UNSETTLED CONDITION

The publishing of the details of the treaties formulated at the Empire Conference at Ottawa will have little effect upon world conditions until after the presidential election obtained on exchange, much closer is settled in the United States. The election is always a disturbing factor and when conditions are good tends to make business conditions quiet on this continent. Once the election is over people will again devote their attention to business.

Conditions in Canada are tied up with those in the United States to such an extent that what affects one country always affects the other. The fish market that is so vital to Prince Rupert is only one of many factors in the international situation. With greater activity and stability on the other side of the boundary we can expect better conditions here.

PLAIN TALK

There was some plain talk at the meeting of the city council this week which should have a beneficial effect. There is nothing to be gained by pussyfooting on the matter of relief or of finance. We have to meet conditions as they stand and not as we should like them to be. Whoever takes charge of city affairs next year will have a big job on hand. He will need be a man of ability, of integrity and courage. He is bound to meet with opposition in any policy Funeral Service he may evolve. One of the qualities most desirable for a mayor next year will be the ability to say "no," say it plainly and stick to it.

Foreign exchange was a system. SENATOR'S ternational debts were settled. Be fore the war there was a system in vogue under which the exchange was easily calculated. It was based on the amount of gold in the currency of the nations. English, Turkish, Egyptian and the currency of several other nations was 916 2-3 02 fine, and transactions were based 25 on it. United States currency was 15 also definitely valued and the Eng-40 lish pound was worth $4.86 2-3 in our currency. If exchange were at par it was not possible to get quite the value of the pound in Canada as the cost of sending the gold to England had to be considered. The cost of shipping gold was about two cents on the pound sterling. This calculation of gold points kept the Friday, October 14, 1932 exchange within well-defined lim-
