Montreal's Board Of Trade To Come Here.
 Word was received here yesterday that the members of the Montreal Board of Trade would visit Prince Rupert and spend some time in the city. This is an influential body, one of the most influential in Canada, and the visit means a great deal. It is an intimation that this route is taking its place on the map. The local Board of Trade will doubtless take cognizance of the visit and try to impress the guests with the importance of our strategic position.

Local Interest In Fishing Industry.
 A few days ago the Daily News failed to publish the record of fish sales for the day, owing to pressure of holiday news. The result was a widespread protest from many readers who follow the sales regularly. To business men the fish sales mean a great deal because high prices mean the payment of outstanding accounts, whereas low prices indicate that no cash will be forthcoming.

We are missing the operation of the saw mill and the result of the continued shutdown is seen in empty houses. Perhaps when it opens up again we shall appreciate it better and shall also be able to realize what it means to the city to have any kind of industry going here. We cannot afford to discourage any industry small or great. Industry is what makes the place prosperous.

Looking Forward To Big Prairie Crop.
 Indications are that there will be a good crop of grain on the prairies generally in spite of the fact that hail has injured or destroyed small sections. The rains of the past week or ten days have proved most beneficial and with favorable harvesting conditions the result should be a bumper crop. The banks are beginning to loan money on it, an indication that they believe there is going to be a good yield.

Have You A Museum?
 Ask Visitors.
 Now that tourists are beginning to take an interest in the city and the railway is co-operating by keeping them here long enough to allow them to see the place, the question of initiating a movement for a museum might well be considered. A science and art society is needed to foster local scientific investigation and to gather specimens of scientific interest and preserve scientific and historic data. In addition to this and in conjunction with it might go the collecting of pictures or other art works with a view to some day establishing an art gallery here in connection with the museum.

At Victoria the Government has a fine museum which is the mecca of all tourists. In Vancouver they have such an institution in connection with the public library. In some of the Alaska towns they have small museums where Indian and other specimens are gathered and can be seen by visitors.
 In this city there are societies for the encouragement of the study of music and literature, but so far no one has taken up the scientific, historical and art study collectively with a view to making it permanently of benefit to the place. If there were an organization to take care of specimens, there would be no difficulty in securing them from time to time. The city already has a few but has no place to put them.
 It needs energy and time to organize a society and keep it going, but there must be some few people here who would welcome the opportunity to join such an organization if the lead were taken by someone with organizing ability and with time to devote to it.

For Baby's
 Woollens

The little woolly garments for Baby must be kept soft or they will irritate the tender skin. Washed in Lux suds, Baby's woollens will keep beautifully soft and fluffy. The thin satin-like flakes of Lux are made by our own exclusive process, and dissolve instantly into a lather as harmless as pure water itself.

Just dip Baby's clothes into a bowlful of the rich Lux suds—rinse them, squeeze out the surplus water and hang to dry.

There is nothing like Lux. Sold only in sealed packets—dust-proof!

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

THE way to eliminate Orientals from industries is to stop employing them.

A LOT of local lads seem to have "fallen for" the girl tourists. Or should it be "risen to,"
 "risen to."

IF the visitors were appreciated locally, they also appreciated Prince Rupert. Honors are even.

THERE are a lot of people in town who might enter the baby show but they would scarcely take a prize.

THE coming of the Montreal Board of Trade will overshadow some of these little visits from small town people.

FOR Montreal businessmen to acknowledge that there was a northern route was a great concession, but to travel on it!
 Surely something is happening.

WHAT about a "city beautiful campaign" here?

THERE was a man fishing at Khatada the other day and the big trout got away with the hook, line and rod. A week later another Prince Rupert esteemed citizen was fishing in the same lake and he hooked a whopper and thought he saw something trailing behind that looked like a rod and line. On pulling the fish out, it was found not to be the one that had carried off the tackle the previous week.

IF hags should ever come back in vogue, how would people know how to properly and artistically place the foot on the brass rail as they called for another of the same.

THE latest organization to be formed is an anti-wireless league. It is formed among those who believe that wife is hearing too much.

IN the latest dictionaries "Jiggs" will be given as a synonym for pome beef and cabbage. To illustrate: Take your order, sir? "Yes, bring me some Jiggs."

SOME of the men in Prince Rupert are today suffering with enlargement of the cranium.
 The lady visitors told them they had never seen such handsome men as there were in Prince Rupert.

IT is to be expected that there will be an influx of ladies from the east if the news gets bruited around.

Persistent advertising is absolutely necessary to succeed.

MANY UNABLE READ OR WRITE

So Said J. Pinder-Moss in Address to Rotary Club Yesterday

URGES NIGHT SCHOOLS

Asks Aid of Rotary Club in Getting Technical Institute Started

According to the census returns of 1911 there were at that time 9,000 people in the Comox Athin electoral district who were unable to read or write. Of these 2753 were foreign born, 121 British born and 2137 were Canadian born.

In 1921 figures are not yet available. It was to remedy this condition that the district needed night schools and continuation classes, stated J. Pinder-Moss at the Rotary Club meeting yesterday. Other reasons for establishing night and continuation classes throughout the district would be for the purpose of aiding those who so wished to study and develop in their particular lines of work and also to give opportunities of studying cultural subjects.

Growth at Edmonton.
 Mr. Pinder-Moss who organized the Anyox Polytechnic Institute and also helped to start the technical school in Edmonton told of the growth of the work in the former city. In Edmonton the technical institute had started with about twelve students and today there were over 700.
 In his own department when he left to come to Anyox, he had five hundred under him. The idea grew by leaps and bounds.
 Students stood four deep in order to register in the night classes.

At Anyox the members were charged five dollars for one class, eight dollars for two and eleven dollars for three subjects.

Cost to Rupert.
 Under the scheme which he proposed, the cost of the scheme to Prince Rupert would be about $2700 for the first year and rather less for subsequent years. The classes would have to do with the basic industries.

Asks Rotary Aid.
 Mr. Pinder-Moss appealed to the members of the Rotary Club to help on the technical education and night school movement.
 They could give it their individual encouragement, could lend the use of their plants for the conduct of classes and could encourage employees to attend classes.

While there had been opposition from the Trades and Labor Council in Edmonton at first, that body had finally come over to the idea and had insisted on the technical course in typographical and machinists work and the production of certificates from the school.

Great Future.
 There was a great future ahead for this city, the speaker said. Everyone knew that. All they had to do was to study the map in order to see that Prince Rupert was destined to be a great town. In the development of the resources of the district however, he urged that men trained at home should be used as far as possible. His scheme for a system of federated night schools would be the cheapest and best method of dealing with the education question for those not in school. The scheme was based on the system in vogue in connection with the South Kensington Institute.

SOCKEYE FISHING ON SKEENA CONTINUES
 SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Sockeye salmon fishing on the Skeena River continues to gradually improve. The average for boats on the outside was reported on Wednesday to be 30. On Thursday, 34.

Definite figures for the Neas during the past few days have not been received but it is understood the good start already made there is being maintained.

C. J. Fletcher, of Vancouver, secretary of the B. C. Medical Association, returned south last night after having visited Prince Rupert and Anyox. He intends to come north again later in the year to continue organization work visiting points in the interior.
