ATTORNEY GENERAL
REVIEWS POLITICAL SITUATION OF TODAY

tion dollars had been spent and the bonds had an accelerated clause which made them come due immediately should the work close down. There was no money in the treasury and the province had no credit. He was doubtful too if the people would have supported a closing down policy at that time. The cost of completing the road had been much higher than they expected, due largely to the extreme post-war prices.

The consolation was that in all their difficulties never once was there a suggestion that John Oliver was dishonest in his administration of the affairs of the railway. To meet the situation they had called for the advice of the presidents of the C.P.R. and the C.N.R. and this had been received. A joint letter from the two presidents suggested the employment of one of three eminent engineers.

With this engineer Mr. Rogers of the Natural Resources department of the C. P. R. would report. He thought this was a business course to adopt. He was not without hope for the P.G.E. The grades and the country to the south were certainly bad but further north there was a fine country. The steel for the completion of the line to Prince George was bought and paid for and they began to see some daylight. If the line was extended to the Peace River country a lot of tonnage would be developed and he hoped a lot of it would come here.

May Relinquish Portfolios.

Mr. Manson compared the administration of British Columbia with that of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Here the resources were very diverse and difficult of access. The premier had been criticized for remaining at Victoria instead of getting out into the outlying parts of the province and he, the speaker, would not be surprised to hear that in the near future the Premier had relinquished his two portfolios to other members of the cabinet so as to be free to get around and attend to the general business of the province.

There was little more to say of the Victoria gathering except that it has been inspiring and the men who attended were in downright earnest.

In regard to the former attorney general, whom he had succeeded, Mr. Manson said Mr. Farris was personally beyond reproach. Unfortunately from a big centre of population he had been beset with self-seeking individuals and his lot had been extremely hard. His own ease was different for he was fortunate in coming from the green fields of Omineca where he had got the confidence of the farmers. A representative was very much what the people made him. He realized that good men had gone before and had fallen by the wayside.

Liquor Administration.

The liquor administration had been mentioned as a difficult problem. The people had voted for a moderation law and he intended to administer the law fairly and fearlessly. The Liberal party was not down in the dumps as had been suggested by their opponents. The people were not ready to take Mr. Bowser in place of the present administration. Mr. Bowser had announced that he, the speaker, would be opposed in Omineca. If there was an opponent he could promise him he would be beaten by the largest majority on record. Dr. Sutherland was a good man and had the confidence of the people of Revelstoke. Nelson also would go Liberal and in Cranbrook Dr. King had left a good trail behind him. He was not sure but they would also carry Vancouver. The independent members had promised to vote for the Government in time of need.

Rare Opportunity.

Mr. Manson said the present was a rare opportunity for the north. The fates had been against them up to the present but now it looked as if progress would be made. He believed the Mackenzie King Government would be true to the vision of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and with a friendly Government in power at Victoria they were in a happy position indeed. By co-operating with Fred Stork and others they should be able to see the development of the country.

Mr. Manson concluded with a reference to the people and friends of the north country and his desire to serve the whole district.

LOTS OF FUN
AT CARNIVAL

I. O. D. E. Guarantee Is That All Will Get Their Money's Worth.

That all who attend the Midwinter Carnival of the Adair Carss Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters, to be held tonight in the St. Andrew's Hall, will get their money's worth in fun and entertainment is the guarantee which is given by the committee in charge. Long and painstaking efforts on the part of this committee will result, it is expected, in one of the biggest entertainments ever staged in Prince Rupert. The money raised will go towards charitable objects and relief of war veterans, their dependents, and others who will get the first call. The result will be of general benefit to the city and those who attend the carnival will have the satisfaction of knowing that they will be instrumental in providing happiness for others while they receive a good measure of it themselves in doing so. The event will be worthy of all the patronage which it is possible to give.

The program will present many special attractions and many of them along altogether different lines from those which Prince Rupert people have heretofore enjoyed. There will be something of interest for everyone and the list of fun includes whist drives, refreshments, side-shows, raffles and many other things. There will also be specialties for both men and women. On entering each person will pay a dollar and will be supplied with checks which may be used at any or all of the entertainments or side-shows. If the dollar does not suffice and runs out there will be more available at the door in twenty-five cent lots.

BUILDING WILL SOON IMPROVE

That is Opinion of Fred Stork, Who Says Builders' Supplies Are Coming Down.

That the price of building hardware is coming down and is approaching pre-war level, is the opinion of Fred Stork, who at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday in the course of a short talk on the hardware business told of the condition. Building should go ahead pretty soon, Mr. Stork thought. While hardware was down, however, there had been little reduction in the price of plumbing supplies because there was practically only one manufacturer in Canada and he was protected by a high tariff.

Mr. Stork commenced by saying that we were all more or less creatures of circumstance. He was a hardware merchant because in his youth he had left school early and the only position opening was in a hardware store. His father and brother had been druggists.

Many prominent people had been hardware men, Mr. Stork said. He pointed to James Ashdown of Winnipeg and the Ross brothers of Edmonton as examples. John Bunyan had been a hardware man. Hardware goods did not depreciate like other goods. Nails were always worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

Absence of Wholesale.

Mr. Stork then explained why there was no wholesale hardware merchant in the city. Very large stocks had to be carried and expensive catalogues had to be printed. One of the catalogues just got out by a Vancouver firm cost $10,000, and one of the wholesale houses there carried a stock valued at three-quarters of a million dollars.

Because of this absence of a wholesale establishment Prince Rupert hardware shops were February 3, 1912.

The Hospital Board has chosen the following officers and committees for the year: President, D. G. Stewart; vice president, O. H. Nelson; managing secretary, W. H. Wright; executive committee, O. H. Nelson, C. V. Bennett, and J. H. Thompson; finance committee, P. L. Palmer, J. A. Kirkpatrick and Ald. Clayton. The proposal to build a $10,000 wing is now under advisement.

The Bethany Girls of the Presbyterian Church repeated their performance of "Broozy Point" in the Empress Theatre last night. The proceeds are going towards the furnishing of a ward at the Hospital.

The Liberal Association, in annual session, last night elected the following officers: Honorary president, Sir Wilfrid Laurier; honorary vice president, Duncan Ross; president, Dr. W. T. Kerrigan; vice president, A. M. Manson; second vice president, H. C. Campbell; secretary-treasurer, P. W. Anderson; executive committee, A. J. Morris, Fred Stork, F. G. Dawson, G. R. Naden, F. H. Mobley, L. W. Palmore, C. V. Bennett, J. J. Sloan, H. F. McRae, T. McClymont, John Carrie, J. W. Morgan, Dr. W. S. Hall, W. H. Morrison and T. Trotter.

ALBERTA CATTLE.

EDMONTON, Feb. 3.—Nearly 2,000 cattle were shipped from the local stockyards during 1921 to overseas ports and this has been of considerable assistance in making competition for the particular type of steer known as export. Many shipments were also made to United States markets, including St. Paul and Chicago. Stockers and feeders handled in the yards went principally back to Alberta farms.

A SURE SIGN.

The best proof we have really better equipped than in most cities. It was impossible to send out for goods, so a large stock had to be kept on hand.

The speaker said he looked forward to an increased sale of building materials here consequent on a resumption of building. J. G. Steen gave an interesting talk to the club members on "Growth."

A MAN wants to bet me that there won't be a woman ready to go to any of the events this evening before her husband. I hate to lose.

IF men got all they deserved there would not be prisons enough to hold them all.

THERE was once a dance where the music started on time, but that was years and years and years ago.

ACCORDING to popular tradition every man has a right to live and live fast. Then there are the women too.

SUCH a lot of people have had colds, but one never hears of the men who get real good colds.

AN optimist is a man who looks on a cold as a blessing.

I SHOULD strongly advise all who wish to live long to take daily exercise and moderate their diet. But by what subtle course of reasoning could you prove it desirable that most of us here should live long lives.

THE three letters of the alphabet most men wish to forget are L.O.U.

SAY, by the by, how many new year resolutions have you kept?

THE man who sees shocking things on the street is the man who is out looking for temptation.

ONE of my casual acquaintances says he does not like writing letters to the editor but he would very much like to let him know that he considers the Chinese very highly civilized. The Chinaman, he says, never lets his wife get out of hand.

THE latest union to be formed is the international order of bipithecolit friends.

I THINK I would buy some fire insurance if I thought it would take me to a warmer climate when I migrate from this mortal region.

Do you realise the risk you run riding in a crowded train or street-car without a Peps tablet in your mouth? Every sneeze, every cough, fills the air you breathe with countless disease-germs that immediately make for any weak spot in your throat and chest. Be wise, always carry Peps, and occasionally let one of these germ-killing tablets dissolve in your mouth to ward off the infection. Then you will not be "full of cold" on the morrow, with the possibility of influenza, pleurisy or pneumonia supervening. Just as you breathe in the germs that cause infectious throat and lung ailments, etc., so you must breathe in the soothing germicidal Peps medicine to rout out the germs before they can cause serious trouble. Free from harmful drugs, Peps are the safest and best remedy for sudden colds and chills, grippe, sore throat, laryngitis, night-cough, hoarseness, wheeziness, bronchitis and chest weakness in old and young.
