A SATURDAY SERMON

Thanksgiving

(By Very Rev. J. B. Gibson, Dean of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral)

The supreme function of Thanksgiving Day is to remind us of an obligation that is easily lost sight of. Every day should be a day of thankfulness but it is well to lift one day above the level of the others and label it by official proclamation "Thanksgiving Day" as a reminder of the blessings we enjoy as citizens of a great Dominion and to publicly acknowledge our gratitude before the Throne of Grace "for men everywhere from the evils of our creation, preservation and all the blessings of this life."

It is interesting to note the etymology of the word "thanks." It comes from the same root as "think" and they stand in the same relation to each other as "sing" and "sang." An act of kindness is done to me and I think of it. Later "I thank" of it and say so and, in saying so, I find no better word expressive of my thoughtfulness of the kindness rendered. The root meaning is a movement of mind or feeling. Thankfulness is the only right way to think and feel. If you think rightly you will become more and more aware of all there is in life for you to be thankful for. The great question is what we choose to think about for thinking is very much a matter of selection.

Can Always Thank

We can always be thankful for a great deal that we are not, for many things that have not happened to us. There never can be any situation that might not have been so much worse than it is. The most faulty of us might have been more faulty still and, sinners though we be, we can thank God we have been kept from many sins.

Then there are positive things that we are apt to overlook. It is not life so much that is wrong as it is the way we take it. A great writer has told us that we all bear within our bosom materials of happiness, contentment and peace. There are many pleasant things to think about but often we simply refuse to do it. So we acquire bad habits of emphasis and attention, we neglect multitudes of little wayside blessings that are well worth our gratitude. Much doubtless has gone from life but much is left in it still. We grumble and deplore the evils of our times, as people have done in every generation since time began. Yet a little reading of history will show us how much better our times are than many ages that have been in the past. We are passing through a phase of our economic existence that is depressing but those who have travelled tell us that Canada is much better off than the majority of nations and that Prince Rupert has a much more hopeful outlook than many other cities.

Then there are the eternal things of Christ's Gospel and these are surely a cause for thankfulness we have not exhausted. Let us look carefully at the things we profess to believe and ask ourselves whether we believe these things or not. Is it true that Jesus Christ lived and died? Is it true that He lives forever to be your Friend and Redeemer? Is it true that He is rescuing before the Throne of Grace "for men everywhere from the evils of their own hearts? If these things be true then why not let us rejoice and be glad in them? The best way of acquiring a brighter and better spirit is to learn to keep our minds more steadily fixed on the great certainties of our faith. It is not worthy of us to say that we believe these things and yet to depress ourselves and other people by turning our eyes away from them to the little troubles of the hour. If we really believe them let us think them—let us show the courage of our faith and its real power of conquering life by turning our eyes away from the disturbing and impossible conditions of the moment and fixing them definitely and permanently on Jesus Christ.

Tonight's train, due from the East at 8 p.m., was reported this morning to be on time

"My friends all ask me what I used"

"I had a lovely delicately-colored silk scarf from Paris which was my pride," writes an enthusiastic woman from Quebec. "It became so soiled I had to wash it—which ruined its beauty. I was heart-broken. One day I saw in the drug store a new kind of tint—Diamond Tints. The druggist said they were for light shades and needed no boiling. When I found they were made by the makers of Diamond Dyes, I knew that there was something I would dare to use on my precious scarf. (You see, I had dyed all my mourning clothes with Diamond Dyes and knew they were wonderful.) I got a package of Diamond Tints, dipped my scarf and it came out as gorgeously colorful as a sunset! My druggist says repeated washings will not fade it. My friends were as delighted as I and wanted to know what I used. Indeed, I'm enthusiastic about Diamond Tints!"

Mayor's Party Had Narrow Escape in Falling of Big Tree

BURNS LAKE, Oct. 8.—While motoring recently in this district, Harry Bowman, agricultural representative of the Canadian National Railways at Prince George, Mayor C. H. Orme of Prince Rupert and W. H. Tobey, divisional superintendent of the railway, had a narrow escape from injury from a falling tree near Colleymount. They were travelling in an auto along the Francois-Burns Lake road while a strong wind was blowing. They noticed three children who were driving cattle ahead of them to run as though in fright. Glancing to the side of the road, the driver saw a large tree beginning to fall. He applied the brakes and brought the skidding car to a stop as the branches of the falling tree struck the radiator.

Co-operation Is Asked of Railway

Request of C. N. R. Employees Comes Before Chamber of Commerce

At the chamber of commerce meeting last night a letter was read from a committee of employees of the Canadian National Railway setting out what the railway had done for the city and asking for support.
G. W. Nickerson said he believed the request was rather one-sided and, in moving that the request be given favorable consideration, he suggested that the signers be asked to send another letter to the C. N. R. management asking for better co-operation for the citizens of Prince Rupert.

Insomnia

"Insomnia does not kill its man unless he kills himself—sleeplessness is the most common cause of suicide. It kills his joy of living, it saps his strength, it sucks the blood from his brain and from his heart like a vampire," so writes a world famous nerve specialist, himself a victim of insomnia.

"Insomnia makes him remember in the night what he was meant to forget in restful sleep. It makes him forget during the day what he was meant to remember. Memory is first to go overboard, soon friendship, love, sense of duty, even pity itself are one after another washed away. Despondency alone sticks to the doomed ship to steer it on the rocks to total destruction. Voltaire was right when he placed sleep on a level with hope."
What a vivid picture of the results of exhausted nerves. How well it describes a condition which is wonderfully common during these times of worry and discouragement.
There is always the temptation to seek temporary relief by the use of narcotics which only whip up the tired nerves to leave them later more exhausted.
Real relief can only come with restoration of the depleted nerves by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It takes a little time to overcome a condition which has perhaps been years in developing, but the benefits are lasting. Gradually and certainly the richness is restored to the blood and the nerves are nourished back to health.
Rest and recreation will help but nervous disorders do not right themselves. Nerve force must be restored and there are thousands of people to say that this can best be accomplished by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
Why not strike a blow at sleeplessness by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You will not be disappointed. A few days use of this treatment will find you sleeping better and taking a more cheerful view of life. You will then be encouraged to continue its use until your health is fully restored.
Five days treatment in vest pocket aluminum box, sent free if you mention this paper. The Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Can.
