Fire Limits For The City.

It is easy enough for the city to pass bylaws, but it is another thing to enforce the provisions. We have heard of cities passing bylaws regulating the height of buildings and restricting to six storeys. Then a few weeks after a big concern comes along and offers to erect a fine block if they can be allowed to make it eight storeys.

In Prince Rupert we tax vacant property very high, the idea being to encourage building. Yet there are now more buildings here than we can at present use. We are quite consistent. We have building regulations which have been broken again and again.

Fairly Good Buildings Should Be Required.

At the same time there is a medium course. Fairly good buildings should be required which will not be a menace to the rest of the community and which will be a credit to the city. There seems little doubt that permanent buildings are the cheapest but in the absence of mortgage money to loan it is sometimes difficult to finance very expensive buildings.

Mill Sale Takes Place This Week.

The sale of the property of the Prince Rupert Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd. including the Prince Rupert lumber and planing mill is set for this week and a company has been formed, apparently for the purpose of buying it if the price is not too high.

Here is where the good offices of the board of trade should prove valuable. The board might collect all data in connection with the project and co-operating with the city council lay them before the new owners whoever they may be.

We mention this matter now so that it may not be thought that the Daily News is financially interested in the matter in some way. What we are interested in is in getting an industry going here.

The matter might be taken up through our local member with the provincial government and their co-operation also secured. We know of nothing that would benefit Prince Rupert so much as the establishment of a paper mill here, working in conjunction with the lumber mill.

Community Spirit Very Desirable.

At the banquet the other night, F. G. Dawson suggested the need of more community spirit here. He was right. A community spirit is what makes any place succeed.

STEWART

The Silver Crest property, consisting of 11 claims, situated near the head of the Salmon River glacier, has been bonded to a Seattle syndicate.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Erickson, the year's work on their mining properties having been completed, have left Stewart for Seattle to spend the winter.

Development work on the Prince John property at Stewart which is under bond to C. A. MacKenzie, is now well under way. A crew of some eight men are being employed.

Neil McDonald has arrived at Stewart and reports that he has obtained very promising results on his Troy group of six claims, situated one mile north of the 49 property on the east slope of the Salmon River glacier.

Andrew G. Larson, consulting engineer for the Daly Alaska mines, has arrived in Stewart.

The Big Missouri people are now busily engaged sinking a prospect shaft on the E. Pluribus claim of the group to determine the worth of certain surface showings in that vicinity.

POTATO FAIR

The second annual Provincial Potato Fair will be held some time during the month of November, under the direction of the Department of Agriculture.

On account of the deep interest shown in the first Annual Potato Fair held last year in Chilliwack the Department has decided to give prizes for table stock as well as seed potatoes this year.

It is hoped that the various agricultural organizations and all others interested in the potato industry will co-operate with the Department to the fullest extent and help make this fair a success.
