Busy Session for League of Nations

Reduction of Armaments, Establishment of International Court of Justice and Other Matters to be Dealt With

NEW YORK, February 8.—Twelve important cogs in the machinery of the League of Nations, many of which are to be set in motion when the Council of the League convenes in Geneva, Switzerland, February 21, and the problems which await their action are defined in a forecast of the work of the League which has just been received here.

Arthur Sweetser, an officer of the American commission to the Peace Conference at Versailles and who is now attached to the League of Nations' secretariat staff, is the author of the forecast. He says the twelve cogs are really special commissions, the personnel of which will in some cases be designated by the Council at its forthcoming meeting.

The subjects that will be handled by the commissions are enumerated by Mr. Sweetser as follows:

Reduction of Armaments

Technical examination into the present condition of world armaments, now under way by the permanent Naval, Military and Air Commission of the League will be completed. In addition a temporary commission of experts in the political, social and economic world will be asked to submit plans for a reduction of armaments. The aim of this commission will be to get members of the League to agree not to exceed their present scale of armaments, to agree to a proportionate and simultaneous reduction in military budgets and to accept the principle of scientific and comprehensive reduction of armaments to the least figure compatible with national security. Investigation of the private manufacture of munitions and war material, denounced as "a source of danger to the world through an extended sale throughout the less civilized areas in Asia and Africa" will be undertaken.

International Court

Nominations of 14 judges, chosen for a period of nine years, are to be made next summer and the selections announced at the Second Assembly to be held in September next. The list of candidates will be prepared mainly by the Hague Court of Arbitral Justice and all nominees will be voted upon separately by the Assembly and the Council. So far, 22 nations, including Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, have signed the protocol providing for the court, whose adoption by a unanimous vote of the Assembly is held to be the greatest single advance the League of Nations has yet registered in international relations.

Two important problems which had to be decided before the court begins to convene were, first, should the court have the power of compulsory adjudication? And, second, should it be organized by resolution of the Assembly or submitted to ratification by individual nations? These questions were decided by the Assembly.

ably providing that those nations so desiring may accept the principle of compulsory adjudication and that the organization of the court should be subject to ratification of individual nations. Action for or against the court will be taken in a number of parliaments which meet this year.

Mandates

An international commission of nine members from non-mandatory powers, is to be appointed by the Council in accordance with an agreement reached on November 29. The question of mandates for the 13,000,000 or more people of Pacific Islands, South Africa, Turkey and Kiao-Chow, freed from Germany and Turkey by the war, opens one of the least advanced of all the League's problems. Tentative drafts have been prepared, so that the League is now in possession of the terms of all prospective mandates. These will be analyzed and, where necessary, possible changes recommended.

Economics and Finance

A permanent, centralizing, economic and financial organization is to be formed within the League by the appointment of an advisory economic and financial committee, the membership of which will be composed of leading world financiers and economists. This committee in a sense will be the successor of the Supreme Economic Council. It drew out of the Brussels International Conference and will be charged with the duty of considering the immediate application of that body's recommendations.

Other subjects to be dealt with by commissions are proposed amendments to the Covenant of the League, registration and publication of treaties between member nations, methods of applying the international economic blockade and means of providing funds for the secretariat and auditing its accounts.

Other commissions or organizations will take up methods of improving means of communication and transportation in Europe and co-ordination of international health organization in combating epidemics.

Humanitarian Work

Under the head of humanitarian work come such subjects as the Armenian massacres and the white slave and opium traffics, which are to be handled by the co-operation of several or all governments in the League. The United States, Spain and Brazil, at the Council's invitation, have agreed to use their influence to end the Armenian horrors and the Allied powers, through their representatives at Constantinople, are now ascertaining the best methods of approach.

Fifteen nations, including Canada, Persia, Siam, Austria, Bulgaria and Germany, are giving
