THREE DIVORCES FOR ONE PERSON IN SOVIET RUSSIA

RIGA, Latvia, Jan. 18.—Three divorces to any one person are considered the limit in Soviet Russia, according to Parley Christensen, of Chicago, candidate for president of the United States on the Farmer-Labor party ticket in 1920, who recently spent a month in Moscow. Mr. Christensen visited several Bolshevik courts.

"It is fairly easy to get a divorce in Soviet Russia," according to Mr. Christensen when in Riga, "but I understand the limit is three for each person. If a man or woman has appeared in the divorce courts more than three times, he or she has a very difficult time."

"I visited one divorce hearing. It was extremely simple. The pair was separated in half an hour. On arrival in the court room, the man and woman were separately questioned by the judge. He then got them together and tried to persuade them that their quarrel could be patched up and they might live together. They couldn't see it that way, so the judge took them into another room to sign papers dissolving their marriage."

Mr. Christensen also visited a number of "People's courts," corresponding to police courts in America, where persons are tried for minor offenses. Most of the judges, he said, were dressed in rough clothes, including brown flannel shirts.

"In general," said Mr. Christensen, "I was amazed at the fairness of these courts."

DOING HIS BIT.

A speaker was making an earnest appeal for forest conservation.

"What are our people doing to stop this fearful waste of the country's precious lumber supply?" he demanded. "Is there anyone here who is doing anything at all?"

Gravely a little man in the audience rose from his seat.

"What! Is there really one?" exclaimed the orator. "And what, may I ask, are you doing to save"
