STANLEY LUCAS PASSED BEYOND

Railway Civil Engineer of Early Days Here Died Recently at Hamilton.

Many friends in the city will learn with regret of the death of Arthur Stanley Bruce Lucas, one of Prince Rupert's earliest pioneers, which occurred in Hamilton, Ontario, on January 3. Mr. Lucas was a railway civil engineer and resided in this city while the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was under construction. He was one of the first to build a home here, having built one on Fourth Avenue West shortly after the first sale of city lots. On account of ill health he left the rigorous duties here and had been ailing for some years prior to his death. His wife (nee Miss Mary Glasco) and a family of small children survive.

Promising Career.
In reporting the death of Mr. Lucas the Hamilton Spectator says:

In the death of Mr. Lucas, Hamilton loses one of its most brilliant sons, and a career that had much promise was brought to a close. During his school life, Mr. Lucas had shown marked ability. Both at the T. E. S., at Port Hope, and Toronto university (Trinity college), he won every prize and distinction that came within his reach, and by his instructors was considered one of the most talented students that had entered that institution. At Trinity, he was successful in taking his degree of B.A. Later he took a post-graduate course in science and engineering at McGill university, and obtained the degree of B. Sc. His mind was extraordinary acute, and he grasped, with apparent ease, the most abstruse problems of a mathematical nature. He was marked for great prominence in the engineering world, and one of his earliest honors was achieved by a paper written by him which was read before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, Canadian branch. He chose railway engineering as his profession, and for some time lived at Prince Rupert in the employ of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. His ill-health, however, proved a great handicap in the performance of his duties, and the realization of his dreams. He pursued his endeavors with the utmost courage and tenacity, and worked untiringly until the end.

As a boy, he was very popular and lovable, and at college made many lifelong friends, who will sincerely mourn his loss. As a man, he developed a strong and splendid character marked by an admirable personality, and although the hopes of his many friends were not realized by his untimely demise his achievements will long be remembered. His splendid bearing in times of trial indicated a brave and gallant soul, equal to that of his brother, Major Travers Lucas, who gave his life on the altar of sacrifice during the great war, after being recommended for the Victoria Cross.

ELECTION GOING ON

Up to 1 o'clock 238 Votes Had
Been Cast—All is Very Quiet.

Up to 1 o'clock 238 persons had cast their ballots in the municipal election which is in progress today in the city council chamber. All is going smoothly and quietly and there is no special display of interest. Both Mayor Rochester and Col. McMorde, the mayoral candidates, spent a good part of the morning at the polling booth and both seem to be confident of election. The polling will be called to a finish at 7 o'clock and the counting will then commence. The result will be known very shortly after the polls close.

The following are the election officials:

Returning Officer, E. A. Woods.

Poll Clerk and Deputy returning officer, Barry W. Birch.

Deputy returning officers, L. S. Davies, E. B. Baker, J. Clapperton and R. Rowe.

Rochester scrutineers, W. Murray, Ben Ferguson, James Kelly, Hugh Killen and Jack Tail.

Rochester agent, John Currie. McMorde scrutineers, James Hampton, Walter L. McKenzie, Duncan Munro, Harvey F. Fraser, and John A. Edwards.

McMorde agent, W. Q. Fulton.

PRETTY WEDDING AT METHODIST CHURCH

Miss Pocock Becomes Bride of
W. J. Rance and Celebration Follows.

The wedding took place last evening in the Methodist Church parlors of William John Rance of this city and Miss Florence Evelyn Pocock of Saskatoon, Sask. Rev. G. G. Barker officiating. The couple was supported by Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Parry and little Miss Phyllis Parry was the flower girl.

Following the ceremony the party repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parry, 452 Sixth Avenue West, where a reception was held and many guests sat down to a sumptuous repast, with Mr. Parry presiding. From that time on there was much merriment. Toasts were drunk to the bride, and after supper dancing was kept up until a late hour.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rance were born in England and it was as a result of an acquaintanceship begun during the war that the wedding took place. Mr. Rance fought overseas with the Fifteenth Battalion, Canadian Infantry.

Those present at the reception included: Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Parry, Mr. and Mrs. C. Whatman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Grosby, Mr. and Mrs. R. Aubrey Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Rossy, Mrs. M. Macdonald, Fred Hardy, S. Jahour, T. G. Govenlock, Mrs. Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Arney, Mr. Morley, S. Haudendahl, Mrs. Hogan, T. Apthorp, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and Syd Thomson.
