TERRIFIC WIND IN MANITOBA BLOWS DOWN STEEL POLES

WINNIPEG, July 14.—Hon. C. D. McPherson, minister of public works, after inspecting the damage caused by the recent windstorms, which blew down 22 towers in the White Plains District, to the Portage la Prairie transmission line declared today that the structural steel work was not strong enough to stand the force of the storm.

Mr. McPherson said the appointment of a competent electrical engineer to report on the construction of the line would be delayed. He did not think it probable that the investigation would be started this week.

Mr. McPherson said the foundations were firm and he had been unable to find a cement footing which had given way. In the district generally crops were levelled to the ground by the force of the gale and the top of box cars were carried 2,000 feet. People in the neighborhood expected their houses to go down before the wind, but very little damage of this nature occurred.
