The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

THE fact that Vancouver has a quarter of a million population as claimed by the Vancouver Sun does not prevent the Sun being extremely silly.

EXCESS of population does not seem to create brain power and business sense else some Vancouver man might have got the railway directorate.

HARRY LIPSETT is said to be the proud possessor of a cup; but some say it is a helmet to ward off future defeat.

"LIGHTEN our darkness we beseech thee, O Lord" was the chief prayer uttered by those who were up early yesterday morning.

ANY sour looks noticed on the streets yesterday morning were caused by the loss of breakfast. The juice was off.

WHAT with local telephone and light troubles a council of war with the city officials will soon have to be called.

SOMETHING that won't get the Vancouver Sun very far is their editorial of the sour grapes nature on the appointment to the new railway board.

An expression of a woman's real love is an invitation to breakfast.

TO be absolutely up to date and in the fashion today you must abdicate.

THE cry of the flapper today: Oh where and oh where is my paint box gone.

A GOOD way to save money is to meet the girl inside the show.

With Never a Wrinkle

Never!
Mercury Stockings fit when they're new—and fit after they're washed. That's because they're knit to fit—not stretched into shape. As long as you wear them there are no maddening little wrinkles! No ugly wiggly seam up the back! No wrinkles or seams to chafe the feet.

Mercury Stockings are fully fashioned in the knitting. There are no seams—even in the feet. Washing does not change their shape. It is knit in.
