

Doings of the Mosquito Fleet which is the chief source of Prince Rupert's prosperity

There has been very little... along the waterfront during the past week...

Cow Bay Busy - Much work is being carried on in Cow Bay by the owners of boats...

Joe Baker on Ways - The halibut boat Joe Baker, Capt. Lund, is on the Ward ways...

Secow Arrives - The power boat Secow, Capt. Kenny Shirk, arrived in port early in the week...

Leinisk Ready - Aid and skinner Theo, Colhart, paid a visit to the waterfront on Wednesday...

Ben Boiliver Busy - Ben Boiliver, of odd contracting fame and skipper of the power boat Alta, is busy at the Dry Dock unloading machinery...

Iris Brines Furs - The power boat Iris, Capt. Bert Hanson, arrived in port recently from the lower end of Pitt Island...

Paddy Slaes Party - According to a radio message received at the offices of the secret service Paddy Raymond...

istered by Paddy himself as he was afraid that someone might swipe the doings. At the conclusion of the meal the whole residence was thrown into complete darkness...

Wharf Work Re-Started - The repair work to the Albert & McCaffery wharf, which has been delayed owing to shortage of the necessary piling, has been restarted...

Just It At Home - Capt. Kohert held an at home aboard his power boat Just It on Monday last. The interior of the schooner had been lavishly decorated for the occasion...

Another Wood Magnate - Jim, of Gaygeon fame, has recovered sufficiently from his annual illness, to return for a little manual labor. Having sat up for several nights thinking out a scheme to get his muscles in shape again he hit upon the brilliant idea of helping the domestic hearth to a shed of firewood...

Halibut Light - The Pacific Fisherman states that the November halibut arrivals in the north showed a considerable decline this year over the landings of last year. The shortage is due mainly to stormy weather on the Yakutat banks...

Poor Old Vic - Poor old Vic he had a scare, in fact it nearly turned his hair, you'll wonder what's it all about, well, I'll spin the yarn if you'll not shout. The Xmas season being here, Vic bought a bottle of Xmas cheer, and having spent his little sub, hid the doings in the Cub. Vic is one of the real good sort, in fact he's called a regular sport, and just to prove it was Xmas-like, he left some doings just inside. The remainder of the little crack he securely hid with a good Yale lock. Upon returning to his hair he found the doings were not there. He did not rave or get upset but said I've got some more you bet. He called on George and said "come in, we'll take a drink which is no sin." At that he dived into the place where had hid the small square face. But that is where the fun began and Vic in anger exclaimed "oh damn." For the one he had kept in reserve had vanished which shook poor Vic's nerve. He fumbled long, searched high and low but could not find it, a terrible blow. Nothing daunted Vic kept on and continued searching. It was not long before his hand the wanderer grabbed and Vic exclaimed "I've found it." Then they drank a health to Santa Claus and after that they made a pause, and the moral of this little tale is perseverance wins when all else fails.

Fish Arrivals - During the week 173,000 pounds of fish has been marketed through the local Fish Exchange. The highest price paid was 16.3c and 9c, and the lowest 12.9c and 8c. The arrivals were: Fairway, Yellowstone, Hazel, Doveen, Liberty, Polaris.

Admiral Gets Gift - Old salts are noted for their superstitions and the Admiral of the fleet is no exception to the rule. The old man always hangs up his stockings on Xmas eve, and claims that if he gets nothing in it, the stocking gets an airing anyway. However, this year the old boy's hanging up stunt proved a producer for upon rising on Xmas morning he was surprised to note that the old stocking had a bulge in it. It did not take him a moment to jump from his berth and grabbed at the covering of his lower extremity. Upon examination
