

Basketball Season Off To Great Start With Opening Games Played Last Night

There was a record crowd in attendance at the opening games of the Basketball Association winter schedule which were held last evening in the Agricultural Hall. Colonel S. P. McMorde made a speech in formally opening the season and dwelt on the importance of sport to all classes in the city. He also started the first game. The Great War Veterans' Band, which was in attendance, added much to the attraction of the evening and their many selections were thoroughly appreciated. There were three basketball games: Meteors vs. Maple Leafs, a draw; Colts vs. Sons of Canada, 14 to 9 in favor of the Colts; and Elks vs. Sons of Canada, which resulted in victory for the Elks by a score of 27 to 18.

If the opening game of the Ladies' League is any indication of the class of basketball which they are to put up during the season, the fans are to see something worth while. Both teams, the Meteors and the Maple Leafs, served up exceptionally good basketball although they might have had the inclination to bunch together too much. Play was fast and even throughout, so even in fact, that ten minutes extra had to be played and then the teams were still level with eight points each. The Meteors opened the scoring and led at half time by four points to two but the Maple Leafs evened up matters in the second half, at the end of which the score stood 6 to 6. In the overtime period the Maple Leafs scored first, but the Meteors got a merited basket before the time was called. The result reflects fairly the run of play although the Meteors checked possibly more closely and quickly. They wasted many good scoring chances, however.

Men's Intermediate.

The Men's Intermediate game between the Colts and Sons of Canada, was another rattling good contest, although the shooting on both sides was rather erratic. That, however, was possibly due to the excitement of the opening game. There was little to choose between the teams in the first half although the Colts were on the long end of the 5 to 3 score at the end of the period. In the second half, the Colts got away stronger, their understanding and passing being away ahead of their opponents, who never seemed to get settled. As a result many good chances went begging. The Colts finally ran out winners by a score of 14 to 9.

The teams and scoring was as follows:
Colts—J. Mitchell, 2; R. Smith, H. Frizzell, 1; E. Mackintosh, 6 and W. Mitchell, 5—14.
Sons of Canada—H. A. Charlton, 3; W. Grey, E. Smith; Ted Halverson, 2; and F. Morrison—9.

Lee Dell was referee.

Men's Senior.

Last year's rivals, the Sons of Canada and the Elks, treated the fans to a fast and furious game and the Elks repeated last year's opening performance by winning over the Canucks by 27 to 18. The Sons opened strongly and soon had three points to their credit in about as many minutes but the Elks gradually came into their own and, by better shooting, they took the lead and held it at half time when the score stood 11 to 8 in their favor. The Elks returned the forcing in the second half and soon assumed a comfortable lead. The Sons made a great comeback towards the last scoring 9 points in quick succession in ten minutes. Their efforts came too late, however, and they were forced to acknowledge defeat to a team which played more consistently throughout the forty minutes. The Elks move fast and effectively and were under better control while the Sons showed only glimpses of their last year's excellence. No doubt they will come back later.

There was only one bad feature to this game and that concerned players who temporarily forgot themselves in the heat of

Sport Chat

There are all too many accidents from fool hunters who fire before they see what they are shooting at. In connection with the shooting of Louis Franceschini alderman of Cumberland at Comox recently by Norman Whitehouse, a young logger, the young man had seen a deer and then expecting to get a shot, he said he heard something like a deer getting up. He squatted down and started looking through the thicket and he saw a brown thing which looked still. He moved his head to get a better view. He heard something which sounded like a deer going through the thicket. Then he saw the brown thing move a little. He raised the rifle, pulled the safety catch off and fired. When he fired he heard a long cry and he knew what he had done, because no deer would cry like that. He went to the thicket opened it and after taking four steps he saw the feet of a man lying down. It scared him so much he would not go in, but he turned and ran up the trail up to the skidder, and he went to the locomotive and told the men there what he had done. They stopped the train and he guided them to where the body lay. He took one look at the man and turned away. Then he came into camp as quickly as he could and reported the affair to the provincial police at Courtenay.

Glen Loughlin, who is a regular cyclone on skates, is to winter in Victoria this year and will play hockey in his spare time. A signed contract is now in the hands of Lester Patrick manager of the Aristocrats. Glen is at present farming in Alberta, and while he thinks the farm life is O.K. he likes a little variety and just as a diversion he will entertain the hockey fans of Victoria during the winter. Last winter Glen was handicapped by a badly wrenched ankle, but even at that he was still able to make the ice hot. He has everything necessary for a hockey player of repute, brains, speed, a fair share of stick handling and the knack of putting up a good scrap whether ahead or behind. The Victoria fans will doubtless be tickled to see this renowned defence man back on their team.

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not appear until the vigor of the cells is restored by such up-lifting treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Temporary relief by use of this is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mr. W. J. Pearce, Nunn St., N. W., Ont., writes:

My system became run-down and I was greatly with pain in my head. It was so severe that I would have a dash of sleep at night. I could get no use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I continued using them until I felt about seven boxes, and they cleared and built up my system. I feel completely relieved of the pain in my head.
