Fish Shipper Asks for Storage Facilities in Shipping from Alaska

"Prince Rupert is the logical shipping point for all Alaska wild cured herring and salmon but it cannot get this trade without giving the needed facilities. Herring buyers often desire to store some of their herring at shipping points for later distribution to various markets and the Canadian National Railway should erect a small cold storage plant here to take care of them."

Such is the statement of Einar Beyer, prominent Alaska fish operator, who arrived in the city this morning on his motor-boat Einar Beyer from Big Port, Alaska. Mr. Beyer is accompanied by William Oxen-berg and E. Arneson, of New York, both of whom are prominent fish dealers and who have been in southeastern Alaska for the past week looking over the situation as regards the supplying and fishing of wild cured fish this year. The Einar Beyer brought in today her second cargo of wild cured herring to be shipped over the Canadian National Railway through this port this season. It consists of three car loads. The boat arrived in port at 6:30 this morning and clears on her return north this afternoon after discharging at the ocean dock. Mr. Beyer, Mr. Oxen-berg and Mr. Arneson will go south to Seattle on the Prince George tonight. Mr. Beyer to be back within ten days when another shipment of herring will arrive here on the Einar Beyer.

Alone From Uscilug to Milwaukee Via Canada

Eleven-year-old Polish Boy

Makes Long Voyage Alone.

TRAVELLING does not tire or trouble this little fellow. Though he does not speak any English other than two or three words which he picked up en route, he travelled alone from his home at Uscilug on the Russia-Austrian boundary to Milwaukee, burdened only with a small valise and a sheet of tickets and immigration documents. Keith Herz is his name. Orphaned by his mother's death three years ago, he was coming to his father in Milwaukee, who had made arrangements for his transportation.
When Keith arrived at Warsaw he was conducted by an agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Antwerp where he was given a ticket almost as long as himself which would carry him through to his destination.
Crossing to England he sailed on the "Melcom," belonging from the time he left Warsaw, under the care of the Canadian Pacific. The direct mileage from Milwaukee to Uscilug is not by any means the full mileage of his travels. The ship's officers estimate that he ran at least twenty miles a day over the vessel, and the port officials had an anxious time when he made surreptitious peregrinations in search of someone who spoke his own tongue. He was glad of course, to meet his father, but what an adventure it is to travel far and alone!

Cyclonic Storm Sweeps Central Saskatchewan and Part Alberta Killing Lad; Destroying Property

SASKATOON, June 18.—Cyclonic storms swept central Saskatchewan Saturday night. A bunkhouse on a farm at Rose-town was picked up and dashed fifty yards through the air.
Victor Cassidy, aged 15, was killed. Ten miles away another shack was blown a mile, and a half across the prairie. Nile Woods was badly hurt and his wife slightly injured when the hotel and livery barn at Rosetown was unroofed and the garage and grain growers headquarters were wrecked. Arthur Brown was sleeping in the bunkhouse which was destroyed. He escaped injury only to be knocked senseless by a falling rain barrel which struck him while crawling to cover.

The farmhouse of J. C. Colwell near Kindersley was struck by lightning and burned down. Edward Allard's farm near Rosetown was turned completely round while the family slept.
Nobody was hurt but the barns were destroyed and eight horses and several head of cattle were killed.

An auto going down hill on low gear was blown backwards until the top was torn off when the car tumbled forward with practically nothing left but the chassis.

There was much damage to property around the farming district of McGee, Saskatchewan. Elevators were much damaged and barns wrecked. Harris, Saskatchewan, district also suffered damage.

Power Boat Belmont Struck Rock in Grenville Channel and all Aboard in Lifeboats

The big gasoline boat Belmont, owned by the Belmont-Surf Inlet Gold Mining Co., while southbound from Prince Rupert to Surf Inlet, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning struck a rock off Sarrant Island near Princess Royal Island in Grenville Channel about 80 miles south of here and sank as a result. While it is reported that there is no hole in the Belmont and that her hull is intact, much damage has, however, been done to the engine and interior of the boat through her submersion.

The Belmont struck the rock in a fog about high tide and at the ebb the bow was left up on the rock while the stern went down.
On the rise, the water came over the stern and completely submerged the boat except for a small portion of the bow.

Capt. Green and members of the crew as well as F. H. Penn, manager of the mine, and Mrs.
Penn, who were returning to Surf Inlet after a trip to Prince Rupert, took to the life boats.
The Chelohsin passed by yesterday afternoon and was signalled.
Capt. Green boarded the steamer and came in to Prince Rupert to get assistance. At 3 this morning the "Prince Rupert" Boat House launch "23" went south with Capt. Green aboard to take off some of the Belmont's cargo and proceed to Surf Inlet with it and the passengers.

While the Belmont is in a precarious position, it is believed that she can be jacked up and floated off at high tide.
Whether or not she will be brought to Prince Rupert for such repairs as are necessary has not yet been ascertained.

The Belmont was built in Vancouver in 1917. She is 64 feet long, 13 foot beam and 5 feet deep. Her gross tonnage is 44 and she is one of the finest yachts plying in local waters.
