BRINGING UP FATHER

STRANGE WILL OF SCOTTISH TEACHER

James Campbell Christie, of Glasgow, Bequeaths Ashes as Potato Fertilizer

LONDON, May 29.—(By Canadian Press)—Many peculiar wills find their way through the Probate Court, but few of them can compare with the strange will of James Campbell Christie, an ex-schoolmaster and science teacher, of Kilmailing Street, Cathcart, Glasgow, who died recently, leaving an estate valued at £3,440.

Christie bequeathed his personal clothing and bed clothes to the Old Men and Women's Home, Glasgow, and "if not accepted" to the Charity Organization Society, or to any really necessitous or deserving persons whose circumstances were well known to any of the trustees of his estate, with a strong preference in favor of total abstainers, non-smokers, and unbelievers in any religion. People who wasted or had wasted money in alcohol or tobacco did not deserve charitable assistance, his will stated.

The utmost simplicity was to be observed in his funeral, Christie stipulated. No hearse was to be used, but a plain carriage, with the box underneath, "or any simpler or less expensive way" of conveying his body to the crematorium. He had paid the cremation fee several years in advance of his death. He wished no one to waste time by attending his funeral. He desired that his ashes should not be preserved, but disposed of by the crematorium management, or "used by any of my trustees or others to fertilise their potatoes."

WHEN PA'S PAPER DOESN'T COME.

My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right. He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusin' it all night. He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read. And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need. He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum— But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the weddin's and he snorts like all get out; He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout; He says they make the papers for the women folks alone. He'll read about the parties, and he'll fume and fret and groan; He says of information it doesn't have a crumb— But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He's always first to grab it, and he reads it plumb clean through. He doesn't miss an item or a want ad—that is true. He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys. "I'm going to take a day sometimes and go and put 'em wise; Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dumb—"

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

INTERIOR OF GASBOAT AND OWNER'S EFFECTS DESTROYED BY FIRE

The fire department received a call on Saturday afternoon at Cow Bay, where they found that the interior of the salmon trawler Harvest Home, owned by John Morley, was on fire.

The hose was laid out and the fire extinguished before any serious damage was done to the hull although the cabin and personal contents were destroyed. It appears that Morley was emptying gasoline from one receptacle to another and, in lighting a torch, the gasoline caught fire. Fire Chief McDonald stated that it was only by a miracle the boat did not blow up with serious consequences. No insurance is carried.

RELICS FROM BATTLE OF NASEBY FOUND

LONDON, May 29.—Authentic copies of four historic letters—three of them from Oliver Cromwell, Fairfax and Leighton, relating to the Battle of Naseby—have just been presented to the House of Commons by Sir Robert Leicester Harmsworth, M.P.

These copies, transcribed by Horace Walpole, are believed to have been found in 1754, within a wall 9 feet thick, on pulling down a house in Palace yard, Westminster, in order to build an office for the clerks of the House of Lords. The documents, suitably framed, are to be placed beneath the authentic portrait of Speaker Lenthall, which hangs in the Speaker's residence.

VANCOUVER HOSPITAL IN MINING BUSINESS

Will Take Out Miner's Licence and Try to Collect Patient's Bill

When the health of Manson MacMillan, well-known in the early days as a prospector, became undermined, he became a patient at the Vancouver General Hospital with the result that his bill reached four-figure proportions. Some little time ago, being unable to make payment, he offered the hospital his mine as security.

Samples of the ore were secured by the directors and as the specimens were rich in quality, they decided to accept the mine as security. The bill amounts to $2500 and the directors paid in assessment, this amount covering the past two years. MacMillan had been offered $10,000 for the mine, which is known as the Fortune claim, on Douglas Channel, near the Drum Lummon property.

Directors' Problem
Time has slipped by and MacMillan is still in the hospital and the mine is unsold. The directors are at a loss.

SPECIAL MUSIC IN METHODIST CHURCH

The special music by the Junior Choir at yesterday's service in the Methodist church was enjoyed by a large congregation. Miss Winnie Dobb gave a very fine rendering of "The Glory Song," and Miss Cathie Irvine "We've a Story to Tell to the Nation" with much effect.

The choir sang the anthem, "The Lord is My Shepherd," H. C. Higgins taking the solo. H. C. Higgins preached the sermon taking as his subject, "Christ as a friend." Skidegate, due Skidegate 7 p.m.
