Firmer Basis for Future Is Resolved Upon Annual Meeting of Canadian Club

Resolve that the future activities of the organization shall be characterized with even more energy and co-operation than in the past was the keynote of feeling and discussion at the annual meeting of the Canadian Club, which was held last night in the Court House. A creditable record of past work was reviewed in reports of officers and several suggestions for the future, some of which were adopted, were advanced. Generally, a firmer basis of future endeavor, especially from a financial standpoint, was set out. Election of officers was the principal item of business at the meeting. Judge Young presided and J. H. McMullin acted as secretary. There were present besides: Ald. Theo. Collart, L. W. Patmore, D. G. Stewart, W. S. Fisher, Joe Greer, Rev. Canon G. A. Rix, Col. S. P. Mc-Mordie, J. F. Maguire, O. H. Nelson, H. F. McLeod and Ald. John Dybhavn.

L. W. Patmore was elected president in succession to Judge Young who firmly declined to again accept the office which he held for ten of the eleven years' history of the club in the city. Regret was generally expressed that the judge saw fit to take such action and tribute was paid to the manner in which he had guided the activities of the club during his long period of office. In order that his services and dignity might not be lost, the office of honorary president was established, on suggestion of Canon Rix, and the judge was unanimously chosen to occupy that post of honor.

New Officers.

Honorary President, Judge F. McB. Young.

President, L. W. Patmore.

First vice president, Canon G. A. Rix.

Second vice president, D. G. Stewart.

Secretary-treasurer, Walter Gale.

Executive committee, J. H. McMullin, W. S. Fisher, O. H. Nelson, H. F. Pullen and G. A. McNicholl.

Judge Young, in announcing his retirement from the office of president, stated that he had had the honor of being president for all the period of the club's history since its establishment in 1911 with the exception of one year when Bishop Du Vernet had been president. He had felt it a great honor.

Rotation of Officers.

"But I do not think it is in the best interests of the club," went on Judge Young, "that one man should continue in the office for any length of time. In the past, however, no one has seemed willing to take on the office. Such a practice as I have suggested should be followed, I think, and should be operated from now on. There should be a new list of office bearers this year and it should rotate in future. It would create a greater interest in the club and would make for rivalry between the officers of the various years.

"Before retiring I would like to say a few words on the idea of the Canadian Club, what it is and what its functions are. It was originally created to encourage the spirit of patriotism and to keep the members in touch with the world affairs, to think imperially and to get away from provincialism.

Two Functions.

"The club functions in two ways—first, in conjunction with the Association of Canadian Clubs and, secondly, in giving luncheons where outstanding men, national or international, may be entertained and heard. As far as the first function is and also offered to take speakers in charge as our guests between here and Vancouver. Only one man, the Chinese Consul General, took advantage of this offer.

"Our community service is of an educational nature and the only means we have of carrying it out is through the medium of these addresses. We sent offers to Hon. N. W. Rowell, Lord Jellicoe, Lord Alholstane, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne and Sir Phillip Gibbs and many others to speak here but none of them could come. The incoming officers will be faced with the same difficulty although there may possibly be a slight improvement."

Financial Matters.

The judge then went on to deal with financial matters of the club stating that there was a small deficit and the luncheons should pay for themselves. The idea in the past had been to keep the price down and the result had been that there had always been splendid attendance with never a failure. The reason that the finances had gone slightly behind was because membership dues had not been collected for the past two years or so. The committee and the secretary had not assisted in the work and he did not think that he was to be expected to go out with a subscription book to collect the fees. The club should be organized now so that one could attend the luncheons who had not paid fees and were not duly qualified members. All should pay their membership dues and then there would be a fund to draw on for expenditures such as car hire, telegrams and other extraordinary expenditures. The luncheons would take care of themselves.

Vote of Appreciation.

Canon Rix, in proposing a vote of appreciation to Judge Young, stated that His Honor, had constantly taken an interest in the affairs of the club when the rest of the committee had been dilatory. He had done more than ever should have been expected of him. Why had he even have to sell tickets? He (Canon Rix) would have the club go on record as appreciating the consistent and intelligent work which had been carried on under Judge Young.

L. W. Patmore, seconding the motion, said that Judge Young had nothing to chide himself about as far as the record of the club was concerned. If there was any blame to be placed it was the committee that should receive it. The members had not taken the proper interest and had left it all to the judge who was only too willing. Any criticism against him was neither right nor fair. He had carried out admirably all the legitimate functions of the club and all criticism should be levelled at the committee, which had failed signally in its duty.

When the business of electing officers commenced, D. G. Stewart asked Judge Young to reconsider his decision to relinquish the presidency. He thought possibly he had been put out by criticism which had appeared in the press.

Ashamed of Nothing.

"No, I am not sore," said Judge Young, "I do not know who writes the editorials in the News. Whoever writes them has the right to express his opinions and to publish them, but, in view of them, I have felt it my duty to explain the objects and functions of the Club and how they have been carried out. Why should I be ashamed because the News does not think we have carried them out right?" J. F. Maguire also asked the MEMBERSHIP FEES. The matter of membership fees was taken up and it was decided to charge $1 per year. The question of making the luncheons exclusive to members was discussed but it was decided to leave it in abeyance until more members had been obtained. Judge Young, W. S. Fisher, J. F. Maguire and O. H. Nelson were of the opinion that the luncheons should be limited to members while President-elect Patmore and Canon Rix thought the time was inopportune to restrict them in that manner.
