Another Victory
For Lloyd George.

The little Welshman has scored another victory and has made possible a peaceful solution of the Irish difficulties. If the leaders make an honest effort and are willing to sink their prejudices, it seems as if there might be better things in store for the Emerald Isle.

Now that Lloyd George has been the only man who could stop what looked like civil war in Ireland, it is hardly likely the political rebellion against him will amount to much just now. He should easily secure the support he wants for the Genoa conference. Outside of its value to Ireland, the settlement was a great tactical move. Britishers must realize that a man who is able to exert such an influence in home affairs is the man to represent Britain and try to bring some sort of order out of the economic chaos of Europe.

Get Smith Brothers
To Call Here.

An effort should be made to get the two famous aviators, the Smith brothers, to call at Prince Rupert on their round the world flight. They have to stop at one or two Alaskan ports and they might well make Prince Rupert a port of call. Having facilities for landing on water or land, they could use this harbor for their purpose.

Whether the overlaid flight will be made along the line of the G. T. P. to Edmonton or from Vancouver inland has not yet been stated. Possibly the matter needs further investigation. If they take the northern route they should certainly come here, flying by way of the interior points and landing at some of the same places used by the New York aviators who flew to Nome.

Urging Legislation
Dealing With Drugs.

The British Columbia members are a unit in demanding that a change be made in the criminal law of Canada to make it possible to check the trade in drugs which has been going on in the West. Other parts of the country should be equally interested, for in Winnipeg the drug evil has become a menace, and other parts of Canada are also feeling its baneful effects. It is ridiculous to administer small fines for offenders who will pay the cost of the fine from one small shipment of the drugs. Strenuous measures are necessary and a strict enforcement of the laws locally, provincially and throughout the Dominion.

Why Not Retaliate
Against Alaska.

There should be the most friendly relations exist between Alaska and this port, for each can be of service to the other. If it is found, however, that the Alaskans are forever trying to legislate against us, it will be for us to take the offensive and induce the Dominion Government to protect our interests. If the Alaska people make it difficult to carry on the fishing business here, we might secure the abrogation of bonding privileges and insist that all business be done by Canadian fishing boats. It is certain that if hostile action is taken against us it will be necessary for us to be hostile.

We do not think, however, that the American fishermen want to make their business with this port difficult. We do not think the people of Alaska generally are opposed to Prince Rupert. There is no reason why they should be. Some of them are being led away by powerful real estate interests and imagine they see benefit to themselves by injuring us.

There is never any real gain from obstructing the course of trade. The people of the Eastern States want fresh halibut and they want it in the best possible condition. They can best get it by having the fish landed at this port and rushed through in refrigerator cars to the east on fast trains. In order to facilitate this, the railway company is now trying to arrange for a daily evening train out of Prince Rupert so that fish auctions may be held here every day and the fish carried on the passenger trains, thus reaching the consumers as quickly as possible. Anything which will prevent the eastern people getting good fresh food when it is available is not only bad business but is positively immoral. Prince Rupert is the natural shipping port for fish, and the fishermen want to ship their product from here. They know that if they are forced to ship from any other port they will get less for their fish and the market will be injured by the product reaching it in poor condition.

PREST FLIGHT
IS ABANDONEDWell Known Aviator Will Not
Be Making His Siberia Trip
This Year.

Word has been received in Smithers that the New York to Siberia flight planned this year by Aviator G. O. Prest, who made an unsuccessful attempt last fall, is to be abandoned for the present.

In acknowledging receipt of information supplied by the Smithers town clerk regarding landing fields, Aviator Prest announced that obstacles had cropped up which would make the trip impossible this season. Landing conditions were approved, however, and should the airman decide later to make the flight he will make a landing at Smithers.

NOT TO TAKE
SALMON EGGSChief Inspector of Fisheries Says
Stuart Lake Hatchery Will Be Closed.

There will be no depredations on the Skeena River salmon for the benefit of the Fraser River this year. A short time ago the Board of Trade wrote J. A. Motherwell, chief inspector of fisheries, asking if it was the intention this year to follow the practice of previous years in taking salmon eggs from the headquarters of the Skeena and placing them in the Fraser River. The following is the reply:

"I have your communication of the 11th inst. with regard to the transferring of salmon eggs from the Skeena River to the Fraser River and also with regard to the Indians coming from the Fraser for the purpose of obtaining their food in the Skeena River district.

"As it is not the intention this year to transfer any salmon eggs or fry from the Skeena River district to the Fraser River area, the Stuart Lake hatchery will be closed after the present hatch has been liberated.

"The question of the Indians taking such a heavy toll of the spawning salmon in the Babine Lake district and especially those coming from the Fraser River watershed, has been taken up very strongly by this department with that of Indian affairs and it is hoped that the results will be entirely satisfactory."

FOUR JAPANESE
WERE DISMISSEDR.C.M.P. Found Still Cached But Could Not Connect It With Accused.

Y. Inouye, Y. Inouye, K. Osaki and T. Toki, the four Japanese of Balmoral, who were charged by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police under the Inland Revenue Act with having stills unlawfully in their possession, were dismissed by Magistrate McMullin yesterday afternoon.

Corporal Newnam gave evidence as to having caught the four red-handed in a house in the act of caching liquor and Constable Thornthwaite testified as to having found a still some 200 feet away from the house cached in the bush. No connection between the Japanese and the still could, however, be proven so the case fell flat. L. W. Patmore counsel for the defense, asking the protection of the court on certain matters regarding the Moderation Act of B. C.

The disposal of these four cases cleans up the list as a result of the recent raid at the mouth of the Skeena River, by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

PURSER SHOT AN EAGLE ON QUEEN
CHARLOTTE ISLANDS

Norman McLean, purser of the steamer Prince Albert, while the ship was at Skidegate this week, shot an eagle which spanned nine feet from wing tip to wing tip. The bird, on being struck with the lead, fell into the water and a rowboat had to be used to retrieve it. The trophy is now being shown on the Prince Albert which sailed last night for Stewart.

AUCTION SALE
EXTRAORDINARY

Now that the announcement has been made as of yesterday's issue you know the truth. All sorts of questions have been fired at Mr. Bulger. Many will not believe it, but today at 2:30 p.m. we started selling by auction, and will do so again tonight. One business man made the remark, "Of course you are not offering your best goods by auction." Let me say yes, positively yes! Anything and everything. The stock is to be reduced one-third of its present size. Come early and you get the better choice.

RARE OPPORTUNITY

The assortment of fine china is very good and there are all, or mostly all, of the well-known makers. This is a rare opportunity to get some of this very fine china at your own price. Also a swell stock of indestructible French pearl strings, wrist watches, gentlemen's watches, silver tableware, umbrellas, clocks, French ivory, rings, brooches, lavallieres, table lamps, cut glass, necklets, leather bags, mesh bags, etc., etc., and lots of other nice things too numerous to mention.

QUESTIONS, Etc.

Many have asked Mr. Bulger why he secured the services of Mr. Dorer. All sorts of reasons have been whispered round town. Ladies and gentlemen, come in and hear Mr. Dorer explain these goods, and you will know why Mr. Dorer is here. He has been with some of the largest retail firms in the world as a watchmaker. He has been in business for himself. He has been connected with the jewelry business some twenty-eight.

RE PRIZES

Another thing being discussed is, "How are they going to give these prizes away?" Just this way: Everybody on time at the start of the sale will get a ticket with a number in duplicate, then during the afternoon sale we will collect one of your numbers and draw for first, second and third prizes; the same in the evening. It means six prizes each day, and on the last day's sale you have again another chance with each ticket for the Tea Service.

NOW IS THE TIME

It is the intention to try and make everybody as comfortable as possible, though space will not permit of too many chairs, yet we will have all that space will allow. The sale will be on again Monday and Tuesday, but no sale on Wednesday. It will continue again on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. For the benefit of those who can not attend the auction we will be open in the mornings from 9:30 to 1 p.m. for private sale at Auction Prices, so that everybody can get accommodated.

OLE SOLEM MAKING GOOD RECOVERY AT
GENERAL HOSPITALOle Solem, who was Wounded
With Ratfish Spine, Will Be
Out in a Few Days Time.

Ole Solem, the fisherman from the boat Revilla, whose lung was pierced early this week when the spine of a ratfish entered his back, is recovering nicely and will likely be discharged from the General Hospital in the course of a few days. With medical attention and care, infection, which usually follows a wound of this nature, was largely prevented.

PRINCE GEORGE

J. Fraser, of Vancouver, and J. J. McGinnis, J. McNeill and P. Cameron, of Prince George, have left here for the Cedar Creek gold diggings. They represent a Vancouver development syndicate. This is the first party to leave here for the scene of the gold excitement in the Quesnel country.

H. G. Perry, M.L.A., and A. Dixon, public works engineer, addressed the Mtd River Farmers' Institute last week.

While Mayor Johnson is attending the Associated Boards of Trade convention in Victoria, Ald. A. M. Patterson is acting mayor.

The placer mining proposition on Government Creek is being rapidly put in shape for hydraulic.

He operations. The sawmill to cut flume timber is already running. Six men are engaged and machinery is now being installed.

Ald. Gardner, local painter, left last week for Prince Rupert to work on the painting of the station there.

Bill West, the well known West Lake prospector, is here on his way to the Cedar Creek diggings.

Ten Years Ago
In Prince Rupert

April 1, 1912.

Mrs. Carl is prosecuting George Turnbull in the police court for shooting her $500 dog. There was some amusing word between City Solicitor Forbes and W. E. Fisher.

The Princess May was delayed ten hours in arriving from the south today on account of having broken a tailshaft. The voyage to Skagway is being continued with one propeller.

The name of Goose Bay, where the Granby Co. is building a smelter, has been officially changed by the Dominion Government to Granby Bay.

TERRACE

A local dramatic organization put on the two act farce "A Box of Monkeys" in Progress Hall last night. Those in the cast were Mrs. F. Ross, Miss Marsh, Mrs. O. Sundal, R. H. Chandler and Arthur Sharpe. A four piece orchestra provided music.

There is still sufficient ice on the Skeena River to permit of crossing by foot.

The Amshury Mill will soon be in operation. George Doyer, millwright, is busy getting a crew and the machinery in shape.

The intelligent, shrewd attention which is given to selling should include advertising.
