

"Oh! My Back"

HOUSE cleaning is bad enough at any time. There is so much dust and dirt and turmoil. But it is usually the exposure to cold drafts and the stretching and straining that bring calamitous results. The kidneys are extremely sensitive to currents of cold air, and you are very likely to find this out suddenly when stretching or straining the muscles of the back. Suddenly the pain seizes you, and there is of necessity a lull in the house-cleaning activities for a time. There is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for kidney troubles of any kind. Not only on account of their direct action on the kidneys, but also because they arouse the activity of the liver and bowels as well, and thereby relieve the kidneys of much of their work. Another thing about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, you do not have to wait long for results. In a day or two you will obtain great relief, and a few weeks' treatment will usually overcome complicated derangements of the kidneys which have defied ordinary kidney medicines. Mrs. Wm. H. Comeau, Plympton, N.S., writes: "I had been suffering from lame back, and had taken medicine for some time, but nothing helped me until I started to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These pills completely relieved me in a few weeks, and I have never been bothered with lame back since." PROTESTS TREATMENT BY TURK SOLDIERS OF THE CHRISTIANS

ADANA, TURKEY, May 2.—Hamid Bey, who has been governor of Cilicia, the Southern Turkish province, since its evacuation by the French troops, has just resigned his post as a protest against the manner in which the soldiers of Kemal Pasha have treated the Christian population. It has been charged that officers of the Turkish Nationalist army and Turks who have no respect for law have been roaming the cities and towns of Cilicia molesting women and children and committing various crimes. They are alleged to have extorted loans from the frightened Christians without intention of ever repaying them. When Governor Hamid protested, Kemal Pasha is reported to have replied only: "This is war."

Before leaving Adana, Hamid Bey declared in an interview that he was disgusted with the attitude and behavior of the military authorities who, he said, considered the promises given to France to protect the Armenians as a scrap of paper. After recalling the heavy sacrifices of the Turkish territory as a consequence of the war, he added: "To Win Goodwill"

"We Turks must first learn to respect the rights of minorities if we are to win the goodwill of nations. France and England would never be willing to restore to us Asia Minor unless we prove to them our capacity for good and just government."

Loading Armenians here assert that, despite signed pledges and proclamations, Kemal Pasha ordered that all Greek Christians and Armenians be dismissed from all administrative posts. This threw hundreds of Christians out of employment and left their families without means of support, so that they must look to charity for subsistence. Armenians charged also that, in the last few months, thousands of Turks have invaded Cilicia and helped themselves to any vacant or unprotected property belonging to Christians without compensation.

WERE MARRIED IN CLOUDS OVER CITY OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 3.—A nuptial kiss planted 5,000 feet in the clouds above Times square, was broadcasted from the cockpit of a speeding airplane to the ears of thousands of radio fans, when Miss Sarah Gokelair and Albert P. Schaske became bride and groom. Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard, the "flying parson," performed the ceremony. Lieut. Bert Acosta piloted the party in a Fokker half-moon biplane, and at the appropriate moment affixed his signature to the marriage document, then turned his back on the bridal kiss. Each detail of the ceremony, except the blush, was transmitted to radio fans by apparatus on the plane.

RARE INSTANCE OF DISPLACEMENT OF WOMAN'S HEART

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., May 3. A rare instance of anatomical displacement was disclosed by an X-ray photograph here recently which showed the heart of Mrs. D. R. Latreille, of this city, on the opposite side to that where normal people keep the seat of their affections. While this is a rare thing, local physicians state that occasionally the heart is displaced by some affection of the lungs and cases have been known in which the heart was situated on the right side and the appendix on the left in persons who seemed otherwise quite normal. Mrs. Latreille states she has never felt the slightest inconvenience from her abnormal condition, and though she has a family of children she does not think that any of them have inherited the peculiarity. Mrs. Latreille brought a strong protest from one of her school-age children not long ago when she placed her hand upon her right side when complaining of a heart-pain. "Why, mother," exclaimed the child, "you ought to be old enough to know where your heart is." Early, however, the X-ray in a local hospital revealed that mother was quite correct.

When he feels the urge to go fishing, the boy knows it is spring. So long as that thought arises in the mind of man so long does he retain the vitality of youth. The man who no longer feels a yearning to start for the stream should consult the family physician and put his business affairs in order. Fishing is more than a sport; it is a season of philosophic reflection. The successful angler has to be philosophical. Of course a fisherman wants to catch fish but one endowed with the real spirit will find pleasure in having gone fishing even though he comes home with the creel empty. However, he will not be so happy as he would be were it full. There is an indescribable thrill in the feel of the strike when the fish takes hold as if he means business. The period which elapses between the first consciousness that something is doing and the time the fish is landed safely is one of intense joyous life. It is a mixture of hope and fear, hope for the successful outcome and fear of failure. It is true that a game fish at the end of the line can make more fuss than its size after it is out of the water would seem to warrant. That is the reason "the biggest ones get away."

Several thousand light harness horses located at several hundred half mile race tracks from Sydney in Cape Breton to Vancouver in British Columbia are now being trained and fitted for the racing campaign of 1922 throughout Canada. The last of the sales of the past winter and spring have been held, the stables are complete and entries have already closed for many of the stakes and early closing events. All that remains is for the trainers to "separate the chaff from the wheat" in their strings and get those which look as if they will prove profitable racing material ready for the campaign.

Golf in Canada is going to have a greater play during the season at hand than ever before in its history. Some cities report that the number of players will nearly double that of last year. The dates for the Canadian championships have all been announced. The Canadian Amateur will be held over the beautiful Ancaster course at Hamilton during the week of June 19. The Canadian Open will be at Mount Bruno Club, Montreal, July 28 and 29. Toronto will be the Mecca for women golfers. The first week in June, the Ontario championship will be decided over the links of the Rosedale Club, the open championship will be staged at the Toronto Club the week of September 11, followed the week of September 18 by the closed or Canadian championship at Lambton. The Canadian professionals' championship will likely be held just previous to the Canadian open. Davie Black of Vancouver, three champion is going east to defend his title. METHODIST DEBT PAID

Interesting Announcement Made at Annual Board Meeting Last Night.

HACKER ACCEPTS INVITATION TO REMAIN

That the local Methodist church is entirely free of debt is the interesting announcement that was made at the annual meeting of the official board which took place last night in church parlors. The liability of $2,000 of the local congregation has been covered by revenue received last year and the pending debt of $7,000 has been taken over by the Mission and thus bringing the church from under. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one and nearly every member was present. The treasurer's report was gratifying, over $5,300 having been raised during the past year. The Ways and Means committee had handed in over $10,000, thus making possible the paying of the church debt. A vote of thanks was tendered to the committee and also one to W. F. Kergin for his liberal contribution.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY RAISES NEARLY $9000

The Ladies' Aid Society has raised nearly $9000, which has been used for the church and parsonage work. The board expressed appreciation of the work of the Ladies' Aid. Six hundred dollars had been raised for missions, charities and similar funds, half of this amount having come from the women's Missionary Society. The balance of the revenue obtained from the regular meetings, choir concerts and banquets and was expended on the regular church work and the enlarging of the parsonage.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

The Sunday School, under the supervision of Frank Derry, reported an increase in attendance over last year of nearly 50 per cent. Twenty-one weddings during the year testified to the fact that the old bow and arrow method is still leading an active life. In motion of E. V. Ling, seconded by Dr. W. T. Kergin, the pastor, Rev. G. G. Harker, was heartily endorsed, including an appreciation of and Mrs. Harker's work among the young people. The resolution was carried unanimously. Mr. Harker was invited to return for another year and, accepting the invitation, sincerely thanked the board members for their support saying that unity and enthusiasm had really helped him. A short vacation has been arranged for the following his trip south.

A Busy Week

The present week will be a busy one in the church. The annual Sunday School meeting will be held tonight while on Friday night the Sunday School holds an indoor picnic when added to a children's concert, the May Queen will be crowned and the Trail Rangers, who have won medals, will be presented with their jewelry. On Sunday night a special Thanksgiving service will be held to celebrate the event of the church being free of debt.
