

LONDON, January 11.—According to an official Greek communique, the Greeks have commenced an offensive in Asia Minor against the Turkish nationalist forces, resulting in important successes for Greek forces. Fighting is reported in the Mendere region, where the Greeks started to attack but had their lines pierced by the Turks in several places. Many wounded have arrived at Smyrna.

AERIAL TRAM TO PREMIER

Preparations Being Made to Construct Sixteen Miles to Tidewater.

Preparations are being made at Stewart to build a sixteen-mile aerial tram line from the Premier mine to tidewater at Stewart wharf, according to arrivals from the mining camp. By this means 100 tons a day of ore could be shipped, part of which would go to Tacoma and the rest to Anxox. With the installation of the tramline lower grade ores would be shipped than at present, and the shipments would be made the year round. The concentrates from the mill would also come out that way.

FRANK INTERCHANGE OF VIEWS ON IRELAND

O'Flanagan Gone to Dublin to Consult Friends on the Situations.

LONDON, January 11.—Father O'Flanagan's return to Dublin followed the meeting with Premier Lloyd George and Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary of state for Ireland, at which a very frank interchange of views took place. O'Flanagan has gone to Ireland to communicate with friends, it is stated. He indirectly represented De Valera and the interview was given at his request.
