Rebel Strikers Fired into Scottish Troops Killing 18; Reinforcements Quell Turmoil

JOHANNESBURG, March 13.—A Scottish detachment of troops was ambushed at Benoni Saturday by strikers hidden in a plantation. The strikers suddenly poured a heavy fire into the soldiers, killing 18 and wounding 25. Most of the soldiers were ex-service men.

PRETORIA, March 13.—Airlanes have twice dropped bombs on the revolutionary commands, inflicting severe casualties. A large number of strikers were killed or injured in an attack against cavalry at Ellis Park.

The revolutionaries are still very active and have been burning houses at several points in retaliation against the bombings.

One hundred and thirty men of the Imperial Light Horse repelled an attack of strikers in which many of the latter were killed. Five soldiers were killed and fifteen wounded. The forces at the disposal of the government are now formidable.

LONDON, March 13.—An agency despatch from Johannesburg this afternoon says that "through the capture of spies and documents it is learned that money for the red revolution came from abroad. It is expected that peace will soon be restored."

PRETORIA, March 13.—According to an official government statement, the crown forces are proceeding with great success against the revolutionists. The total number taken so far in operations in the central areas has been 2200. In the western area the government forces have reached Krugersdorp, 22 miles northwest of Johannesburg, and are pushing eastward. Heavy casualties have been inflicted upon the revolutionists besides the 2200 who have been captured.

Provincial Government Roadway at Cow Bay is Open For Traffic Today

Traffic is today being turned on the new provincial government roadway at Cow Bay connecting up Third Avenue East with outer Cow Bay, the dry dock, Imperial Oil works and other places on the waterfront between Cow Bay and the dry dock. The grading on this portion of the work is all finished and it has been surfaced with Metlakatla gravel. Later there will be another surfacing put on, but whether Smith Island rock, as was originally planned, will be used or not is yet to be decided. As it is the roadway is very good at present and should immediately become a great boon to business people and fishermen using it for traffic.

The road now opened leads from Third Avenue to outer Cow Bay, passing by span over inner Cow Bay and over the railway tracks by level crossing. It is 700 feet long and 26 feet in width. A feature of the bridge across Cow Bay is that the planks have been turned end up, making for much greater durability.

Up to date the cost of the work has been $6500. P. W. Anderson was in charge for the government and James Smith was foreman.

The building of this particular road does not, however, complete the work that is to be carried out immediately by the government in the vicinity of Cow Bay and Waterfront Block F. The tearing out of the ramp leading east from Manson Way and back of Akersberg & Thomson's and Albert & McGaffery's establishments is to commence at once, followed by the continuation of the road between the tracks and wharves on the water side of the bluff to Akersberg & Thomson's wharf.

The ultimate object of the improvements is to build this waterfront road at wharf level right from the Cow Bay level crossing to McBride Street, but the money available at present is only for completion to Akersberg & Thomson's. The plan will also provide for the tearing down of the western ramp leading to the provincial government wharf.

Great Convenience.

When the entire plan is carried out all the provincial government waterfront will be connected with the city by way of Third Avenue. It will make the property more accessible and more useful to the city besides increasing the revenue derived therefrom by the provincial government.

The bringing of the whole project to completion, including the surfacing of the present roadway and the putting in of the water main, will cost the provincial government somewhere in the vicinity of $9000.

The benefit from the improvement, the importance of which may not be fully realized, will be derived not only by the provincial government but by the different owners and businesses in the vicinity of Cow Bay generally. It will be one of the best pieces of work that has yet been executed along the local waterfront.

Has Cost $6500.
