PAT'S REMEDY.

Irish wit rarely fails its possessor in an emergency. Private Maguire had been misbehaving and was up before his commanding officer charged with drunkenness.

"Eight days in the guard-house" said the latter sternly. But in writing the "8" on Pat's defaulter sheet the pen sputtered. Pat noticed this and leaned forward.

"Thry if I'll make a '3' anny aiser, sorr," he suggested in a persuasive whisper. — Boston Transcript.

ENGLISH FOR FOREIGNERS

The N. P. I. Classes in English for Foreigners gives an excellent opportunity for those with little knowledge of the English language to learn how to correctly read, write and speak it. The Instructors Arthur J. Lancaster who has charge of the Prince Rupert class and H. D. Southam of the Anyox group are men of considerable teaching experience. Mr. Lancaster having handled similar classes for one of the churches for the past three years while Mr. Southam is a qualified public school teacher. These classes are meeting on Mondays and Thursdays. That at Prince Rupert, at the Booth School, and the one at Anyox at the Old School at 7:30.

RUSSIANS GIVE BACK PROPERTY

Allow British Syndicate to Work Mines on 99 Year Lease System

GET GOVERNMENT BONUS.

LONDON, Oct. 9. — Following the return of Leslie Urquhart to London, the Board of the Russo-Asiatic Consolidated Ltd., this week issued the following statement regarding the principal terms of the agreement signed last Saturday by him and by Mr. Krassin on behalf of the Russian government:

The whole of the Russian properties of the Company Kyshin, Tanalyk, Ridder, Ekibastus and the Steppe Properties with all rights previously enjoyed are returned on a 99 year's concession.

Receive Bonus

As these enterprises will afford material help in the economic development of the country, the Russian Government will assist in the reinstatement of working capital and rehabilitation of the enterprises. The amount of such financial assistance is fixed at a maximum of 20,000,000 gold roubles, on account of which £250,000 is payable in cash and the balance in 15-year interest-bearing gold bonds. This latter amount is subject to the findings of a special mixed commission, which will leave shortly for the properties in order to ascertain locally the amount of loss sustained.

In regard to labor, the Company complies with State regulations, provision being made that the Company may freely engage and discharge workmen and employees, and that workmen's committees shall not interfere in any way in the administration or operation of the enterprises.

Royalty and taxation is limited to 8 per cent of the gross sales value of products, the Company guaranteeing a certain minimum production.

Settle Disputes.

An arbitration court, to sit in Moscow or abroad, will settle any dispute under the contract.

The Russian Government undertakes not to introduce any legislation adversely affecting the terms of the agreement.

The agreement is subject to formal ratification by the Council of People's Commissaries in Moscow.

It seems clear that these terms are highly favorable to the company. In particular the provision limiting the taxation to 8 per cent of the gross sales value of the products—which, supposing that the cost of production amounted to half the selling value, would not exceed 16 per cent of the net profits—means that the company will enjoy a position in this respect such as probably no other country in Europe would be willing to give it at the present time.

Protect Contract

A further important safeguard is the clause under which the Soviet Government binds itself not to introduce any legislation adversely affecting the terms of the agreement. In this regard, again, the Russian Government is treating the company more favorably than any other government would be likely to do.

Before the war virtually the whole of the output of the company's properties was sold in Russia, and an official of the company today stated that it was expected that this condition would again prevail when production was resumed. In this case the difficulties of transporting the products of the mines over the broken-down Russian railways will be reduced to a minimum, since the export of materials will probably be limited to the output of gold and silver, which will represent the company's profit. Obviously under present conditions it will only be possible to dispose of the remaining products under a system of barter, but it is stated that the company has the option of paying its workmen in kind, and commodities such as grain and leather will be available for this purpose.

Old Employees Return

It is hoped that the progress towards actual resumption of output will be reasonably speedy. A large proportion of the company's old employees are said to be on the spot, and since its relations with them have always been cordial they are anxious to get back to work. No wilful damage has been done to property or plant, and it is believed that the deterioration due to misuse is not excessive. In making this good the company will have the benefit of the "financial assistance" specified in the agreement, which appears to be in the nature of compensation.

In a statement issued some time ago the following details were given of the expected output following a resumption of work:

18,000 tons of copper;
200,000 tons of zinc.
120,000 tons of lead.
140,000 ounces of gold.
1,700,000 ounces of silver.

At this rate of output, which, it is stated, substantially represents present expectations, the profit value was estimated at £2,100,000 per annum, in addition to income from coal, coke, timber, iron, and other industries.
