CONFUSION IN FIGURES

Ald. Perry Has Conflicting Reports as to Light and Power Surplus 1921.

Ald. Perry, chairman of the Utilities Committee, reported at last night's council that the by-law embodying reductions in the light and power rates which his committee proposes bringing in is being delayed pending the final settlement of figures showing the standing of the utility last year and a conference between the finance and utilities committee.

Ald. Perry explained that the proposed by-law was based on a surplus last year of $30,000. This figure is accepted by T. C. Duncan, superintendent of utilities, but, as Ald. Perry explained last night, there seems to be some confusion among the officials of the city as to what the surplus really was last year. When the books were closed in March, Superintendent Duncan showed a surplus of $30,000 but W. D. Vance, city treasurer, in his figures showed that when all charges of the department had been met there would only be a surplus of $8,000. G. Rorie, the auditor, had first estimated the surplus at $8,000 but, after a conference with Mr. Duncan, had brought this up to $21,375. Today (Tuesday) he had announced that it would be $33,000.

The alderman declared that some definite understanding should be reached for it seemed peculiar that there should be such a wide difference between the figures of the treasurer and the auditor.

Ald. Perry has asked the city treasurer for figures regarding the distribution of sale of power and light under the various rates last year. These will take some time to obtain and will entail putting special clerks on the books.

MINER FROM KALUM LAKE

Oscar Olander Tells of His Property, Which Is Under Bond to Seattle Firm.

Returning to Terrace this morning after a brief visit was Oscar Olander, a Terrace mining man, who is one of the partners who discovered the free gold property at Kilsomkalum Lake last summer and two weeks later bonded it to G. H. Hoar of Seattle for the Strand Mining Co. The partners in the mine besides Mr. Olander are Paul Brodin, Oscar Gendron and John Couture. The properties are officially known as the Black Wolf and Gold Needle groups, although more popularly called the Bear group. They are situated three miles east of Kalum Lake, five miles by trail.

Hoar bonded two other properties on the same land and on Matt Allard's claim they have placed the mill, which is to be operated just as soon as weather conditions permit. If this is a success another mill or two will be taken in this summer.

Mr. Olander and his associates have another valuable property in the same neighborhood, the Mother Lode. It is a silver-gold proposition. On it they find high grade native and ruby silver and grey copper, some of them giving enormous returns.

Another property that is being worked in the neighborhood is the Blue Grouse, seven miles from Cedar River bridge. It is a silver-lead ore. It is owned by August Wickstrom, who has two men sinking a shaft on it. There have been good showings there so far.

DISTRESS CASE IS DISCUSSED COUNCIL

Ald. Perry and Ald. Montgomery Agree that Richards is Poor Character

The case of Mrs. Richards, Fifth Avenue East, who, it was reported, has been deserted by her husband and left without means with a young son and a baby, aged three or four months, was given a full hearing at last night's council meeting. It was brought up by George Casey who said that he was desirous that it should be fully investigated. The Elks had been parading their generosity and had, he believed, collected money especially for this case. However, Mrs. Richards had seen little of it and the assistance given had been little. The baby was sick and liable to die and it was impossible for the mother to give it proper care and earn a living at the same time.

Declaring that his recent appearance in the United States courts to answer to charges of indecent assault on young girls, was the outcome of a blackmailing frame-up, Tex Rickard, famous fight promoter, says that he knows pretty well who the conspirators were and that, although it may take time, he will eventually show them up. Rickard declares that he was asked for $50,000 by the ring but he refused to pay it and spent $150,000 beating the fate with which they threatened him. The ring threatened to expose the saloon-keeping and gambling part of his past but Rickard went on the stand voluntarily and related his career from start to finish. The gang selected the "two little girls game" as their weapon and attempted to collect the $50,000 from him. Rickard says he has the names of four men and has the affidavit of one who got "cold feet" and is willing to turn state's evidence.

WILL MEET COVEY FOR WORLD'S TITLE

Walter Kinsella, recognized American professional court tennis champion, has received definite word of the acceptance of his challenge for a match for the world's title by George Covey of England. The latter has been world champion for a dozen or more years. The match is to be held in London, commencing on May 16. Kinsella is to begin preparations for the event at once. The picture shows the American champion, Walter Kinsella.

ALBANIAN WOMEN GIVE UP TROUSERS

Many of Them Now Wear Smart Dresses Like Other Europeans

IRAXA, Albania, April 19.—Trousers as the national costume for Albanian women are to disappear within the next generation. The Mohammedan mothers have decreed this after seeing the smart, comfortable and sensible dresses worn by members of the American Red Cross mission here.

Immediately after arriving in Tirana the American nurses turned their attention to the proper clothing of the destitute poor, especially the young girls, whom they supplied with dresses, petticoats and shoes in place of their baggy trousers of calico, coats of sheepskin and crude moccasins.

The girls and their mothers were so delighted with the change that this mode of attire has become general and is now spreading throughout the rest of the country, displacing the Turkish style which has been in vogue five centuries.

WILL DEFEND HIS TITLE AGAINST AMERICAN CHAMPION.

George A. Covey, holder of the world's professional indoor tennis championship, has accepted the challenge of Walter Kinsella, American titleholder, to play for the coveted honors in London. Covey has been the holder of the title for the past twelve years, and during that time has lost but few matches. Kinsella is already making preparations for the series of tilts which will commence on May 16.

CHITCHERIN IS ERRATIC

Russian Delegate to Genoa Sleeps Little and Forgets To Eat.

GENOA, April 19.—The fact that the human machine requires sleep is one of life's tragedies to George V. Chitcherin, Soviet Foreign Affairs minister and Russian delegate to the economic conference. Sleep is also a tragedy to those who have to do business with him.

The best hour to have an interview with Chitcherin is between midnight and 8 a.m. The only hours he devotes to rest are between 8 a.m. and noonday. The remainder he spends in work, with short 15-minute to half-hour rest intervals when he goes to his bachelor room adjoining his offices and lies down possibly for a few minutes.

Hard on Clerks.

His clerks have a hard time of it as they can not adjust their hours to his. They are permitted to work 24 hours at a stretch and then have liberty for two days.

Chitcherin is always on the job except for the four hours mentioned. He has stated that he grows older he hopes to eliminate these sleeping hours. He looks well, is round-faced, and but for red eyelids shows no signs of his sleeplessness.

Food is also a material difficulty with which Chitcherin battles. He gets so absorbed in his work that he frequently forgets to eat, and when reminded that he must, he takes but a few bits of bread and butter. Sometimes he is indisposed and his doctor invariably finds that it is through lack of eating. When asked if he has eaten anything, Chitcherin is unable to remember.

WOMEN may have their troubles but they do not have to have as often as men.

THERE are a lot of people who rave about the iniquitous economic system whose back yard indicates clearly it is the industrial system that is wrong.
