MR. PATTULLO'S ADDRESS

In these days when every person has the right and, to a certain extent, the ability to think for himself, there are, of course, hundreds of individual opinions all of which differ from all others. For that reason there will be differences in detail regarding the address given by T. D. Pattullo Tuesday night. Any statesman today has to take a middle course which will receive more or less general approval.

Mr. Pattullo is a Liberal, bound to a large degree by the Liberal platform evolved at the recent convention, but he also can exercise a great deal of individuality. When he becomes premier he will be the man who will advise the lieutenant-governor and will have power to dismiss othe members of the cabinet just as Dr. Tolmie has today. I will be guided by Liberal principles but, from time to time questions will arise which will make it necessary to tak action apart from the guiding Liberal program.

In his address Mr. Pattullo did very little criticizing bu dealt instead with constructive policies which caused hi hearers to ponder and think. Incidentally he touched of federal matters. It was a new kind of speech to which Prince Rupert people listened and one that is still impress ing them.
