Provincial Government Sustained on Want of Confidence Vote Over
Export of Timber from Province

VICTORIA, Dec. 5.—By a vote of 23 to 17 the Oliver administration was sustained in the provincial Legislature yesterday when opposition proposals to regulate the export of unmanufactured lumber were defeated.

After several amendments to the original resolution by Kenneth Duncan, independent for Cowichan, had been brought in calling for a tax on exports, for prohibition of exports of unmanufactured lumber, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, introduced an amendment proposing that the Federal Government be asked to extend the scope of the royal commission now considering the embargo on pulpwood export to include the British Columbia timber situation.

This amendment carried by a vote of 23 to 17 after the original proposals had been ousted by a vote of 23 to 13.

TERRACE BRIDGE

Six of Seven Piers Now Completed by Contractors, Manson & Shockley

Six of the seven piers forming the substructure of the bridge being built across the Skeena River by the provincial department of public works has been completed by the contractors, Manson & Shockley, and the construction camp is now being moved from the south to the north side of the river to be more convenient to the work on the seventh pier. If weather is favorable the substructure should be finished by the end of the year—five months ahead of the limit date. With this work done, the ground will be ready for Coughlan & Sons to proceed with the steel superstructure. They will start on this in the spring, it is expected.

TWENTY THREE MILLION FEET
LOGS SCALED

October Keeps up High Record Set by Previous Months in This District

Log scaling in Prince Rupert forestry district for the month of November totalled 22,957,853 feet according to report of P. S. Bonney, district forester. The total compares favorably with that for November 1922 when 13,830,779 feet were scaled and indicates a healthy growth in the industry over the twelve-months. The fact that the total for November is not as high as that for October when 27,521,930 feet were checked is accounted for by reason of curtailments always to be noted as winter approaches. Winter log supply for big industries is generally cut and scaled early in the fall.

Want of Confidence

Later Canon Joshua Hinchcliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, brought in an amendment to the amendment expressing regret that the government did not see its way clear to prohibit the export of unmanufactured lumber after December 31, 1924. This last amendment, it was argued by the Liberal speakers in debate, constituted a vote of want of confidence in the government. It was defeated by 27 to 13 and the government amendment to the amendment finally carried.

Canadian Ports are Favoured by Australia

United States Shipping Board Urges an Investigation With View to Change

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The United States Shipping Board in its report to Congress takes exception to the alleged practice of Australian shippers giving preferential treatment to cargoes shipped by Canadian ports and also objects to the South African conference agreement which prevents shippers there from using American tonnage. The board urges that these cases be investigated with a view to correcting them or enforcing retaliatory measures.

Outcome of Tomorrow's Election Still in Doubt
Conservatives Favorites

LONDON, Dec. 5.—This is the last day of speech making and canvassing preparatory to casting the ballots in the most puzzling general election of recent years. The energy thrown into the campaign by all parties in the last few days becomes possibly more intense as the drive for votes reaches its close and from morning until midnight the output of words on platforms and in house to house solicitations would reach its maximum. About 21,900,000 it is expected will go to the polls.

O. F. White, Liberal candidate for West Derbyshire, died yesterday and there will be no election there until later.

Political experts admit they are baffled by the apparent closeness of the campaign. Politically all prophesies concede the Conservatives more candidates than either Liberals or Labor but doubt is expressed whether the number will prove large enough to give Baldwin's party a majority over the combined opposition.

RAILWAY MAN ACCIDENT TO DIES TODAY
C.N.R. TRAIN

Sir William Mackenzie Former Partner of Sir Donald Mann Passes

TORONTO, Dec. 5.—Sir William Mackenzie, railway builder and former partner of Sir Donald Mann, died this morning.

Sir William was a spectacular figure in Canadian life. His rise from a country school teacher to the domination of a vast transcontinental railway and inter-ocean steamship line, with holdings in numerous traction, light, power, insurance and financial concerns in Canada, the United States and South America made him a romantic figure to the plain people of his time.

Sir William's vision of a second transcontinental railway, mostly through the unopened country of the Great Northwest, conceived in company with his partner, Sir Donald Mann, and carried through with the help of the latter and Sir William's son, J. R. MacKenzie, made him a prominent figure.

Scotch Canadian

Sir William was a typical Scotch-Canadian. He was born at Kirkfield in 1849. Educated at the Kirkfield public school and the Lindsay grammar school. He first started out in life as a school teacher but soon decided to abandon this for a commercial career. After being in the lumber business he went in for railroad construction of various Ontario railroads. In 1884 he went to Western Canada and among other things played a part in putting the Canadian Pacific through the Rockies.

In 1886 the famous partnership of MacKenzie & Mann was formed. In 1887 this concern was engaged on the G.P.R. short line through Maine. Returning to Western Canada the construction of the Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan Railway (now the C.N.R. line from Regina to Prince Albert) the Calgary and Edmonton railway, and the Calgary and MacLeod line occupied the attention of the new firm until 1891.

The Canadian Northern Railway Company came into existence in 1899. In 1902 the C.N.R. line from Port Arthur to Winnipeg was completed. From then on Sir William and his associates were ceaselessly active buying, building, leasing and financing various railway properties in Eastern and Western Canada and the United States until in 1915 the Canadian Northern Transcontinental from Quebec to Vancouver was completed.

On January 1, 1911, he was knighted by King George. Previous to this, in 1908, he and Lady MacKenzie had been presented to the late King Edward at St. James' Palace.
