New York Ball Teams Have Lead RE AT SMITHERS DESTROYS TWO HOTELS LAST NIGHT AT 8.30

Smithers Hotels
Were Burned Down in Big Fire Last Night

(By G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

HOTELS, Sept. 27.—Fire which broke out here at 8:30 destroyed the Royal Hotel, owned by D. A. McRae, and Cecil, owned by Mrs. J. Yohn. Both were large structures in the ball park on the east side of town. The buildings totally destroyed. The blaze, it is believed, was caused by burning of a kerosene lamp in one of the bedrooms of the hotel.

Breaking of the fire siren quickly brought a large crowd. All worked willingly in quelling the flames but were unable to save the two hotels. They were successful, however, in the spread of the fire and saved several houses which stood on account of their close proximity to the hotels.

DIED WHILE OUT HUNTING

Body of "Mac" Lacaille, Naas
River Gas Boat Engineer
Found on Shore.

Lying cold and stiff with hands crossed over his heart, the body of a man named Lacaille, commonly known as "Mac," engineer on the cannery tender Kitwanga, of the B. C. Packers' Cannery at Naas Harbor and well known at the mouth of the Naas River, was found on the sandy shore 4 or 5 miles from Naas Harbor on Saturday afternoon. Lacaille had been out on a hunting trip for a week and it is believed succumbed to heart trouble which was a result of his war service.

Arrivals from the Naas on the Camosun this morning told the story. Lacaille had gone out hunting up the river from the cannery on Monday in his skiff. The Dominion Fisheries patrol boat Linnet had been in the vicinity and the deceased was to have kept in touch with it. On Wednesday the Government boat came by and saw Lacaille. Returning on Thursday, deceased was not seen. Anxiety was then felt and Manager G. Chambers ordered a search with the result that the dead man was found on the shore by the Linnet. It is thought that he had been attempting to climb to a higher rank and his heart had given out.

The body was brought to the city today by the Linnett and Coroner J. H. McMullan is investigating the circumstances.

Lacaille was a man of middle age and is survived by a wife and daughter in England and another daughter in Los Angeles.

Dr. S. F. Tolmie Nominated For Victoria to Contest Seat at Coming Elections

VICTORIA, Sept. 27.—Hon. Simon Fraser Tolmie, minister of agriculture, received the nomination for the constituency of Victoria City at a meeting held here last night, five hundred people being present. He will run as a member of the recently formed National Liberal and Conservative Party of Canada and as a supporter of the Meighen administration. He addressed the meeting on the work of the government.

Dr. Tolmie is a veterinary surgeon and farmer and was previous to the war time election live stock commissioner under the Dominion Government. He was chosen as a candidate at that time because he had never expressed any political views and it was thought would represent both the Conservative and Liberal Unionists. He was opposed by Stewart Henderson, but no one at that time took Mr. Henderson's candidature seriously. He was returned by an overwhelming majority.

On Dr. Tolmie being chosen for the position of minister of agriculture he had to go back to Victoria for re-election and came very near being defeated by J. S. Barnard, a labor man from New Westminster. Who will oppose him this time in Victoria has not yet been announced but on this occasion the Liberals are well organized and the minister is likely to meet his Waterloo.
