Terrace Sawmill Completely Razed by Fire Breaking Out at 3.30 Yesterday Afternoon

TERRACE, B. C., June 28.—Yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, fire broke out in George Little's sawmill and totally destroyed what has been a familiar landmark for many years to passengers on passing trains.

Most of the lumber and logs stored in the yard were saved by the strenuous efforts of the mill crew assisted by the citizens generally. Hoses were put into use and were supplemented by a line of buckets.

There is no insurance on the mill. It is the only sawmill in the north that has been running continuously for the past nine years. Although at times the operation of the plant was not altogether profitable it was never closed down even when times were at their worst.

Mr. Little already plans on rebuilding on the site occupied by the destroyed mill. The origin of the fire is unknown.

LONDON, June 28.—Premier Arthur Meighen of Canada in addressing the Imperial Conference today laid down the principles on which he believes the future British Imperial policy should be based.

Britain should enter into no treaties without the advice of the dominions and such treaties should be subject to their approval. In all questions where the United States is concerned he demanded that the advice of the Canadian Government should be accepted as final.

PRINCETON, June 28.—After all hope of ever finding him alive had practically been abandoned, Fred Howse, son of A. E. Howse, the local merchant, turned up at his home here on Saturday, plainly showing marks of privation and suffering he had undergone while wandering in the woods without food.

Four days ago Mr. Howse's auto plunged over an embankment and crashed at the bottom, and he sustained a concussion that is believed to have resulted in a temporary aphasia, causing him to wander aimlessly into the hills. Search parties were organized and a country-wide search was instituted, but no trace could be found of the missing man and hope had been practically abandoned when he came to his home to the great relief of his wife and parents.

Mr. Justice Audette Finds Provincial Ministers and Members Subject Income Tax.

OTTAWA, June 28.—The salaries and indemnities of the members of the provincial parliaments and the cabinet ministers are subject to Income Tax according to the ruling of Mr. Justice Audette, of the Exchequer Court, who sees no reason for discrimination in favor of the parliamentarians. This decision was a result of the test case launched by Hon. J. A. Garon, minister of agriculture in the Quebec provincial cabinet.

The judge has also found that the government is empowered under the British North America Act to impose direct taxation within the provinces to arise revenue for provincial purposes. Such taxation, he holds, does not conflict with federal taxation.

WILL DRILL FOR OIL IN KITSUMGALLUM VALLEY

Northern Men Preparing to Start Operations the First of August.

The Kitsumgallum Basin Petroleum Co., Ltd., with head office at Terrace, was recently gazetted. The company has holdings near Rosswood, Kitsumgallum Valley, about thirty miles from Terrace, consisting of eight sections. C. F. Schaub promoted the company and he has associated with him a wholly local directorate as follows: George Little, of Terrace; W. H. Tobey, Prince Rupert; J. P. Kirkpatrick, Smithers; J. H. Brearley, Gearvale, and S. T. Finnegan of Terrace.

Oil seepages were found on the property some years ago but no attempt was made to prospect it or to promote a company. Geologists years ago reported it a good country to prospect in for oil. The company recently organized here to meet with success and thus develop a new source of wealth in the district.

The prospectus issued states that the company will secure the services of an experienced and reliable driller with a modern outfit. It is expected the drilling will be started in August and it is estimated the oil will be reached at a depth of between 1,500 and 2,000 feet.—Omineca Herald.

PEOPLE WERE TOO HEAVY FOR PLANE

London to Paris "Air Express" Stops to Unload Some.

LONDON, June 27.—Owing to the excessive weight of three fat persons among the passengers an "air express" setting out recently from the London air station to travel to Paris ascended so slowly that after it had risen about 100 feet, the pilot decided that his load was too heavy for the 230-mile journey, and returned to the aerodrome. A second airplane was then run out from the sheds, and some of the passengers from the first were transferred to it; whereupon both machines flew off in company to Paris.
