WAR DEBT NOTE SENT

Speculation as to Contents of British Message to Washington-to Be Published Tomorrow

LONDON, Dec. 1:-Great Britain's second note in reply to the demand of the United States for payment of $95,500,000 in war debts which becomes due on December 15 was dispatched by cable yesterday to Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States. After it had been deciphered at the embassy, it was delivered to Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson at Washington today and is expected to be made public tomorrow.

Meanwhile, the contents of the note are entirely a matter of speculation. In some quarters it is believed the note expresses conditional willingness of Great Britain to pay while others are of the opinion that it asserts the absolute impossibility of payment. RECOVERY France Refuses?

* with close-cropped hair and moustache and jovial smile but will of iron, who has been the strong man behind the scenes in German politics for some years, would become the nominal as well as the actual head of the German government. Political developments of the past few days have narrowed President von Hindenburg's choice down to von Schleicher. The administration of von Schleicher would, it is believed, amount to a virtual military dictatorship with a general tendency towards the restoration of the monarchy in Germany. The "iron chancellor" would, it is expected, choose for his cabinet almost the same personnel as that of von Papen with the exception of one or two conflicting elements.

Von Schleicher has been a soldier all his life. A military cadet, he was a captain of general staff just before the outbreak of the Great War. Achieving fame as a military tactician, he won rapid promotion during the conflict. For the past several years he has been a power in German politics as well as military affairs.
