Nurses' Home To Be Built Soon As Money Is Raised; Debentures Are To Be Sold

Definite steps towards the erection of a Nurses' Home in connection with the Prince Rupert General Hospital were taken last night at the conference between the hospital board and delegates from the city's fraternal and benevolent associations. There was a full discussion of the subject, opinions being expressed freely as to the practicability of the proposition, and the result was the passing unanimously of a resolution, moved by W. E. Williams and seconded by George B. Casey, that a representative committee be appointed by the chairman to outline a scheme for the raising of the necessary funds, this to be followed by the sending out of canvassers among the public at large to obtain subscriptions, after which the issuing of debentures will follow.

D. G. Stewart, president of the hospital board, was in the chair, Major George E. Gibson, secretary, recorded the proceedings and those present included Miss Charlotte Black, matron of the hospital, Mrs. S. Darton and Mrs. D. W. Morrissey, of the hospital ladies' auxiliary, Mrs. H. H. Hemming, representing the Daughters and Maids of England; Mrs. James Irvine, Rebekahs Lodge; Mrs. George Leek, Pythian Sisters; Mrs. E. A. Woods, Ladies of the Royal Purple; Miss M. E. Eason, Order of the Eastern Star; D. C. McRae, Rotary Club; J. L. Christie, St. Andrew's Society; Milton Gonzales, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks; E. A. Donohoe, Knights of Columbus, Ray Love, Knights of Pythias, Walter Gale, Tyee Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; A. W. Silverdales, Sons of England; E. H. Mortimer, Tsimpsean Lodge A. F. & A. M. and Royal Arch Chapter; T. Ross Mackay, Trades and Labor Council; A. Akerberg, Valhalla Society; Judge F. McB. Young, Canadian Red Cross Society; W. E. Collison, J. Lorne MacLaren, W. R. Cameron, Archdeacon G. A. Rix, W. E. Williams, Col. S. P. McMordie, George B. Casey, and J. A. Mecker.

D. G. Stewart

In opening the meeting and explaining its objects D. G. Stewart, president of the hospital board, said that the executive committee of the hospital board had decided to recommend that first mortgage debenture bonds be issued to raise the finances for the building of the proposed Nurses' Home which it was estimated would cost $15,000 without furnishing. First it would be necessary to pay off the bank indebtedness of $5,000. Already $2,000 had been donated for the purpose of the Nurses' Home by the Canadian Red Cross Society, $100 by the late Mr. McIntosh, $20 by the Fishermen's Union and a legacy had been left to the hospital by the late Miss Moffatt of £1,000. The sum of $5,000 might be expected from the distribution of liquor profits making a total of something over $11,000, leaving it necessary to raise something like $10,000.

"It should not be difficult to raise $10,000 by debentures," declared Mr. Stewart. "Apart from the hospital building there is more than ample security for there are eighteen lots there. These lots and the Home could stand as the guarantee to the bond holders. I think you will agree with me that the raising of $10,000 should not be too heavy a task."

Masons and Elks

Walter Gale, representative of Tyee Lodge A. F. & A. M., stated that he had no authority to enter into any plan but was simply there in order to report back. The lodge would like to know that enough money was arranged for to meet the need and while they were at it they might as well do it right. He would advise that small debentures in reach of all be issued.

Milton Gonzales, representative of the Elks, did not strike an optimistic note and felt that the time was not now opportune for the raising of funds by any means. The Elks, however, were all agreed that if it was at all possible a fitting Nurses' Home should be provided. Business had been poor, however, there had been unemployment last winter and there was prospect of more this winter and there was a general shortage of money apparent The Elks were not in a position to give or promise any cash. He would suggest the postponing of the raising of funds for at least five or six months when times might be looking better. He did not think debentures would be practicable for issue on a hospital. They would be a moral risk upon which no one would be inclined to cash in or foreclose. He did not think the people of Prince Rupert generally were in a position to loan money on the best of business security much less on moral risks. He would also counsel that nothing be undertaken until all the money was in sight. He did not wish to throw a damper on the proposal and both the Elks and himself personally would do all possible to further it if it were decided to go ahead.

A. W. Silversides, representing the Sons of England, stated his inclination to agree with Mr. Gonzales. Times were hard for the backing of such a project and the public might find it difficult to give support.

Optimistic Note

T. Ross Mackay, secretary of the Trades & Labor Council which he represented, lent a decidedly optimistic note to the meeting. Mr. Mackay said that his organization looked upon the project with much favor and confidence. While some of the other speakers might not agree with him he felt from his observations of a few years that the city was on the upgrade rather than the downward. There was not so much unemployment this year as there was this time last year and the prospects for the winter were much brighter. Superficial signs should not be taken as a true indication and people should look for prosperity rather than adversity. All over, the situation was improving.

"I am in favor of the sentiment expressed by the first speaker to issue bonds of small denomination that will be in the reach of the smallest investor," continued Mr. Mackay. "The Trades and Labor Council undoubtedly favors the erection of the Nurses' Home for it always stands for the betterment of conditions for those who, like themselves, are earning their daily bread."

Other Delegates

A. Akerberg, representing the Valhalla Society, said that his society would be willing to fall in line behind whatever was decided and give all the assistance in its power.

E. H. Mortimer, representative of Tsimpsean Lodge A. F. & A. M. and Royal Arch Chapter, stated that the organizations whose delegate he was were not prepared to state a lump sum but the scheme had their best wishes and they would like to see it gone ahead with.

D. C. McRae, Rotary Club, said that the money could not be raised among the merchants for they had not any but others should have. Any bonds issued should be absolutely worth their face value. If they were not then there was little hope of raising funds. People should be made to understand that they could get their money back at any time, Mr. McRae referred to the successful raising of money by the Presbyterian Church on the debenture plan.

Judge Young

"It is not necessary for me to tell you that we are fully behind this proposition," said Judge F. McB. Young, of the Canadian Red Cross Society. "We have shown that in the past and, whatever is decided upon, I can assure you that we may be depended upon in the future to live up to the past. The Nurses' Home should recommend itself to all proper thinking people. It is the only means by which nurses can obtain proper rest and recreation and retain their efficiency.

"We should look the facts squarely in the face, however. I was convinced when I first came to Prince Rupert in the very early days that this would be one of the leading seaports of Canada and I am still as confident as ever. It will only be a matter of time and in the light of recent events something should soon be started to bring Prince Rupert to its proper place as one of the important cities of the Dominion. However there is uncertainty among many yet and there is a large number of people in this city who have not yet decided to make this their permanent home. In view of these circumstances we cannot expect people who are uncertain about remaining here to put their money into a permanent institution of the city. The time seems inopportune to ask for voluntary contributions.

"In my business of life it is my duty to listen to arguments for and against and I may say that, after listening to the statements of the representative of the Trades and Labor Council that if any class of people should be looked after it is the nurses. We may only realize their efficiency when we have to go to hospital and be administered to by them.

"The debentures it is proposed to issue should be in the nature of a strict business proposition and not a moral obligation. I am sure that the issuing of debentures will be the best means of raising the money and I agree with the principle that they should be in low denominations, even as low as $10."

Not So Optimistic

W. E. Williams said that he certainly took an interest in seeing the project proceed with at the earliest practicable time. He was not so optimistic as Judge Young or Mr. Mackay, however. Labor might be better off today than it was a year ago but there was certainly a shortage of money among the merchants, professional men and business people generally. He did not think they had been so hard up in years as they were today. A man had to be honest before he could be generous and it was his opinion that the people could not honestly give today when they
