BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

PASSING OF JOHN EATON

One of Canada's Wealthy Merchant Knights Dies at Age of 46.

TORONTO, Mar. 31.—Sir John Eaton died here last night, aged 46 years.

Sir John Craig Eaton, K.B., generally supposed to be Toronto's wealthiest citizen, was born in Toronto on April 29, 1876. His father was the late Timothy Eaton, founder of the extensive business with important interests in a number of cities of the Dominion, including Montreal, Moncton, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Toronto.

Educated in the public schools of Toronto and at Upper Canada College, John C. Eaton was trained to the business which his father had begun. Upon his father's death in 1907, the son, who was then vice-president, became president of the T. Eaton Company. The business continued to expand until the Eaton interests virtually touched every important point in Canada and reached far beyond the Dominion. Sir John's other business activities embraced several directorships. He was on the boards of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Sterling Bank and the Dominion Bank, and he held governorships in Victoria University and the Toronto General Hospital.

Sir John Eaton was one of Toronto's most distinguished philanthropists. His munificence included the giving of several hundred thousand dollars to the Toronto General Hospital, the surgical wing of which he built at his own expense; $250,000 in memory of his father; $50,000 to the Y. M. C. A., Toronto; $10,000 to the endowment fund of Victoria University, and subscriptions to numerous enterprises of a religious, philanthropic or charitable nature. He built and furnished throughout the Eaton Memorial Methodist Church, Toronto, in memory of his father, the edifice being one of the most magnificent places of worship in the Dominion. He was a director of the Canadian National Exhibition and sundry other organizations.

Machine Gun Battery.

Sir John Eaton's loyalty during the Great War was shown in many practical ways. He raised and equipped the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, with quick-firing Vickers Maxim guns mounted on armored trucks, and he was actively connected with a number of organizations in connection with war relief work. He was knighted in 1915 in recognition of his public services and he was created an honorary colonel. Previous to the war and afterwards Sir John was interested in the Canadian Baden-Powell Boy Scouts, of which organization he was for some time a commissioner.

Among Sir John Eaton's recreations was yachting, and for many years he owned one of the best-equipped steam yachts on the Great Lakes. He was a member of several yacht and golf clubs, and was a member of the Merchants' Club, St. Gall, Switzerland. During the war his yacht Florence served as a submarine chaser off the Atlantic coast.

Lady Eaton, four sons and one daughter survive, Timothy Craig, John David, Edgar Allison, Gilbert McCrea and Florence Mary. Mrs. Timothy Eaton, mother of Sir John, also survives.

T. Scott arrived in the city from Alford Bay on the Prince Albert last night.

Night Coughs

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep.

The constant coughing keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition that they get no chance to heal.

You will find in

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

a remedy without an equal, for soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening the breathing organs and fortifying them against pulmonary disease.

Mrs. John McKerney, Lower Montague, P. E. I., writes:—"About three years ago I caught a very bad cold accompanied by a sore throat and hoarseness, and was so hoarse you could hardly hear me speak. I could get no rest at night with the terrible annoying, hacking cough. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised; got a bottle, and at once it gave me relief, and after using four my cough had all gone. Now I always keep Dr. Wood's in the house, and shall recommend your remedy to others."

Price, 35c and 60c a bottle at all dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FOUR HAIDA INDIANS DIED

Haida Headman and Indian Merchant Among Those Recently Passed Away.

MASSETT, March 31.—Joseph Adams, of Massett, died last week on the Indian Reserve there. He was one of the best tradesmen of that locality and the owner of a gasoline launch, which he built and equipped. He leaves a mother, wife and family to mourn the loss of a good son and parent. Alfred Adams, teacher of Massett Indian Day School is a brother of the deceased.

Chief "Yaltatzie," the oldest Head Man of the Haida Nation, passed away from an attack of the "flu" last Sunday, at Massett. Many years ago, he left the Queen Charlotte Islands, to take up residence with the Alaska Haidas. He was on a visit to a son, who was ill, when he contracted influenza, and passed away. He leaves several grown sons and one daughter, Mrs. Nagel. The funeral took place at Massett, on March 27, when the remains were interred in the cemetery, on Massett Inlet, where his forefathers are at rest.

Matthew Cross, an old and respected resident of Skidefate, died on Sunday night, on Skidegate reserve, from an attack of paralysis. He was one of the leading Indians of the Skidegate Band and took quite an interest in every movement for the benefit of the Indians.

Alex. Taylor, a former member of the Massett Football Club, and a graduate of Coqualeetza Industrial Institute passed away, on Massett Reserve, last month. He was but 24 years of age and leaves a mother and sister to mourn his loss.

PRINCE GEORGE EDITOR WARNED

Scribe Strikes a Strike Leader and Gets Anonymous Threatening Letter.

The copy of the Prince George Citizen just to hand tells of a fracas in which the editor of the paper struck one of the strike leaders named Hansen for using obectionable language to him. Later the editor received the following anonymous letter:

"The Editor: The Citizen.

Dear Sir—You are trying to railroad our leader who is fighting our cause against capital. You are behind those men of this town, the mayor and council who are trying to railroad him. If he is fined or sent to prison we get your paper we will get you for sure anyhowe and get you good. Also we will get your spoler, Crocker and get him the same as you also the other man Campbell who thinks he can laughh at us. We won't do anything until after the trile but you and the others had better move to let Hansen off or beware.

"From One Who Knows."

MAY START BRANCH STORE IN ALASKA

Harry Lipsett Sailed for Ketchikan Today to Look Over Field with View Establishing New Branch.

Harry Lipsett, local manager for Lipsett & Cunningham, Ltd., the well known firm of ship chandlers and fishing suppliers, sailed this afternoon for Ketchikan where he will look over the ground with a view to establishing an Alaskan branch of his company. Pending possible changes in the Alaskan fisheries regulation which might prevent American bottoms coming to this port, the company is now reaching out for establishment in the northern field. It is already incorporated to permit of this departure. The new branch will likely be in Ketchikan.

Mr. Lipsett expects to be back here early next week.

QUEEN CHARLOTTES

Mrs. Reid accompanied by Mrs. Brown, former residents of Skidegate, returned to Prince Rupert, after a visit to relatives, on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Geor. Jones, Edward Russ and George Brooks, of Massett, each lost a child, by death, during the recent epidemic of influenza.

PRESIDENT HARDING HOPEFUL REGARDING HIS TRIP ALASKA

Work of Congress Only Obstacle in View—Secretary Fall Coming Anyway.

SEATTLE, March 30.—Dan A. Sutherland, delegate from Alaska, speaking at the Arctic club luncheon said he believed it was President Harding's firm intention to visit Alaska this summer. He said, however, he feared congress would not adjourn in time for the president to make the trip, but he was confident Secretary Fall would go north and make a complete survey of Alaska, resources and people.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—"Still hopeful but not confident," was the phrase used at the White House today in describing President Harding's mental attitude toward the trip to Alaska this summer. The president is determined to go if it is possible so to do, the only uncertain factor being the date of congressional adjournment. If congress stays here all summer the trip will be set over until next year.

Personal Examination.

Nothing, it was announced at the White House, has yet been accomplished toward the expressed desire of the administration to coordinate and reorganize the various agencies that exercise federal authority in Alaska, and it further was indicated that the president is not sure that he wants anything done until he has had an opportunity to make personal examination of Alaskan affairs in the territory itself. He feels that he cannot determine fully an Alaskan policy until he has been to the territory.

His attitude in this regard, it was explained, was strengthened at a recent cabinet meeting when a matter affecting the supply of coal in Alaska for the navy came up for discussion. The president feels that a personal view of the situation is necessary for a wise decision.

R. Boyd Young, the Port Simpson merchant, reached the city last night and is registered at the Hotel Prince Rupert.
