Exhibition Will Be Worth While.

This year the outside districts are taking more interest than usual in the Exhibition. A number of district exhibits are being shown and in a good many lines there is increased interest being taken in the annual event.

While a few will go to the Exhibition as a matter of duty, most people will do so because they like to see the progress that is being made, they enjoy looking at the flowers, the vegetables, the pictures, the handicraft work and all the other attractions as well as listening to the music.

Make The Week An Outstanding Event.

We suggest that every resident make this week the outstanding event of the year. Let other engagements be put off and centre all our attention on the one thing. We are told that there is to be something different there every evening.

Once a year we have these fairs and most of them have been a success. Judging from what we hear from the entries that have been made it seems as if this year would be the banner year, especially if the weather is reasonably good.

Financial Policy Of Government.

Nothing but business is to influence the Ottawa Government in connection with its expenditures, according to some of the ministers. The Financial Post of Toronto discussing the matter, says:

"If the Hon. Dr. King, minister of public works, bespoke the sincere working policy of the present government, when he told the guests of the Toronto Harbor Commission at luncheon last week, that whether the contemplated expenditures brought before his department were for new works or those already started they would have to pass one test—the test as to whether they would be justified in a business way by returns—then the men at Ottawa with their hands on the national purse strings are going to have the support of taxpayers generally whatever their political leanings.

"We believe that Canadians can take credit for being good taxpayers—at least as taxpayers go. The business and financial communities, large property owners, salary earners and investors with incomes understand the burdens which the war has entailed upon the country, and are prepared to carry them with grim determination.

"But while there is evident every determination to meet the obligations of war, there is a very strong feeling that the burden should not be increased by extravagance and inefficiency now that there is an opportunity to reduce the costs of government. The railways are an example. Still more drastic reorganization here is needed to reduce the deficit.

"A member of the government has declared that expenditures on public works will be on the basis of sound business with financial return as the test. The people will look to the government to live up to that policy."

CARPENTERS OPPOSE CUT

Vote on Saturday Night Resulted 28 Against Reduction and 3 in Favor.

After strong speeches had been made both for and against the acceptance of a reduction of wages from $7 a day to $6.40, a meeting of the local Carpenters' Union took a vote by ballot on the question last Saturday night which resulted 3 in favor of a reduction and 28 against. The question has been under discussion by the Union for several weeks having been brought about by the proposal of Mitchell & Currie to cut carpenters' wages from $7 to $6.40. This reduction was to have taken effect this morning.

AIRPLANE HERE FOR EXHIBITION

"Hazelton" Reached City Yesterday Afternoon Making First Flight from Interior.

The all metal PL hydroplane Hazelton, belonging to the Railway Employees' Industrial and Investment Association, glided into Prince Rupert harbor yesterday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, the first airplane to make a flight from the Central Interior of British Columbia to the sea. She carried as passengers Mrs. J. C. K. Sealy, Miss Hazel Cunningham and George M. Beirnes and was piloted by Major G. A. Thompson, these persons thus being the real pioneers of this mode of travel in this country.

The Hazelton's flight was uneventful outside of the fact that she ran into a fog bank at Inverness and had to come down to the surface of the water and taxi in the rest of the way to Prince Rupert. The machine left Hazelton on schedule time shortly after 10 o'clock, passed over Terrace about an hour and a quarter later and was over Port Essington at 12 o'clock. Had it not been necessary to come down at the mouth of the Skeena River she would have been here when expected, a few minutes after 12 o'clock. Many points along the way from Hazelton to Prince Rupert kept a watch out for the machine and she was observed clearly at most of these. It was the first time that Terrace people had seen an airplane pass over their town.

Struck Air Pockets.

The passengers on the machine tell of having struck a few air pockets on the way down which caused the machine to drop like an elevator righting herself again, quivering and picking up her flight again. Major Thompson demonstrated his skill as a pilot. Mrs. Sealy and Mr. Beirnes had made flights before in the machine but it was Miss Cunningham's first aerial ride.

The Hazelton has been engaged by the Northern B. C. Agricultural and Industrial Association to make flights in connection with this week's Exhibition. These will be made every day of the fair at set hours, the first having been scheduled to take place today.

Len Bell, president of the company owning the machine, returned from Hazelton on Saturday night's train and will be here for the week.

The Man in the Moon SAYS--

LOCAL taxpayers remind one some of the big trout. They wiggle and fight a good deal but not until after they have swallowed the bait. The fight is of little avail.

What Is Chiropractic?

Chiropractic is a name given to a science, art and philosophy of a natural thing. The practice of Chiropractic consists of the adjustment, with the hands, of the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of relieving the impinged nerve so that the life force can flow over the nerve to the tissue cells and thus restore the abnormal to normal.
