Lloyd George Pleased at Conference CANADIAN PEER SAYS OUTLOOK FOR FUTURE IS VERY BRIGHT

British Premier Describes Genoa Parley As Inspiring Landmark on path of Peace

GENOA, May 19.—Premier Lloyd George, of Great Britain, in a valedictory speech today at the economic conference, said that the conference had gathered fine crops. The great achievements, he said, had been the meeting to be held at The Hague, the non-aggression pact, which was agreed to yesterday, and the reports of the finance, transport and economic commissions. These results, he declared, would have to be incorporated into living practice, however, in order to aid in the restoring of European vigor and prosperity. The British premier received great applause when he rose to deliver his address. He was in fine form and good humor.

"We are now at the end of the most remarkable conference ever held in the history of the world," he said. "The Genoa conference will forever be an inspiring landmark in the pathway of peace."

TREATY VOTE IN IRELAND EARLY JUNE

Republicans, Having Objections to Voters' List, May Try to Prevent.

DUBLIN, May 19.—It is the present intention of the provisional government of Ireland to hold the elections for the Free State Parliament early in June. The electors will be asked to vote not merely, as was originally contemplated, for or against the treaty, but for or against the detailed constitution prepared for the Free State.

This plan, forced upon the Free Staters by De Valera, is unwelcome to the Labor Party which formed a large part of the Sinn Fein strength and which is mostly favorable to the treaty. The Labor Party leaders fear that the constitution may be too conservative in form for them, and would prefer that the issue were confined solely to the treaty.

The immediate trouble is the voters register which has been challenged as obsolete and unfair by Mr. De Valera. It is charged that it not only disfranchises 300,000 voters in the northern area but omits in the south classes on whose support De Valera can count. To prepare a new register would take several weeks—Mr. Griffiths says months—and as a speedy election is desired by the government the present decision of Mr. Griffiths is to adhere to the existing register.

May Prevent Election.

This may lead to the refusal of the Republicans to stand as candidates for any of the seats and in that event the section of the army opposed to the treaty might think itself justified in preventing the elections by force.

The Free State party is commencing its campaign.

MADAME FAHEY WAS DELIGHTFUL

Second Appearance Here Last Night Proved Splendid Success.

Well over 600 people were in the audience which welcomed Madame Lugrin-Fahey at the Westholme Theatre in her recital under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club last night and the warmth of their reception testified to the admiration and appreciation which accompanied her second appearance in this city. Her gorgeous voice has, if anything, gained in brilliance and power since her last recital here and the program displayed her enhanced gifts of interpretation and musical understanding. The whole program developed the idea of her versatility and histrionic ability and whether in the intense or the poetic, the pensive or the gay, she seemed quite naturally to express the appropriate mood. Her beauty of diction was well manifested in some of the numbers, others disclosing the remarkable range of her voice. Throughout the program, Mrs. A. J. Gibson, as accompanist, assisted by Mrs. Waller, both of Victoria, gave splendid support and to some people the excellence of the rendition of the accompaniments was a worthy second and delight to the feature of the evening, Madame Fahey's lovely dramatic soprano.

Opening Numbers.

The program was opened with Verdi's dramatic aria, "Pace, Pace, Mio Dio," in Italian which displayed the excellence of the soloist's forte in the upper and middle registers. As an encore, Madame Fahey sang the sparkling and effective, "The Year's at the Spring."

In the second group she had four numbers, "The Loreley," by Liszt; Greig's, "With a Water Lily"; Desseaux's "Come Out My Dearest," and "At the Well." The lower register of her voice and her dramatic ability were manifestly portrayed in each of these and it would be difficult to say which, if any, was the favorite, so enthusiastically were they all received.

The third group opened with the scintillating Italian valser aria of Arditi's "Se Saran Rose," which proved a great favorite. The melodious accompaniment here set off the dainty vocal effort and was much commented on. As an encore, "Down Vauxhall Way," was given, both numbers showing that while fundamentally a dramatic soprano, Madame Fahey has other resources.

Interpretive Gifts.

The fourth group was immensely popular, each of the four numbers featuring interpretive gifts on the part of the soloist. The group included, "The Kerry Dances," "Long, Long Ago," "No, John, No," and "Call-er Herrin." In response to the insistent demands for an encore "Gommi Thru The Rye" was sung.

The final numbers on the program were "Apple Blossom Time," "Pale Moon," "Spring Song of the Robin Woman," "Spring," and "The Answer." The fourth number, a descriptive air with its setting in Victoria, is the composition of two Victorians, the words being by Mrs. Ebbs-Canavan and the music by J. Douglas Macey. It proved quite popular.

Madame Fahey was very gracious in her encores and the program was closed with a request

Lord Beaverbrook Urges British Business Men To Turn From East to West

LONDON, May 19.—Lord Beaverbrook, who was the principal guest at a luncheon of the London Commercial Club today, spoke of commercial opportunities and said that he had supreme confidence in the future. Lord Beaverbrook urged business men to turn away from Central Europe and look towards England, Scotland, Ireland, Australia, Canada, America and other foreign markets where British commerce and industry would prosper to a greater degree even if there was a real awakening in Central Europe.

group of four numbers, "La Marseillaise," (in French), "Robin Adair," "The Bag Pipe Man," and "The Cuckoo." Madame Fahey had been heard before here in some of these and the wist for their repetition was fully justified.

Tribute Is Paid.

During the closing part of the program tribute was paid to the popularity of the soloist in a beautiful bouquet which was presented.

After the recital, Madame Fahey and Mrs. Gibson were the guests of honor at a midnight supper, given in the St. Regis Cafe by the Ladies' Musical Club, covers being set for 27. Later several of the members accompanied the guests to the steamer on which they embarked returning south.

The concert was under the general direction of Mrs. W. E. Williams, president of the Ladies' Musical Club, Mrs. Joe Greer, secretary, giving valuable assistance. IMPROVEMENTS YACHT CLUB

Docking Facilities For Launches is Doubled and Greatly Improved

The Prince Rupert Yacht Club have just completed an extensive addition to the docking and float facilities adjacent to the clubhouse. Between 30 and 40 new piles have been driven to which will be anchored seven dolphins. This will enable each boat to have a separate stall of its own thus preventing chafing and damage. It will also give one hundred per cent more boat accommodation.

N. M. McLean, the local boat building contractor, has been the superintendent on the new work, and W. T. Muse did the pile driving.

The Yacht Club season will open on Empire Day, May 24, when members of the club who own power boats will probably test out their crafts by putting on a motor boat race.
