TIMBER SALE X3707.
 Sealed tenders will be received by the Minister of Lands at Victoria, not later than noon on the 8th day of June, 1922, for the purchase of Licence X3707, to cut 1,500,000 feet of Spruce, Cedar, Hemlock and Balsam, situated on an area on the East Arm of Drayney Inlet, Range 2, Coast Land District.
 Two (2) years will be allowed for removal of timber.

Minister Of Lands Tells Of Many Matters Taken up By Him in Eastern Canada

"When in Ottawa I took up a variety of questions with the various departments," said Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, yesterday on his return from the east. "The Indian Reserve question has been outstanding for a long time and we are desirous of getting it finally adjusted. Specific reference was made to the Kilsilano Reserve, Vancouver, and the Songhees Reserve, Victoria. The Department of Interior and the Marine Department assured me that these matters would be pursued without delay."

"I discussed tentatively the matter of Park administration. Some time ago arrangements were made with the Dominion Government to administer the Banff-Windermere Park in British Columbia. The Mount Robson Park adjacent to the Jasper Park on the Canadian National, is wonderfully attractive and properly developed will be the rendezvous of thousands of tourists. While no definite arrangements have been made I discussed the question of administration at Ottawa. I think that with the Dominion and the province co-operating much more effective work can be done in the development of the park. This will be advantageous to British Columbia in general and to Northern B. C. in particular."

"I also advised Ottawa in considering the claims of the Prairie Provinces for the return of their natural resources, that British Columbia expected consideration of its claim for the return of the 'Railway Belt' and the 'Peace River Block.'"
Timber Business.
 "I took up with the Marine Department the desirability of the Canadian Merchant Marine continuing to be available for transportation of British Columbia lumber to various parts of the world. It is of vital importance that shipping should be available for British Columbia timber products. Speaking of timber products it may surprise the people of B. C. that the largest single market for B. C. products at the present time is the Province of Ontario. The province of B. C. maintains a trade extension office on Yonge St., Toronto, and it is doing excellent work in making known the uses of B. C. timber."

Building in Toronto this year in April was double that of last year. The Toronto office with the assistance of the timber industry itself is being fitted up with B. C. timber. While I was there a number of people called who stated that architects had specified B. C. timber for certain purposes and as they were not familiar with the B. C. product they desired to see samples. This educational work is, I know appreciated by the industry.
Question of Immigration.
 I also discussed with Ottawa the question of immigration. The Minister of Interior proposed to call a conference of Dominion and Provincial representatives in order to bring about a co-ordination and co-operation of effort that there may be no overlapping. I assured the Minister that B. C. was only too anxious to co-operate and suggested to the Minister that wherever immigration work was undertaken, provincial representatives, nominees of the Provincial Government, should be taken into the Dominion service in order that reliable and first hand information might be available in the work. For example it can hardly be expected that a man from the maritime provinces would know much of B. C., and it seems obvious that some one familiar with each province should be available to carry on the work. I found a considerable divergence of opinion in the East upon the immigration question. There are a number of people who do not want any further influx of people to the country at the present time. There are others again who are in favor of a restricted measure of immigration and there are some who are in favor of a rather wide open policy.

Favors Selection.
 There are no doubt many angles to the problem and while I am personally in favor of a selective measure of immigrants I do not think it feasible to carry out a policy which will insure a reasonable number of settlers coming into the country upon such restricted basis as a number of people who have given the matter consideration would impose. If we confine immigration solely to those who are already familiar with farming operations and who have plenty of money to carry themselves through, we will not get many people into the country.
No Spoon Feeding.
 Everyone admits that we have tremendous potential resources but it takes people to develop them. Many are afraid that the new comers will flock to the cities and will have to be spoon fed. This is a natural inference from the fact that a large number of people who are already here have been flocking to the cities and have given indication that they expect the government to work out a solution. People have got to come to a realization that the way of easy money is over and that only by work and perseverance can progress be made. There is no royal road to development of our resources any more than there is to learning. Necessity is the mother of invention and difficulties are themselves a spur to their own solution. A careful selection of healthy immigrants in reasonable numbers should not meet with any insuperable difficulty in assimilation. Canada is bound to be a country composed of people of various extractions. In the city of Prince Rupert we have a cosmopolitan population. I venture to say that many of our citizens had nothing when they came here, yet they have rendered a valuable service in helping to build up this city and at the same time they have worked out for themselves a comfortable position in the life of the community. There is no reason why we should not continue to absorb the virile healthy people of many nationalities and the time to get them here is when they are young. We cannot expect middle aged men and women to forget the land of nativity. They would be poor citizens of this country who could so soon forget their own, but we can expect that they will be law abiding Canadians and that their children will grow up to be through and through Canadians.
 "While I am aware that business in B. C. is not as buoyant as one could wish, after all, we must consider our position by comparison with other places. In this respect I believe B. C. to be in better shape than any other province in the Dominion. Careful enquiries in well informed circles in the east will convince anyone interested of this. The reason is obvious. The year 1921 was one of serious deflation and B. C. happens to be in the position of not having so much deflating to do as most of the other provinces."

POLICE COMMISSION GETS LETTER FROM ATTORNEY GENERAL

Provincial Government to See That Municipalities Strictly Enforce Liquor Control Act.

A letter from Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney general in connection with the administration of the Liquor Control Act was received by the police commission last night and ordered filed with receipt acknowledged.

"It has come to my attention that there has been a great laxity in many of our municipalities in the enforcement of the Government Liquor Act," said the letter in part. "I am therefore taking this opportunity of calling the attention of the police commissioners of all the municipalities in British Columbia to their obligations in this connection. In the event of any municipality failing to enforce the law, the Liquor Board may, under the Act, take such steps as it deems necessary to properly enforce the provisions of the Act and the amount of costs and expenses necessarily incurred by the Board may be deducted from the monies otherwise payable to the municipality, that is, from the municipality's net share of the liquor profits."

There was some brief discussion on the report, the commissioners remarking that they were glad to see that the Attorney General's department was going to do something to assist the local authorities in enforcing the law.

"My Mirror Told Me"

THE excitement of business emergencies kept me so busy that I did not notice that I was losing out physically, until one day, when looking in a mirror, I suddenly realized my condition. I could see then that I was rapidly approaching a nervous breakdown.

"About that time a friend of mine told me about what a large proportion of life insurance applications were being turned down because of physical disabilities resulting from the tense nervous strain of recent years.

"What was I to do?"

"Well, my wife had noticed me being nervous and worried, and had been at me for some time to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so I decided to give it a try-out.

"During the first week I could not see much improvement, and was getting rather discouraged. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Everything worried me so that I was continually nervous and irritable. But my wife saw to it that I did not miss my regular dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and by the second week I began to sleep better and to feel more cheerful.

"From that time on this restorative treatment seemed to build me right up, and I know now that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food saved me from a nervous breakdown.

"There must be many thousands of men and women in this country who are in just such a serious condition as I was, and who can benefit by my experience."
