CHRISTIAN GENERAL GOVERNOR OF HONAN

Feng Yuh Siann Insists Those Who Will Not Work Must Leave.

NEW YORK, July 27.—A personal picture of General Feng Yuh Siann, known as the Christian general in the forces of Wan Pei-Fu, is contained in a letter from Bishop F. R. Graves of Shanghai which has been received here by Protestant Episcopal leaders. Bishop Graves is said to have known General Feng for a number of years.

"Feng has been elevated to the governorship of Honan province," writes Bishop Graves, "and it is characteristic of him that when he attended a big reception recently in his honor he rode to the V. M. C. A. hall on a bicycle with a few unarmored attendants, instead of being surrounded by the customary mounted cavalcade. His first Sunday as governor found General Feng attending a joint service of all the Christian denominations in Kaifeng at the Sheng Kung Hui, or Episcopal church. Here the Christian general preached a sermon from the text: 'To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin.'

Everyone Must Work.
"He appropriated out of his private funds a sum sufficient to care for the beggars who infested the city until employment could be obtained for them at the same time announcing that those who wouldn't work for a living must leave Honan."

Feng, according to Episcopal missionaries, became a convert to Christianity eleven years ago, when, attacked by a disease which native physicians declared incurable, he was restored to health by the ministrations of a Christian medical missionary. Thousands of his soldiers have embraced the religious faith of their leader and victory on the field is frequently followed by a service of thanksgiving of a Christian character which is led by General Feng himself, it is reported.

"General Feng is somewhat of a Cromwell in his religious ideas," Bishop Graves said, "but there is no question at all of his sincerity. He shares hard conditions with his men."

FOX RANCHERS PROPOSE FORMING ASSOCIATION

Forestry Service Will Co-operate With Men Engaged in Industry in Alaska

JUNEAU, July 27.—Organization of a fox ranchers' association is suggested by Forest Supervisor G. T. Gardner in a letter to individuals now engaged in that industry in the Tongass National Forest. For this purpose Mr. Gardner proposes a convention of Southeastern Alaska fox ranchers to be held this fall and offers the aid of the Forest Service in the matter.

In his communication to the fox farmers, Mr. Gardner said: "After a careful survey of the fox farm industry in Southeastern Alaska and the many new conditions with which the farmers have to contend, it is believed that a fox farmers' association would be of very great value to those connected with the industry."

"The Forest Service will gladly lend its assistance in forming an association of this kind."

"I should like to suggest that a point central to the industry in general be selected and that the meeting be held this fall, when most convenient."

"By-laws of an Eastern association have been secured which can be used as a guide in forming the Alaska association."

CURIOUS WILL OF MAN WHO LOST AT JUTLAND

Was Engraved on Polished Brass Disc and Seen from Angles.

LONDON, July 27.—Strange as the story of any document told in fiction is that of a will which has just been admitted to probate and is now filed in Somerset House.

It is the "last will and testament" of a sailor, William Skinner, who lost his life when his ship, the Indefatigable, was sunk in the battle of Jutland. It is in the form of the ordinary identification disc. On one side, in the usual deeply-punched letters, appears the name, number, rating and religion of the man to whom it had been issued.

On the other side the disc appears at first sight to be just a circular piece of smooth, polished brass. But when viewed at a certain angle, there can be seen about 75 minutely engraved words. With a microscope they can be plainly read. They constitute Skinner's will by which he bequeaths everything to his wife. The disc had been recovered from the sea with Skinner's body and on being cleaned revealed its secret.
