Welcome To Visitors
Is Extended.

Prince Rupert is always ready to welcome visitors and especially when these visitors are men and women of prominence in the affairs of the world. Today we welcome members of the Masonic Craft who have chosen this city as their annual meeting place. We appreciate the compliment they have paid us. They come from all parts of British Columbia. There are representatives from Vancouver and Victoria and also from the southern interior. The north is well represented. To all we extend the heartiest welcome and hope they will enjoy their short stay. If they do not enjoy themselves we trust it will not be our fault.

Growing And Struggling.

Prince Rupert is a city in embryo. It is a growing, struggling little city but is gradually getting on a firm foundation. Those who pioneered in Vancouver or Victoria will realize what a struggle it is for a new city to get a place in the sun. We believe that there is a place for Prince Rupert in this province and we are striving to make it worthy of its destiny. Competition is keen and we often have to match our wits against the superior strength of our southern neighbors. This we shall continue to do. We shall assert our rights at all times. Today, many of our worthy opponents are our guests and we shall hope to let them see that we can be as worthy hosts as we are in a small way rivals.

Should Remember
Our Handicaps.

Visitors are asked to remember our handicaps. We are struggling in the face of nature to build a city here. The contour of our townsite is rugged and has to be changed into fine streets and boulevards. Here are all the problems of the average city with a few added. We are scarcely twelve years of age and yet much has been accomplished. If in the next twelve years there is similar progress, the city will then be good to look upon. However, we expect even more than that. When the Masonic Grand Lodge meets here next we expect to have double the present population.

Can Sympathize
With Our Aspirations.

Visitors who came in this morning on one of the fine coasting steamers will see that we have not made a bad commencement and that our aspirations to become a real port are likely to be realized. We have the harbor, the railway, the docking facilities, the position—everything is ours except the business. That we are going out after. That we intend to get. We are strong and virile and anxious to succeed. We have everything in our favor and we shall win out.

The people of the southern cities have shown a commendable spirit in not only sympathizing with us in our aims but also in aiding us in carrying them out. The newspapers of the south have been prodigal with their space which they devote to the development of the north. There has been no stint. They are working with us and we in the north appreciate this. They realize that the future is ours and that what benefits us benefits them. They have the right vision. If our businessmen of the south will co-operate with the newspapers in their work it will be appreciated.

Some Vancouver people are jealous of our drydock and would move it away. Others fear the competition from the port and would stifle us. These are not the people of vision. The men and women of Vancouver and Victoria are anxious to co-operate, for they realize that what is good for British Columbia as a whole is good for them.

We are not ashamed of Prince Rupert. On the other hand we are proud of our city, small though it be and somewhat crude. We realize that this is just the embryo from which a mighty seaport will grow and we welcome all our visitors to look carefully and watch us grow and we ask their co-operation in our efforts to secure for ourselves our rightful place.

LIBRARIAN IS APPOINTED BY LOCAL BOARD

Miss Grant of Victoria Coming to Organize First Public Library in This City.

The Library Board at its first meeting yesterday afternoon appointed Miss Muriel Grant of Victoria librarian for the city of Prince Rupert, her appointment to take effect on September 1 next.

Miss Grant is a graduate of the University of British Columbia and in the summer of 1920 took a short course in library work at the Victoria public library under Miss Helen Stewart. The following winter she took a nine months' librarians' course at the University of Washington and for the past year has been engaged as senior assistant at the Carnegie Library in Victoria, having charge of the reference department.

The salary to be paid Miss Grant is $1,080 a year. Just now she is earning a good deal more than that and the Victoria library would like to retain her services, but she is willing to come to Prince Rupert to get experience in organizing.

The opinion of the members of the Library Board is that they are fortunate in having secured the services of a trained librarian with requisite qualifications as there are not many librarians in the country.

MANY PRODUCTS OF COKE PLANT

Anyox Made Record in Smelting and Refining For Year.

ANYOX, June 21.—By increasing the output of metals by 4,226,323 pounds in 1921 over the corresponding period for 1920, the Granby Mining, Smelting and Power Co., Ltd. has accomplished a record in smelting, as they are one of a very few concerns in the world which can show an increase in last year's production.

The production of copper last year amounted to 29,970,652 pounds as against 25,744,328 pounds in 1920.

Many useful commercial commodities were also produced by the Coke Plant belonging to the company.

For instance 213,485 gallons of crude benzol, and 188,738 gallons of refined benzol, besides 61,300 gallons of naphthaline were produced.

They also distilled 687,912 imperial gallons of tar, and 9,189 gallons of tar paint were made.

Sixty-five thousand and twenty one tons of coke and 5,587 tons of coke breeze were taken from the ovens.

The needs of the farmers were not forgotten, and the fertilizing of the grounds was provided for to some extent by the production of 2,162,455 pounds of ammonium sulphate.

Mr. Justice Morrison has reserved judgment in the appeal of E. J. Maynard and J. Arthur Smith against the act of the license commission in refusing them a renewal of their bottle licenses.

The beauties of the Bulkley Valley as a field for agriculture are being given much publicity now. With the early advent of the railway there it is expected there will be quite a settlement boom.

Under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire an attractive and pretty flag drill was held in the Knights of Pythias Hall yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Eggert, who had charge of the training, conducted the performance. Miss C. M. Martin was accompanist and the following little girls took part: Katharine Pillsbury, Doris Dowling, Muriel Patmore, Majorie Sing, Madeline Nelson, Esther Naden, Katherine Davis, Violet Mortimer, Lorna Tite, Constance McMullin, Gertrude Nelson and Gracie Manson. Rev. W. H. McLeod gave an

COLLECTING OF ACCOUNTS

Hospital Board Considers Favorably to Engage Special Agency.

In an effort to make collection of outstanding accounts, the hospital board last night referred to its finance committee with power to set a proposition to employ a special collecting agency to take drastic measures to get in the long overdue debts.

President Stewart brought the matter up and D. G. McRae, chairman of the finance committee, explained the working of the plan. The idea of the agency was to write form letters to those owing bills. If these failed to obtain results then the accounts would be turned over to the agency which would advertise them for sale to the highest bidder. Mr. McRae said that results were promised and he had no doubt that they would be obtained.

While this scheme might not be altogether a desirable one, something had to be done. The agency charged for the forms and also required 33 1/3 percent on collections.

E. H. Mortimer inquired if it would not be possible for the hospital to undertake such methods itself. J. L. MacLaren replied that the agency was of a wider scope than the hospital board and people were afraid of it. Some merchants had tried the system with good results.

Major Gibson said that anything from $10,000 to $50,000 might be collected in such a manner.

It was moved by Mr. Mortimer and seconded by Col. McDermott that the finance committee go into the matter of engaging the agency with a view to availing itself of the opportunity of collecting outstanding accounts.

Persistent advertising is absolutely necessary to success.

The Man in the Moon
SAYS:-

WHAT is so rare as a June bug.

ALSO what is so rare as a serious Mason?

What is a jag? Ask any old timer.

Horribly Mean.

The Winnipeg Free Press humorist says that at a boarding house, in Winnipeg of course, there are two children, a boy and a girl. The boy is the living photograph of his father and the girl is the very phonograph of her mother.

SOME of the visiting Masons brought their wives and others came for a holiday, at least so Jinks says, and he ought to know.

"AH, it's a grand lodge meeting!" declared a delegate, "a grand meeting. Yes I'll take just one more."

A Masonic visitor in talking to a citizen this morning on Second Avenue asked if Prince Rupert owned a hospital. Pointing to a well known paint store opposite he replied, "Just step inside over there and tell the proprietor that Prince Rupert is no D— good and you'll see the hospital in about five minutes."

"Are you a Mason?" asked a smiling lady of a gentleman sitting opposite to her in the restaurant. "No Madam" replied he. "I'm a plumber."

"Oh mammy isn't that a big wheel" said a little boy pointing to the Rotary Club emblem as he came up from the station this morning.

VISITORS this week may go home happy. Prince Rupert people never tell.

JUDGING from stories one hears, it is a good job the Masons are a secret organization.

JINKS says if Grand Master Terry tries to keep control of that bunch he has some job on his hands.

PEOPLE are wondering what the visitors this week have been doing to overcome the scarcity of corkscrews. No need to wonder. The corkscrews are becoming scarcer.

THE worst thing about that Rotary bunch was their hats.

HOW people will behave when they get away from home!

Miss Nancy Davies arrived from Victoria on the Prince George today and will spend a fortnight here visiting with her brothers, Allan and Frank Davies.
