ARAB GIRL TELLS WHY SYRIA OBJECTS TO FRENCH MANDATE

People are Liberty Loving But are Unable to Realize Aspirations

HAIFA, Palestine, Aug. 30.—Nazel al Abed, an Arab girl who played a prominent part in forming the revolt against French rule in Syria last May, and who later managed to escape from prison where she was serving a life sentence, gave the representative of the Associated Press an interview in which she set forth her reasons for the unpopularity of the French mandate in the Near East.

"The French press," she says, "accused Charles R. Crane, former American Minister to China, of being the cause of the disorders of last May. This is absolutely false. The disorders were the direct result of the oppressive and offensive rule of the mandatory power in Syria."

Moral Leaders
"We Syrian people," she continued, "are liberty loving. We pride ourselves on the fact that we are the intellectual and moral leaders of all the Arabs. In welcoming the French army in 1918, we had hoped that France would help us realize our aspirations for self government. We have been deceived. Instead of just treatment, we find that our country is occupied by black troops, who are our inferiors; our government turned over to inexperienced French officials, who try to govern by force, and our leaders lodged in jails."

"In the face of all these abuses," she declared, "a nation can do no less than revolt and rid itself of the yoke of the oppressor."
Nazel al Abed is about 30 years of age, of commanding personality and with a great charm of manner. She was born in Damascus of a wealthy and influential family. A mission school provided her with an education which seems to have instilled into her heart the love of country and of independence.

Escaped from Prison
During the war she served in the Red Crescent, a Turkish organization similar to the American Red Cross. Since 1919 she has been the accredited leader of all the women organizations in Syria. Because of the part she played in organizing the demonstrations in Damascus last May, which resulted in great disorders and bloodshed, she was arrested and condemned to life imprisonment. She remained in prison, however, but a short time, soon making her escape.

Asked if Syria is prepared as yet for independence Nazel al Abed replied: "Those who know anything of Syrian politics will admit that so far the mandate system has proven an absolute failure. On the one hand it has introduced fresh encroachments on the sovereignty of our beloved country in favor of an imperialistic power, and on the other hand it brought to us great social as well as commercial suffering, due to the separation of Syria from her sister country Palestine."

Has Been Curse
Nazel al Abed complained that the world, and especially America, is so ill informed about Syria. "The French occupation," she asserted, "has been a curse instead of a blessing. We Syrian people of today are treated like slaves. We are forced to accept French habits, French customs, a French civilization and even a French language, in spite of ourselves. Is it any wonder that we revolted last May?"

"All we ask now is to be left alone, free to rebuild our country in undisturbed quiet, free to live our life in our own way, and to solve our problems after our own manners. We still hope that America will not fail to help us realize our aspirations."

MANY STUDENTS FOR MANITOBA UNIVERSITY
WINNIPEG, Aug. 30.—A heavy increase in the number of students entering the university this fall, particularly if the Manitoba crop comes up to expectations, was forecast today by college officials.

All faculties will feel the increase, it is believed, and will be taxed to the utmost for accommodation and teaching staff. Scores of applications already are in the hands of the deans of all faculties, and many more will be considered before the opening of the fall semester, it is said.

The new science building, which will serve arts, science, engineering and pre-medical students, will be ready by the third week in September, and will relieve the strain on the present laboratory quarters.

EXTRA FOR COLOR.
"I am an author and I desire to spend my vacation on your farm in order to get local color. How much will the board be?"
"Twenty per week, and $10 extra if you expect us to go around chewing straws and talking dialect."—Dorchester Beacon.

Revival in Lumber Trade Nova Scotia

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 30.—A revival in the export lumber trade at Nova Scotia from the slump which occurred following the war boom shipments has been reported lately. Building operations in New York and other parts of the United States are said to be chiefly responsible. Several large schooners are engaged in carrying cargoes from Sheet Harbor and the Musquodoboit Valley in Halifax County and from other places to American ports.

The lumbering industry of Nova Scotia formerly depended almost entirely on the British and South American markets. Cargoes are still going to the south but the British market has not been a good customer of late years.

The great piles of lumber known as "war stock" which were seen lying undisturbed following the slump in the latter part of 1920 are said now to be at the vanishing point and a new cut is being sought.
