Period of Depression Cannot Last Long.

There is a period of depression following the several years of good times and naturally we are feeling it just as they feel it elsewhere. Merchants here complain that business is quiet, just as merchants elsewhere complain similarly. Everywhere you go there is a somewhat similar plaint. It is the squeeze of falling prices and the reaction from the rush and hurry and intense optimism of the period of rising prices. No section of the community is immune from the influence. We are in the same boat. Labor is suffering and so is capital. The country is suffering and so is the city. In some cases there is a note of despair, but generally the view is that the worst is past. Now and then we meet people who say business is improving and they think it will be still better next month.

Prince Rupert has no reason to complain. Some of the merchants are losing money but others are holding their own and in some cases making a living. Our chief source of revenue is continuing as formerly and we are all hopeful for future developments.

Put On Best Clothes And Look Prosperous.

There is nothing to be gained by being down at heel. It is much better to put on a good suit of clothes, shine our shoes and comb our hair. Then we feel better even if it does cost a little to dress well.

As with a person, so with the city. We cannot afford to run to seed. We must keep trim and neat. We are putting in new roads, but we must make our buildings match with the improvements.

About the middle of this month there is a shipload and more of Masons coming to the city to spend a few days while they take part in their grand lodge meetings. Many of the visitors are influential men from other cities. It might be wise for us to put on our best clothes to receive the visitors. Paint up our shops and make them look bright and new. It would be extremely unwise for the visitors to see our somewhat negligible appearance. We are losing our smartness and we cannot afford to do that.

Let us put our best goods in our shop windows, clean up and paint up and make the little town look smart and then we shall attract visitors and they will come to see us again.

When the editor was visiting one of the small cities of the United States recently, he was struck by the untidy appearance of the place and he mentioned it in a short article he wrote. A visitor here might be struck with the same thing. On the other hand with little expense we can let visitors go away with a good impression of the town.

Many Coming During Summer.

During the coming summer there are many people coming here. Not only are the Masons coming but there are also the Rotarians, one or two parties of school teachers and numerous others. In the south everywhere the desire to visit Prince Rupert is expressed. The place has been advertised and they have heard of it favorably. Because of all this it will be wise of us to neglect no opportunity to make our town as good as she is reputed to be.

Another Effort Gone Awry.

The effort to organize a pulp and paper mill here seems to have gone awry. It perhaps has failed. If so then we shall look elsewhere for our future prosperity. We cannot afford to be downhearted. Those people who were worried because the mill was thought to be getting power too cheap will perhaps have changed their opinions ere this. If the mill was only running now we should not feel the pinch as badly as we do. We cannot afford to neglect to encourage any industry. We need all. Every new settler in the district is an asset and every industry, no matter how small, helps to bring us prosperity.

Possibly something will yet be done to reorganize the Seal Cove concern and make it an asset to the city. We shall continue to hope it will operate until shown that it cannot.

Despondency Is Easy To Spread.

We are all guided by our reason and our emotions. It is a debatable point which is the more powerful. Reason is cold, but emotions stir us to action. Also they sometimes lull us to inaction. Just now there is a tendency to be affected by the influence which is making us less hopeful. And yet success is largely a matter of keeping up our spirits. We can influence our condition very largely by our attitude. If we are ready to give up, we do not deserve to win. Our forefathers did not do that in their difficulties. Instead let us keep hopeful and cheerful, welcoming every ray of light and refusing to be downcast even when under a cloud.

Prince Rupert will yet be a good city. Everyone outside of here recognizes the fact and we must realize it and make the realization a part of our being, if we are to succeed.

SAID HE COULD NEVER BE WELL

"Fruit-a-tives" Restored Him to Health

159 AVENUE PIUS IX, MONTREAL
"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine but I did not improve; and finally he told me that I could not be cured."

At this time, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives". After taking two boxes, I was greatly relieved; and this fruit medicine made me completely well. My digestion and general health are now splendid!"

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

June 1, 1912.

It was announced at a meeting of the School Board yesterday, that after the summer vacation this year, a new system would be instituted. The idea is to increase the sanitary precautions of the department in respect to school books.

J. S. Gray returned this morning from an extended business trip to Montreal and other eastern cities.

It is understood that the hotel and restaurant employees of this city have established a new scale of wages to take effect today. The management of the Prince Rupert Cafe were the first to sign the new scale. Both the A. F. of L. and the I. W. W. have agreed to the new wage scale.

The Man in the Moon Says...

THINGS were evidently hot around the fire hall yesterday. We noticed that Dan McDonald was on the water wagon early in the morning, but unfortunately Malcolm McLeod pushed him off.

SCIENTISTS tell us that kissing spreads disease. It sure spreads the disease of "love."

A COW crazed with "moonshine" recently led to the discovery of a still. The milk should have had some kick to it.

WE wonder why a man who marries two women is called a bigamist. Sounds more like a fatalist.

THESE are the days when nobody regrets not having a fur coat.

A CUSS word a day keeps the flapper away.

A GLANCE at the mountain-top helps a little on the blood temperature these days.

A MISS WOOD married a Mr. Logg recently. What a harvest of splintered there will be bye and bye.

A SUCKER is a man equipped by nature with uncanny skill in locating fake stock promoters.

BRITISH COLUMBIA EXPORTING SPELTER

British Columbia has become one of the few spelter exporting countries of the world. Shipments are being made to Europe and to the United States, while Japan also is a heavy consumer of British Columbia spelter.

Joe Hutchinsen, of the Dominion Fisheries office, is visiting Burns Lake this week on departmental business.

COURT SPLENDOR BEING RENEWED

Economy no Longer Keynote of Functions at Buckingham Palace

LONDON, June 1.—Economy is no longer to be the keynote of court functions at Buckingham Palace.

LONDON, June 1.—Economy is no longer to be the keynote of court functions at Buckingham Palace. No more "economy courts," as they were called, are to be held. These were established by their majesties after the war to set fashionable society a much needed example in curbing extravagance. The seal of royal approval has now again been bestowed on court trains. Indeed no woman can be presented at court who does not wear them. Of course, as a man, the Lord Chamberlain cannot presume to be an expert on fashionable feminine dress, but it is one of his many official duties to lay down the rules and regulations to which women must conform at the most exalted of court functions.

That is one of the things for which he is paid $15,000 a year. He has to be a peer besides to qualify for the exalted office which is accounted among the political plums that the prime minister has to give away. The present Lord Chamberlain is in the top class of the peerage. He is the Duke of Athol.

Train Restored

By restoring the court train he has earned the blessings of the fashionable dressmakers. But they would have lengthened their blessings if he had lengthened the trains. Before the war three yards was their regulation length, while Queen Victoria didn't consider four yards too long. By the new regulations they need be only two yards in length and should not extend more than 19 inches from the heel of the wearer when standing.

To walk backwards before royalty in a train three yards long without getting tangled up in it, imposes a severe tax on the agility and skill of not a few socially ambitious women. Queen Mary is a very kind woman and she would naturally wish to spare her sex making exhibitions of themselves. Hence she was in favor of the shorter length for trains.

I. O. D. E. CONVENTION AT VANCOUVER WILL CLOSE ON SATURDAY

VANCOUVER, May 31.—The report of the National Educational Secretary is to be received at this afternoon's session of the National convention of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. This will be followed with a report from the war memorial committee and discussion. Before adjournment there will be a conference on general work and policy of the order. At 4:45 the delegates will be entertained at tea on the invitation of the Provincial Chapter of British Columbia.

At the evening session the British film "Westward Ho" will be shown.

Besides the election of 1922 officers, the place of the next annual convention will be decided upon tomorrow afternoon.

Final adjournment will take place on Saturday at 4 o'clock.

NEWSPRINT BEING PRODUCED IN BIG QUANTITIES CANADA

NEW YORK, June 1.—The News Print Service Bureau, of New York in its April Bulletin gives the production of newsprint by the sixteen Canadian member mills for the first quarter of the current year as 267,824 tons, an increase of 34,941 tons, or 22 per cent, over that for the same period of 1921.

The thirty member mills of the United States during the first three months of 1922 produced 355,934 tons, a decrease of 8,709 tons, or 3 per cent, from that of last year.

During March stocks of newsprint decreased at the mills by 2,723 tons, being 4,616 tons less at United States mills. Canadian exports of newsprint to the United States in March amounted to 63,516 tons; the next largest supplier of newsprint to that market being Sweden, which shipped 10,781 tons.

The newspaper with the circulation is the real advertising medium.

LONDON SUFFERS EXHAUSTING HEAT

Worst Day for 42 Years — Duke Astonishes With Palm Beach Suit

LONDON June 1.—The hottest day in May for 42 years — the thermometer reading 106 in the sun and 88 in the shade — forced Englishmen to don straw hats, abandon vests, leave their coats unbuttoned and even tuck handkerchiefs in their collars and drink soda-water. Usually the torrid heat hits London in August, when everyone forced to remain in the city is accustomed to the gradually increasing heat, and the majority of the people who worry over its appearance go to the country. Sunday was hot, but everyone was spending the weekend along the river, at the sea-side or up in the country, so Monday's sizzler caught them unaware.

"I sold more boaters (straw hats) to my gentlemen clients today than I sold all last season," said a fashionable hatter. "Usually the English gentleman will not wear flannels or boaters in the city."

The Duke of Manchester surprised his friends by appearing at Giro's for luncheon in a Palm Beach suit and white shoes.

PIMPLES ON FACE DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying.

There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion.

Miss Mary E. Flanagan, R. R. No. 3, Stellarton, Ont., writes: "I suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad that I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took three bottles, and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, 'Burdock Blood Bitters chased them!'

B. B. B. has been on the market for the past 45 years, so you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy.
