Red Mountain

The prompt recovery of Red Mountain shares from the low level of 45c to yesterday's close of 62c has partially fulfilled the prediction we made.

We are advised by the Boundary Red Mountain management of a second bullion production record amounting to $3,958, in seven days. This was at the rate of $565 per day and showed a material improvement over the preceding nine days, when the daily gross output was $493.

If you will contrast this output of gold with the present quoted value of Boundary Red Mountain shares you will understand our advice to enter your order at today's market.

ENGLISH TOURISTS SOUGHT BY SWISS

Tourist Trade Falls to Such Low Ebb That Railroads Are Taking Action to Revive It

GENEVA, Nov. 16.—The tourist trade in Switzerland has fallen to such a low ebb that Swiss railroads are considering ways and means to revive it. To this end they have offered reductions in railroad fares amounting to 30 per cent to parties of English tourists, effective January 1. A similar reduction probably will be offered later to Americans.

SMITHERS

A special musical service was held in the Union church last Sunday evening. Selections by Gray's orchestra, duets by Mrs. J. Graham and Rev. M. W. Lees, also by Mrs. J. Boyer and Miss Grombie, were pleasing items in an attractive program. Mrs. Stanley Bennett was heard to good effect in an excellent rendering of "Lead Kindly Light." It is planned to make these services a monthly feature during the winter.

Mrs. W. Grant of Hazelton, is visiting her daughters, Jean and Helen, the latter of whom has been confined to the house for some days with an attack of tonsillitis, but is now well on the way to recovery.

A new full sized Brunswick-Balke Billiard table has been added this week to the equipment of Kennedy's Billiard rooms and enthusiasts of the game are paying tribute to the enterprise of the proprietor.

GASSED OVERSEAS SHELL SHOCKED and RHEUMATISM

Mr. F. M. Blaquiere, Morinville, Alta., writes:—"After three years service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed, and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad, in the Fall of 1919, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and I seemed as if I had a steel band pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved."

WORKINGS OF SECRET SERVICE DURING WAR

Described By British Criminologist Who is on Tour of United States and Canada

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(By Canadian Press)—Some interesting sidelights on the work of the British secret service during the war were told to the members of New York Canadian Club yesterday by Sir Basil Thomson, the famous British criminologist, at a special luncheon given in his honor in the club rooms.

Sir Basil was at the head of the secret service during the war. Previously he was for twelve years commissioner of the Metropolitan police force at Scotland Yard. He described the methods of the secret service in dealing with German spies. The entire espionage organization of Germany and its methods of operation were known previous to the outbreak of the war, but in order to secure further information as to its ramifications the German agents were allowed to remain at large under surveillance after war actually broke out.

"It didn't make any difference," Sir Basil remarked, "because the only reports which went to Germany were the ones that happened to be rather inaccurate."

Sir Basil told many amusing anecdotes of the days of the "spy mania" in London and the various rumors that the police had to contend with.

Expressing his pleasure at being among Canadians, Sir Basil in concluding his speech declared that in 1914 the British government was in a quandary because of a shortage of rifles to furnish reinforcements for the "first hundred thousand." Then Canada poured her men over to fill the gap," he said, "It was something that never will be forgotten."

Sir Basil plans to visit a number of Canadian cities before returning to London.

LITTLE MISS EVELYN VICKERS' BIRTHDAY

Miss Evelyn Vickers, daughter of W. H. Vickers, chief of police, celebrated her twelfth birthday on Wednesday. She had as her guests 21 school friends and for several hours they played games, listened to music and had an abundance of good things to eat.

Among the girls present were the Misses Alice Spencer, Norma Rogers, Laura Frizzell, Marjorie Muse, Mary Muse, Doris Shockley, Vera Shockley, Florence McNeill, Adeline Dalby, Agnes Roberge, Ellen Roberge, Agnes Grafton, Pauline Cameron, Dorothy Styles, Barbara Peyton, Florence Smith, Mary O'Brien and Lorna MacLaren.

Mrs. J. A. Teng and Mrs. J. A. Ross assisted Mrs. Vickers in entertaining.

OPTIENCE

Optience is one of those new words that has come into our language. It designates a motion picture "audience," the latter word being inaccurate as applied to see-ers rather than hear-ers. Like the tales of old Aesop, which are now being shown as "Aesop's Film Fables" the old words of Webster have to be adapted to meet the needs of modern times.

DARING PAINTINGS IN PARIS SALON

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Two of the most daring paintings that have ever been exhibited have been accepted for the Fall Salon in Paris against protests by the League of Public Morals that they are "suggestive" and "indecent."

The paintings are by Leonard Sarlin, famous French painter, and are of large dimensions. One is entitled "The Desires," and the other "Regrets."

"Desires" shows Nero playing his lyre while Mercury and Venus present to him their infant Ganymede. In the background is a bacchanalian orgy of nude figures.

In "Regrets" Sarlin shows the same emperor despairing because Ganymede has been stolen by a satyr.

UNUSUAL GROWTH LOUISIANA BABY

BERNICE, La., Nov. 16.—The six-months old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McClung, of this city, weighs 15 pounds and is 42 inches tall. Although her rapid development has been unusual physicians say that she is perfectly normal. When born she weighed only six pounds.
