The Forests And The Duties Of The Public.

An appeal for timber preservation in Canada generally and British Columbia particularly, was the keynote of the splendid address delivered by E. C. Manning, district forester, before the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon. The address was not a recital of records and very few figures were read. The little history that was given too was that of the United States forests which Mr. Manning referred to as an example of what might happen to Canada unless the forest wealth is carefully preserved. The government has it in its power to regulate the quantity of timber used and details connected with the actual consumption of the forests. It is its duty to look after this and the ordinary individual is not responsible.

There is a responsibility that every citizen does have, however, and that is to see that the timber is not recklessly or willfully wasted through acts of carelessness which might cause forest fires—the greatest enemy of the country's timber wealth. Forest fires probably cause more destruction of timber than commercial cutting of it does. Therefore, it is of the greatest importance that all care be taken in regard to fires in the woods and give no cause that might lead to immense devastation. The danger may not be so great in the immediate vicinity of Prince Rupert on account of weather conditions, but when Prince Rupert people visit other drier sections they should always be on the look-out and observe the rules with minute care.

Unemployment Situation Is Improving

While demonstrations on the part of the unemployed are daily reported from Vancouver, in Prince Rupert the situation is steadily improving, and many men who have been workless during the winter are now finding employment. Some people, no doubt, felt the pinch during the winter, but very few cases of dire distress were reported. The city has been fortunate in that respect. The improvement to the ordinary person may not yet seem very marked but, nevertheless, there is an improvement as the figures given by J. M. Campbell, government employment, yesterday indicated, and through a period of hard times, generally, the city seems to be maintaining a good measure of prosperity. Money may be tight, it is true, but that is only comparatively so. Spending recklessly has been the abnormal habit for years now. People are only returning to normal habits now.

People Are Becoming Saner About Insanity.

The public is said to be becoming saner about insanity. Families used to consider it a terrible stigma if any of their kin was considered "a little bit off." But thousands of people in the United States and Canada now go to free dispensaries "for mental and nervous disorders." The war and the business depression which followed caused a considerable increase in mental disorders, but it is not only serious worries and stresses that shove the mind off an even keel. Some people become unbalanced by too much recreation just as others skid from the path of sanity because of overwork or domestic unhappiness.

Information regarding causes, treatment and prevention of mental disorders generally should be popularized. Probably fifty per cent of the people in asylums and feeble-minded hospitals could have been saved from such a fate if the proper preventive measures had been taken in time. It is said that the asylums have a greater enrolment than the colleges. If such is the case people ought to be taught to have themselves examined by competent physicians if they feel queer or their acquaintances consider them so. Perhaps the most hopeful way of cutting down insanity may be the attitude of parents and teachers toward children. Often the youngsters who are backward or queer merely need to have their tonsils or adenoids removed.

Cultivation of health through proper habits of the mind and the cutting out of bad mental habits is one idea that should be put in the public's head. Brooding over being snubbed by others, or misfortunes or injuries, should not be indulged in. Work instead of day dreaming may also aid in preventing people getting job-sided between the ears.

PIANO RECITAL WAS EXCELLENT

Pupils of St. Joseph's Convent Pleased Invited Audience Last Evening.

An excellent piano recital presided over by Rev. Father McGrath, was given by the pupils of the St. Joseph's Convent, last night. Owing to the limited accommodation the audience was restricted to invited guests. The recital was certainly a musical treat.

Miss Lorna Tite was admired by her many friends who marvelled at the almost incredible progress that she has made in her musical career. Miss Dorothy Thompson was also remarkable for the skill with which she executed her very important part of the program. The unique feature of the program were the piano duets, rendered by these two young ladies.

The ease and grace with which Miss Agnes Grafton rendered a very difficult number proved talent beyond her years.

Miss Jean Stalker surprised and delighted her friends with the splendid rendering of her number.

Miss Virginia Riel's rendering of Duetto was highly appreciated.

Special mention is also due to the little girls who pleased their audience by their sweet singing of a pretty lullaby.

At the close of the program Rev. Father McGrath expressed appreciation on behalf of the audience, in a few words, congratulating both pupils and teachers on the high class entertainment provided. He voiced the sentiment of the music lovers when he said that the music provided was equal to anything they could hear in a large centre. T. McElmont also spoke a few words of appreciation.

The program was as follows: Piano duet, "Wedding Dance," Jensen, by Miss Lorna Tite and Miss Dorothy Thompson.
Piano solo, "At the Fountain," Duetto, by Miss Virginia Riel.
Piano duet, "Valse," Chamade, by Miss Lorna Tite and Miss Dorothy Thompson.
Piano solo, "At Evening," Satorio, by Miss Jean Stalker.
Piano solo, "Rigoletto," Verdi, Liszt, by Miss Lorna Tite.

Song, "Lullaby," Johnson, by Miss Rose Moran, Miss Muriel Adams, Miss Lottie LeVoie, Miss Muriel Knightball, Miss Marjorie Warner, Miss Agnes Desjardins and Miss Verna Thompson.
Piano solo, "Revel of the Princes," by Miss Dorothy Thompson.

Recitation by Miss Virginia Riel, Piano solo, "Adagio and Rondo," Beethoven, by Miss Agnes Grafton.
Piano duet, "Minuet," Seeböck, by Miss Lorna Tite and Miss Dorothy Thompson.

LIONEL BABRYMORE AS GENTLEMAN AND ROGUE AT EMPRESS

All who saw Lionel Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" remarked on the remarkable manner in which he took the dual role of polished society gentleman and underworld knave. To them it will be welcome news to learn that Mr. Barrymore is to appear tonight and tomorrow night at the Empress Theatre in a somewhat similar role in "The Valley of Night."

The setting of this unique picture is in Paris. Mr. Barrymore takes the role of Phillip Remarque, a judge of the criminal court, who is subject to temporary mental lapses as the result of a kick at the base of the skull by a horse. By night he is impelled by an uncontrollable impulse to perform acts of violence or lawlessness. He becomes a denizen of the underworld and a series of dramatic situations follow until he is finally cured by a specialist. The picture is one of stirring sensation.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

TELLING the time is quite a past time these days.

The old saying: "If you want to know the time ask a policeman," is being put into practice this week with a vengeance.

THREE years ago Berlin was naked and starving. Today she is naked and dancing. Old squawk for help used to be: "We are naked. Send us clothes." New whimper is: "We are naked. Send us ragtime."

THE football coupon craze is on. And many a smile is seen.

Until the prize list come to light. When the smile is turned to spleen.

A RARE instance in the displacement of a woman's heart has come to light at Fort William. There is really nothing rare about it, in fact some women seem to have no heart at all.

EXTRA pair of trousers free with every suit, we read. What with spring cleaning, daylight saving, and two pairs of trousers on at once Pa will be having some time.

WITH an every day train service the citizens of Prince Rupert will not call Ottawa the capital.

"SOME kick to that cheese" said the mouse as the wire trap nipped his tail.

THESE are the days when Ma can't find the safety pins. Willie is using them for fish hooks.

IF there is one thing some men like more than a drink it's half a dozen drinks.
