ASK HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND

Matter Discussed in British House of Commons but Dropped.

LONDON, July 3.—Some Scotsmen in the House of Commons, want Home Rule for Scotland and intimate that there may be "trouble" in Scotland soon if Scotland doesn't get it. They got an opportunity to say what they thought about it the other day when the "Government of Scotland bill" was unexpectedly introduced. So also did some of its opponents who were very strongly of the opinion that it was not wanted.

Not Separation.
Alexander Shaw, a Scots member, protested that there was no desire for anything like separation in Scotland. Under the bill the Scottish representation in the Imperial Parliament would remain unchanged, but one legislative body would be set up in Scotland to deal with its local affairs.

Sir Donald McLean the staunch anti-secessionist Scots Liberal, gave the bill his blessing. He alluded to the land hunger in Scotland and told how it had led to the seizure of land there since the war. If they had had a Scotch legislature the land question he declared, would have been settled long ago. At the next election every candidate for a Scottish constituency would have to support the principle of home rule for Scotland. It would give England a better chance to attend to her own legislative business properly.

Keen Scotsmen Out.
Colonel John Ward, who entered

Parliament as a navy and was promptly acclaimed the handsomest man in the House, humorously put the British case. He said he would support the bill if it would keep Scotsmen out of the best posts in England and induce them to stick to their own business at home.

Dr. Murray, a representative of the Western Isles, darkly suggested that the House should pass the bill while Scotland was yet calm, and not wait to be coerced into doing so by the burning of sundry ancient castles of Scotland. The bill was finally "talked out" while there were still a lot of members anxious to air their views about it. The hope was expressed that an opportunity might be soon afforded for really testing the feeling of the House concerning the matter.

The Last Cup
as smooth as the first.

ASK FOR MEDICINE TO MAKE A BOY BABY

Montenegrin Women Appeal to Red Cross Nurses

CETINJE, Montenegro, July 3.—There has been an alarming decrease in the birth rate of Montenegro, due to the loss during the war of so many of the "Black Mountain" fighting men. The government is offering premiums to mothers who bear male children. The females now greatly outnumber the males.

The incentives offered by the government to mothers of male children have resulted in pathetic appeals from the untutored peasant women to the American Red Cross nurses to give them "some medicine to make a boy."

In Montenegro boys are considered much more valuable than girls, and the constant prayer of the mountain dweller is that she may be blessed with a male child. This disparity in the sexes is largely the outgrowth of the days when Turkey held dominion over the Balkans and when the liberty-loving Montenegrins had an ever-present need of men to defend the homeland.

In Montenegro the women do all the work, the men considering manual labor undignified. They feel it their chief duty to carry firearms and swords, talk politics, and prepare for the next war.

CHANGES TAKE PLACE IN GREAT BRITAIN

Correspondent of Daily News Writes Interestingly of Things in Old Land.

LONDON, July 3.—It is surprising that in travelling throughout England one hardly ever meets a horse except on the land. Motor traffic has become so common that the roads are objectionable to pedestrians. The small type of car has become very popular on account of the small cost of maintenance and the moderate first cost.

The char-a-banc also has come to stay. They do quite a business in evening drive into the country and are as a rule well patronized. Owing to distressing labor troubles the number have been lessened somewhat, but as soon as these are settled, business will become normal and people will again patronize to the full the motor vehicles.

Strikes and Lockouts.

The strikes and lockouts are proving very disastrous. The unions have paid away their funds and some of them have run into debt, while the members have been running up bills at local grocers and co-operative stores. These it will take a long time to pay off. The men will have to go back to work on terms which they could have had without any strikes.

The younger horseheads among the strikers seem to be at the bottom of the trouble while the leaders have not dared to lead. War time conditions are gradually being left behind but the real trouble to let go is hard, especially to those who know little of economics. While the outlook for employment does not seem very bright, it is expected that there will be a steady improvement in the autumn and by Christmas the worst should be over.

BUY, BYE.

Clerk—(displaying shoddy goods)—Here's a good buy for your money, that will wear well.
Mrs. Bargain Hunter—(examining goods)—Yes, it's a good buy and farewell for my money—
