CROP REPORT IS FAVORABLE

Rains on Prairies Have Improved Conditions; No Rust Yet

WINNIPEG, July 22 (Canadian Press).—Fine clear weather has been experienced during the past week over the three prairie provinces. Crops are making rapid progress with no rust indications and present weather conditions are unfavorable to this menace. Rye is proving a good crop and cutting is already in progress in some districts and it is expected will be fairly general within a week. Southern portions of the three prairie provinces give promise of a heavy yield in all grains. Other sections promise more than average with the exception of areas west and southwest of Saskatoon and along lines north of Edmonton, according to the crop report issued by the agricultural department, Canadian Pacific Railway.

Promise Good Yield.

All crops are making good progress in Manitoba, the report shows. Wheat heads are full and fairly long, giving promise of good yield. With ripening weather harvesting should begin the first week in August. Pastures are generally luxuriant and all livestock is doing well.

With the exception of the district west of Saskatoon to Hardisty and the Lanigan line south of Cupar, crops in Saskatchewan are good to excellent. Continued dry weather is causing anxiety in the districts mentioned. Fall and spring rye indicate a fine yield. Crops in the greater portion of the province promise well.

Cutting Begun.

Wheat is heading out rapidly. Cutting of winter rye has begun in some districts of Alberta but it is expected that considerable of this crop will be retained for stock feeding. Present indications are that grain and hay crops will prove better in the south than in central and northern parts where rains have been irregular.

In the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia railway districts showers have occurred at some points. Heavy rainfalls are needed, however, over the entire district. The crop outlook is better but yields will prove short of earlier expectations owing to delayed rains.

BODY OF KISPIOX SETTLER IS FOUND

Nels Green's Remains Found Five Miles From Scene of Accident

HAZELTON, July 22.—Following a diligent search conducted since the accident which resulted in his death by drowning in the Skeena river early last month, the body of Nels Green, the Kispiox rancher, was found last week on a sand bar located about five miles from the point where the accident occurred. The body was discovered by an Indian and the police here were notified. Examination of the body brought out nothing that would indicate anything but an accident while attempting to cross the flooded Skeena to his ranch, and interment was ordered. The deceased was one of the earliest settlers in the Kispiox valley, and by hard work that was always stimulated by confidence in a great future for that district was reaching a point where his hopes were being realized when he lost his life.
