SPECULATION ABOUT BRITISH POLITICAL SITUATION IN PRESS

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The newspapers continue their speculating regarding the early general elections. The only certain thing, however, is that Lloyd George has not yet arrived at a decision.

The picture shows the elaborate mantelpiece of white marble in the ballroom of the residence of Princess Mary's new London home which she will occupy after her marriage to Lord Lascelles.

PATTULLO AT TERRACE

Addressed Two Meetings in That District Yesterday.

TERRACE, Jan. 10.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands and member of the legislative assembly for Prince Rupert, delivered a very forceful address last night to a crowded house in the Progress Hall. Archie Donaghy acted as chairman and, in introducing the speaker, stated that the meeting was not called for the purpose of holding a political campaign talk but on account of the desire on the part of the members to find out the needs of the district and the views of the people as to what should be done.

On rising, Mr. Pattullo expressed his pleasure at being able to be in Terrace and then briefly gave a review of the financial problems of the province and the difficulty in getting all that was desired in the way of appropriations to do the work he would like to have seen under way.

Old Country Trip.

He spoke of his trip to the old country, the reason for that trip and the benefits that were accruing to the province from increased export lumber trade to Britain. While in England he had taken up the question of immigration, and had enlisted the aid of the British government in the establishment of a settlement area near Stuart Lake.

Mr. Pattullo explained the underlying reasons why the government were building the big office building at Prince Rupert, stating that the people who had purchased property in that city had been definitely promised the court house by the old government years ago and he had insisted that the present government abide by the contracts made by the state to the people.

At the conclusion of his exceptionally fine address the member asked for questions from the audience, and among those put forward was the question of a bridge across the Skeena, the establishment of a liquor vendor here and the North and South trunk roads. The district engineer came in for censure on

Prince Rupert Weather Report For 1921 Shows Slightly More Rain Than Preceding Two Years

The weather report for the year 1921 was announced by H. O. Grawe, Dominion meteorologist, this morning. It shows that during the year there was between 3 and 4 inches more precipitation than in 1920. The total precipitation for 1921 was 86.29 inches as compared with 82.67 for 1920 and 82.13 for 1919. The 1921 record was about the same as that for 1918.

The highest temperature for the year was 76 degrees above in May against 74, the highest figure for 1920 in July of that year. The lowest temperature of the year was 13 degrees above, this mark having been recorded in January, November and December. July, with 2.66 inches of precipitation, was the driest month, and February, with 13.34 inches, the wettest.

The weather summary for 1921 follows:

	High	Low	Rain	Snow	Total
January	48	14	7.34	20.25	9.33

Census Nearly Completed And Estimate Shows That Total Is About 8,500,000

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—The census taking for six provinces is now completed and shows for them a total of 3,545,275 people. The estimate for Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, which provinces are still incomplete, gives them 4,000,000, making a total of 8,500,000 for the whole Dominion. The figures for the 1911 census were 7,206,357.

Quebec's population established as the basis, the limit of representation for the federal house is now 36,000 instead of 32,000 as formerly. New Brunswick loses one member and Nova Scotia loses two, while Manitoba gains two and Alberta four.

GERMANS REACH PARIS TODAY

Sixteen Delegates Arrive for Conference Reparation Question.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The German delegation, which is to discuss the German reparations questions with the Allied Supreme Council, arrived in Paris from Berlin today. The delegation comprises sixteen members headed by Dr. Walter Rathenau.

CANADA GIVEN HER FREEDOM

In Connection With Anglo-French Treaty.

GANNES, Jan. 10.—Notification of the endorsement by the British cabinet of the written pledge binding Great Britain to give immediate aid to France to the full extent of her military and naval resources in case of German aggression, is expected from London today. The pact agreed upon by Briand and Lloyd George was telegraphed to the British cabinet ministers last night.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Complete freedom of action has been reserved for Canada in connection with the new Anglo-French treaty. The feature of the agreement for mutual defence, which in reality is a guarantee for France of protection against further German aggression, is that the British Dominions can remain out or come in according to their desires. The decision as to whether Canada will become a party to the treaty will rest entirely with the Canadian government.
