

For Baby's Woollens

The little woolly garments for Baby must be kept soft or they will irritate the tender skin. Washed in Lux suds, Baby's woollens will keep beautifully soft and fluffy. The thin satiny-like flakes of Lux are made by our own exclusive process, and dissolve instantly into a lather as harmless as pure water itself.

Just dip Baby's clothes into a bowlful of the rich Lux suds—rinse them, squeeze out the surplus water and hang to dry.

There is nothing like Lux. Sold only in sealed packets—dust-proof!

MR. CASH WAS AGAIN HONORED

Junior Baseball Boys Staged a Banquet Last Night and Presented Him With Gold Cuff Links

JUVENILE LEAGUE GIVE HIM A PIPE

A banquet was held last night at the home of Ralph Smith, Third Avenue, West, in honor of W. J. Cash, the departing manager of the Junior Baseball League. Mr. Cash was presented with a set of gold cuff links by the boys as a token of appreciation of his services as manager of junior sport in the city for several years. The presentation was made on behalf of the boys by the new manager, Ralph Smith.

Mr. Cash expressed his thanks in a neat speech and mentioned that a good selection had been made when Ralph Smith was chosen as the boys' new manager. The banquet closed with three cheers for Mr. Cash, proposed by Douglas Frizzell. This was followed by the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and the National anthem.

Those present were Mr. Cash, Mr. Smith, J. Kelly, D. Frizzell, M. Budernich, G. Bulger, S. Anderson, J. Nickerson, T. Fraser, H. Hibbard and R. Warrior. On Tuesday night the boys of the Juvenile League presented Mr. Cash with a handsome pipe to mark their appreciation of his services on their behalf.

Basketball and How to Play It

By Observer

PASSING AND CATCHING

For Offensive

Passes are made to advance the ball and are therefore of primary importance as we shall see in later discussions. It is well to think over then, a few of the essentials of good passing.

First of all the passer should remember that the pass should be fast and snappy. If the ball is "lobbed" over to a team-mate or if its flight is slow and leisurely it is sure to be intercepted. It must travel straight and fast in a direct line. Not only that, passes should be short.

Long passing gives unequalled opportunity for quick guards to intercept, no matter how well timed or placed they may be. The passer should always remember this and try to make his throws short and snappy.

The receiver of the pass can assist by moving towards his pass. As pointed out before, he should always get in motion to meet the ball as this prevents an intercept and cuts down the distance the ball has to travel. Always plan to cut in front of an opponent when calling for a pass, never behind him.

Good passing naturally demands neat and expert handling of the ball. Most passes must be made with one hand though ability to make excellent passes with both hands is also necessary. As a rule the latter will lack strength and speed, as left handed passes are also wont to do.

A player should practice passing with both left and right hands. Aim the ball at a point about chest high of the player to whom it is thrown and slightly in advance of him. He will cut in across the flight of the ball at an angle and if he has mastered the art of catching, will snap it up and pass in a moment. Practice throwing and handling the ball in the palm of the hand. Learn the best grip on the ball for a one-hand pass and the easiest movement of the arm which will give you a speedy throw.

Catching the Ball

A "fake" pass is always useful in basketball as in rugby or football. Many players, when closely guarded, snap the ball back as if for a throw and then loop it over the opponent's head. It requires great agility to get around the opponent and pass the ball again before being blocked, however. Most fake passes must be made with both hands and the player must be careful not to take a step while accomplishing it. The objective, of course, is to make the guard start off as if to intercept or block the supposed pass.

To be able to catch a thrown ball with ease and confidence one must eliminate fear and nervousness and acquire a knowledge of the proper method of catching a ball. Fumbling a ball resulting from either fear or nervousness is caused by taking the eye off the ball. To overcome this fault, one should watch the ball until it actually strikes the hand. Then, too, over-tenseness of the part of the player making his hands and arms very rigid will cause fumbling for under such conditions a rebound is certain.

The hands and arms should give slightly as the ball strikes the palm of the hand, thereby diminishing the shock. One should try not to catch the ball with the fingers. The palm of the open hand spread should stop the ball and the fingers should clamp around it. The fingers should never point towards the ball as it is coming in, because the exact distance for opening, especially when the player is in motion, can not be gauged and injured fingers will result. The fingers should either slant upwards or downwards from the open palm. It will be found natural to have the fingers point upward when receiving passes chest high and higher and to have them downward when receiving passes directed toward the pit of the stomach or lower.

RULES FOR SEASON'S BASKETBALL PLAYING

The following is the list of rules governing basketball play under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association for the 1922-1923 season:

1.—No transfers from one club to another without the sanction of the executive.

2.—Registration of players must be in the hands of the secretary at least 18 hours previous to any league game.

3.—Entrance fees to be as follows: Men—Senior, $5.00; intermediates, $2.00; juniors' free. Ladies—Senior, $2.00; intermediates and juniors free.

4.—Each team shall be allowed to register 7 players and releases will only be granted after consideration by the executive.

5.—All games must be played with official league ball supplied by the association, but each team must have a ball in its possession in the hall during the game.

6.—Fortnightly meetings shall be held and the president shall have power to call a special meeting, at any time, should he deem the purpose necessary.

6b.—A mailed notice of each meeting shall be sent to all members of the executive.

7.—The executive shall appoint referees, as per resolution of Octo. 31st, 1922.

8.—All games must start on scheduled time, five minutes grace only being allowed, when teams must take the floor.

9.—Referees reports of games must be in the hands of the secretary within 24 hours.

10.—All protests must be initiated to the referee and opposing captain immediately after game, and also made in writing to the association secretary within 24 hours: a $5.00 deposit must accompany each protest, which will be forfeited to the association unless the protest be upheld when the deposit will be refunded.

11.—Spalding rules shall govern all league games.

12.—At a special meeting held October 31st, 1922, the following rules were passed: (a) That no previous senior player be allowed to play in the intermediate league.

(b) That no intermediate player be allowed to play with any senior club except the one under which he is registered.

Sport Chat

The English rugby games played at Vancouver during the Thanksgiving holiday brought the coast players and Edmonton team into contact for the first time. The prairie team were decisively beaten on both occasions, first by a 12-0 score by the Vancouver Reg. fifteen and then by a 16-0 tally by the University of B.C. men. Good sportsmanship prevailed in both games and it is quite possible that return games will be arranged shortly.

The auto racers of the States are now preparing to follow the pace set by the baseball interests of the country in appointing a director to settle disputes and protect their interests. Barney Oldfield, former speed king, is prominently mentioned as head of the new organization which will be known as "Association of Auto Aces."

Managing and coaching a hockey team on the Prairies seems to be a very remunerative job according to reports coming from there. Newsie Lalonde, the old French-Canadian warhorse of hockey, is reported to have signed a contract to manage and coach the Saskatoon club for the sum of $1500, or at the rate of $250 a week. That is a great deal more than he would receive in the east.

Tommy Gibbons has asked to take the place of Battling Siki against Joe Beckett, English heavy-weight in London on December 7. The London boxing commission barred the Beckett-Siki bout on account of the trouble the negro had in Paris. No word of acceptance of Gibbons' offer has been received yet.

The Basketball association has made the following changes in the rules governing the basketball games for the ensuing season:

Any technical foul committed will not be penalized by awarding a free shot but by giving the ball to the nearest opponent, play resuming at once.

In the zone between the basket line and the free throw line any personal foul will be penalized by awarding two free throws to opponents.

Also this year the penalty system will embrace the personal foul whereby three personal fouls will disqualify the player for the game in which he is participating.

The rules governing the local basketball games this season will be strictly enforced so as to conform exactly to the rules governing in other cities thus, in the event of a local team playing away from home, they will not be handicapped in any way as to the rules prevailing at the point of play.
