

LUX

Is recommended by leading maker of Children's Woollens

The finest woollens can be laundered repeatedly the gentle Lux way. One of the most widely known makers of infants and children's knitted garments, says:—

"Lux is ideal for woollens. It is so pure that it cannot injure the sensitive wool fibre."

Wash your woollens the gentle Lux way. Just press the rich suds through the garment again and again, and in a moment it is clean, it is new, and as soft and fluffy as the day you first saw and loved it. The thin, satiny-like flakes of Lux which are made by our own exclusive process—dissolve quickly in hot water.

There is nothing equal to Lux—it is sold only in sealed packets—dust-proof!

Great Competition in Illicit Business—Prices and Percentages

CHRISTIANA, Nov. 3.—Illicit trading in liquor in Norway has reached such a profitable trade that it is estimated twenty per cent of the population is active in rum smuggling. The excitement and adventure involved appeal to many people, and the money means small factor in causing them to enter the business.

The competition in the trade is so great that ninety per cent alcohol from Germany is bought at thirty cents a quart on the boats and sold for two dollars. The water portion of this stuff is drunk and contains a large percentage of wood alcohol and other poisonous ingredients.

Once ashore this liquor finds ready market at many times its value, and it is sold under the eyes of the government in all the cities and towns of the straited districts.

The press of Norway agrees that the situation is little short of a public scandal, but it is unable to offer any suggestions as to how the revenue department should cope with the law violators.

Meanwhile the government is losing millions of crowns, as the liquor brings no revenue into the state treasury.

VICTORIA CLAIMS MAIL DELAY FROM NORTHERN POINTS

VICTORIA, Nov. 3.—A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce recently waited on Post Office Inspector J. B. Corley and urged the need of greater consideration by Vancouver post office workers for mails from northern points to be transhipped to Victoria.

It was stated that undue delays occurring in transshipment of mail was greatly handicapping Victoria merchants in their conduct of speedy business with northern points.

Mr. Corley pointed out that if the complaints were due to post office delays there would be a prompt remedy, but he feared the origin to be due to late arrival of steamers from the north, which would cut into the time allowed for sorting letters from the smaller centres as to make it impossible to avoid delay. He promised every effort would be made to remedy matters.

The case of J. B. Robertson, charged with selling whiskey, will be heard in the city police court tomorrow morning before Magistrate McClymont.

AMERICAN MUSICIANS INVADING ENGLAND

British Bandmen Object to Being Replaced by Players From States

LONDON, Nov. 1.—A number of saxophone players came to England from America. Presumed to be students, they very soon began work in English orchestras. The incident brought to a head the resentment of British musicians against the employment of Americans while native players are out of occupation. The Musicians' Union has decided that the only effective way to deal with the matter is to approach individual employers of American musicians. A beginning will probably soon be made with a prominent West End Hotel which employs two bands composed of Americans, some of whom it is alleged have only been employed after British musicians had been dismissed for them. It was suggested that a trade dispute shall be declared against this hotel, and that the support of ex-Service men shall be invited. In cases where British ex-Service men are affected, the British Legion has already promised its active assistance.

WIDOW LOSES CASE AT PRIVY COUNCIL

Compensation Act Covered All Cases Happening Within Province of B.C.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press).—The appeal in the case of Walpole against the Canadian Northern railways was dismissed by the judicial committee of the privy council. The appeal was from a judgment of the Saskatchewan court of appeal, which affirmed a decision of Justice Bigelow.

The appeal arose out of a fatal accident in British Columbia to the appellant's husband, an engine driver on the Canadian Northern railway. The engine fell through a bridge on the line. After her husband's death the widow went to Saskatoon to reside and she brought an action against the company in the province of Saskatchewan, alleging negligence and claiming damages. The railway company denied the negligence charge, and pleaded that as the deceased engine driver was domiciled and employed in British Columbia, and not in Saskatchewan, the laws of the former province were alone applicable. By those laws all the railway companies were compelled to contribute to a fund, out of which compensation for accidents were payable and such benefits, it was contended, were in lieu of all rights of action to which the workmen or their dependents would otherwise be entitled.

The widow was awarded $16,000 damages by the jury at the trial of the action, but Judge Bigelow dismissed the suit on the ground that the widow had no right to sue the company in Saskatchewan. This decision was unanimously affirmed by the court of appeal, and then the case was carried to the privy council.

CHANGING SEXES SCIENTISTS CLAIM

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The day should come, according to eminent British zoologists, when science will be able to determine and to control the power of growth. The interest taken in this subject was shown by the numerous audience which attended a lecture on interauxiliary before the British Association by Dr. F. A. E. Chew.

Dr. Chew is the scientist who last year reported the result of some remarkable experiments during which he changed hens into growing cockerels. The continuation of these experiments, he said, had resulted in the complete reversal of the sex of hens and cockerels. But his lecture this year dealt chiefly with goats.

A case was known to him, he said, of a goat which had won prizes when an immature female and which came later to assume male characteristics and in behaviour was a male.

"I believe," he said, that an animal possessing the functions of the female can undergo such a complete transformation as to function as a male.

Her Three Children HAD Whooping Cough

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but it is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble as it helps to clear the congested air passages of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way brings on the "whoop" which brings the so much sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs.

Mrs. H. W. Nabar, Kentville, N. S., writes: "My three children had whooping cough. I tried every medicine I could think of until an old gentleman told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Before they had one bottle taken the cough seemed better, and after two bottles they were about well. It loosened the cough and relieved them of that hard, distressing and straining feeling that goes with it."

"Dr. Wood's" is 35c and 60c a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SERVE CIGARETTES AT DRESS PARADES IN LONDON STORES

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Wonderful tea parties have been in progress at the big stores, where autumn dress parades have been held. At the more ambitious a half was called midway in the parade, and an army of parlor-maids and porters appeared with little fold-up tables, opened them out, spread them with snowy damask in the twinkling of an eye, and placed a little pot of tea, thin sandwiches, bread and butter and little cakes in front of each visitor.

Other firms send round mere cups of tea on trays followed by an army of elderly waiters with plates of cakes; while others again, more slipshod, planted two tiny cakes on the saucer of each cup and dared their clients to ask for more.

Where parades were held at the more exclusive private firms cigarettes were handed around after tea, which had the result of making women sit on to finish their smoke and see the second part of the show instead of bolting, as some of them did immediately after tea at less hospitable places.
