Two Men in a Car

A short account of a Trip to California in a Ford Flivver
By H. F. Pullen

BUYING A CAR.

In making a trip in a flivver, one of the most important things is buying the car. It is better to borrow one if you can, as Dick and I did last year, but that is not always possible, so the next best thing is to buy one at such a price that it can be sold again after having carried the party safely throughout the trip.

Some people have flivvers, or possibly fine autos. They will take no interest in this account. They lose much of the joy of the excursion. I arrived in Vancouver from Prince Rupert on Saturday night and was to leave Victoria on Wednesday fully equipped. It was necessary to act promptly. Accordingly I looked around me in Vancouver and was soon inveigled into making a purchase.

The particular flivver which I bought was not much different from half a dozen others I saw except that the engine seemed to be in good shape, it was hitting on all four and it started without taking the skin off my hands or raising a blister. Also it was guaranteed by a reliable firm. I bought it. The license was given without extra charge and the tool kit was sent on later by express.

Talking It Over.

In talking the matter over shortly before with a friend who once took an interest in horses, the friend remarked that the important thing he had been informed was to see that the car was free from spavins or other blemishes, to watch that there was no sign of heaves and to be sure she was a good feeder. I took the hint. The particular Lizzie that we are about to embark in tomorrow is sound in wind and limb and she is guaranteed to be a good consumer of idle dollars. I already know that. Sound is something in which she excels.

My son Dick, who is to accompany me on the trip, does not seem to appreciate my art in driving the buggy. He says I take more liberties with the law and police regulations than any other person in Victoria and if we do not get away tomorrow he feels sure I shall be arrested. He says I drive on the wrong side of the road, park the flivver in the wrong places, turn the corners too abruptly (abruptly is a good word), fail to honk my horn at the proper time and do a dozen other wrong things. As a matter of fact I have had no horn to honk. There was a little buzzer but it might as well not have existed for all the good it was. Now I have a Klaxon that shrieks horribly and frightens all the children and dogs and old people who are in the habit of blocking the path.

Plenty of Noises.

Nearly all Dick's friends had given him advice as to how to purchase the car, where to purchase it and what sort of car to get and also what sort not to get. Happily I did not know any of this until the purchase was made, so we have most of the faults and failings against which he was warned. There is an advantage in a multiplicity of noises in a car when she is travelling because then a new one more or less does not worry us. We are happy because if the wheel is to come off soon we are unaware of the fact. If the carburetor does not properly carburete, we do not know it. We are oblivious to everything except the fact that we leave for the south tomorrow to forget our cares, to enjoy the well known American hospitality in a delightful climate with nothing to do but admire the spring flowers, revel in the scenery and as we get farther south eat of the fruit of the land. We are already enjoying the trip in anticipation. We are accumulating all sorts of useless things such as a tent, a gasoline cook stove, an arrangement for sleeping under cover of the car and over the seats, various boxes and cases in which to keep things and also new tires, tools, repair kits and the hundred and one articles that people about to leave for the great unknown accumulate and take joy in. If we never get any farther than Seattle we shall feel that we have been for a trip. We shall have had a lot of the pleasure. We shall have experienced the thrill of being wished joy by our friends and the backbiting of our enemies who prophesy all sorts of evil happenings for us.

Land of the Free.

It may be days before I shall have an opportunity to tell about the first experiences in the Land of the Free. It may even be weeks, if we are arrested on our arrival or are the victims of a confidence trick. No matter what the experiences are you will hear of them faithfully and truly in due time. Just now I am in Victoria getting ready to leave tomorrow.

CANADIAN FARMER BALL OCEAN FALLS

Affair on Saturday Evening Was Big Success and 300 Attended.

OCEAN FALLS, May 1.—The success of the ball given by the officers and engineers of the C. G. M. S. S. Canadian Farmer at the local hall Thursday evening exceeded all expectations. Over three hundred invitations were sent out by the Farmer's staff and every one responded.

At midnight refreshments were served and free smokes handed around. Dancing was then resumed until 3:30 a.m.

The Boys of the Farmer expended labor as well as money to make the event big and tastefully decorated the hall with flags.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. M. A. Haslett, Mrs. D. C. McPherson and Mrs. F. W. Clirch.

The Canadian Farmer left here late Friday afternoon for California and way ports.

On Quality Only

While we are firm adherents to the principle of using made in British Columbia goods at all times, we don't solicit patronage for Pacific Milk on that basis, but because of superiority over milk put up anywhere in Canada.

Pacific is rich in pure cream, due, of course, to the natural richness of the fresh milk, and our improved process of evaporation and canning retains the sweet fresh cream flavor. It is better for cooking and baking than fresh milk or cream.

DANCE EXHIBITION AT WESTHOLME ON SATURDAY SUCCESS

The exhibition of dancing, under the direction of Mrs. H. O. Crewe assisted by her pupils, given at the Westholme theatre on Saturday afternoon was a decided success, a large crowd being present. The dance program given in the St. Andrew's Hall on the previous Saturday was repeated.

The effect of the juvenile dances was greatly enhanced by the stage settings and the spotlight. The kiddies were very obliging with their encores and entered into the whole affair with great spirit and confidence. The exhibition dance by Mr. and Mrs. Crewe was specially enjoyable. At the conclusion of it Miss Mai Hall presented Mrs. Crewe with a beautiful bouquet of carnations on behalf of the senior dancing class.

STEWART

W. R. Macfarlane leaves shortly on a trip south.

The Marmion arrived from Anco last week with a shipment of powder for the Premier mine; also for the government; nearly 1000 cases in all.

James Nesbitt has returned from the hot springs at Bella Isle.

The Premier tramline was shut down for two or three days last week owing to trouble in the power house at the upper end.

The absence of crust on the snow this year has inconvenienced a large number of people who wished to take supplies into the hills, both for prospecting and for trapping.

Charles Lake, who has spent the winter with his parents on their farm in Manitoba, returned to Stewart on the Puchena on Friday last.

S. P. Fitzgerald came down from the Independence group, Bear River, last Wednesday and reports that work on the property, owned by himself and his brother, is progressing very well indeed. Some nice looking samples have been taken from new work done on zone No. 1.

Becoming frightened at a passing motor car, one of Crawford's transfer teams jumped over the six-foot embankment between the dock approaches, just south of the town. An extraordinary feature of the incident was the fact that the wagon was left on the road and neither of the horses were hurt.

During the month of April 2, 397,000 pounds of halibut was marketed at this port as compared with 1,819,900 pounds for the same month last year. The highest price during the month was 11.7c and 4.2c on April 25 and the lowest, 5c and 3c on April 15.
